

Objection Halts Reading Of German-Soviet Treaty

By NOLAND NORGAARD
 NURNBERG, Germany, March 25 (AP)—An objection by the Russian prosecutor prevented reading into the court record today excerpts from what he called a secret treaty concluded by Germany and Russia three days before the Nazi attack on Poland.

The lawyer asserted before the international military tribunal that the alleged treaty fixed spheres of influence in eastern Europe and that details were contained in an affidavit submitted by Dr. Friedrich Gaus, former German ambassador to Moscow.

Soviet Prosecutor R. A. Rudenko jumped up to object to the reading of "surprise documents" before they were translated and submitted to the prosecution.

Denies Knowledge
 "I don't know what kind of documents he is talking about," Rudenko said. "I sounds like hearsay to me."

When Chief Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence sustained the objection, Hess' lawyer countered with:

"In that case I must ask permission to call Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov to establish if this agreement was not actually concluded."

One provision of the alleged secret agreement, the attorney said, was that Germany "declared itself uninterested in three Baltic states—Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia—and Finland."

The tribunal ignored that request and the galleries tittered. Earlier, a document introduced by Hess' counsel claimed that the foreign deputy fuhrer had warned the British government, a month after he parachuted into Scotland, that the Nazis planned to establish concentration camps and to starve the British population if an attempt were made to continue the war after an invasion of the British Isles.

Mrs. Freitag Heads Red Cross Division

Mrs. Irene Freitag of Malin has been named chairman of the Malin division, Klamath county chapter of the American Red Cross, in the 1946 campaign for funds.

Mrs. Freitag will set up a booth in the Kalina store and the quota of $500 for the Malin area is hoped to be reached this week.

State Police Hold Two Traffic Checks

State police officers conducted two traffic checks over the weekend and as a result some 30-odd traffic violators were cited to appear in justice court Monday and Tuesday.

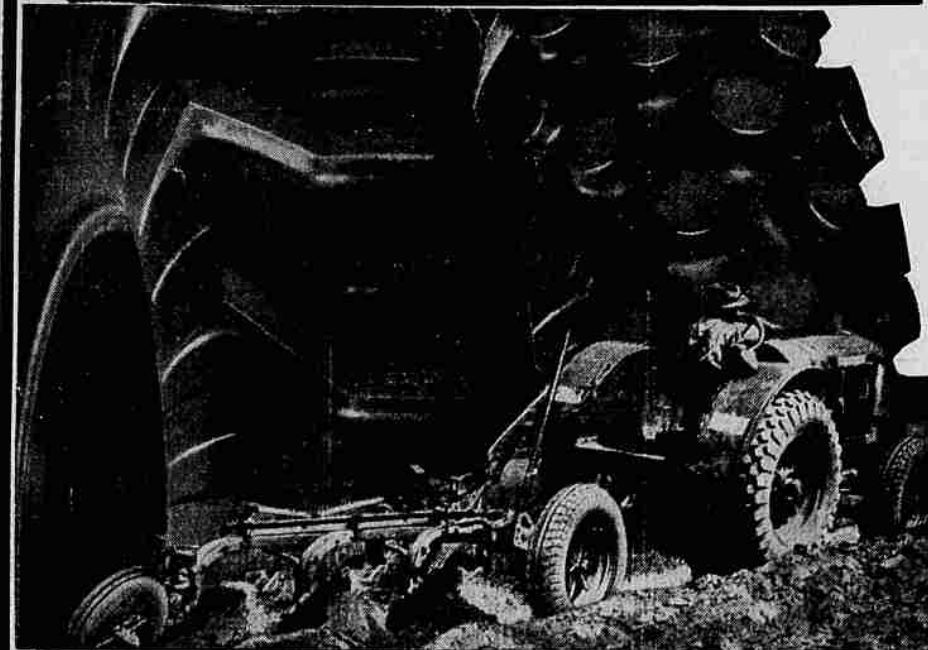

The first check was held at the Lakeview junction Saturday, the second at the Lenox junction on the Ashland highway Sunday.

Primary offenders were motorists operating without a license, and running a close second were the violators without 1946 license plates or having inadequate brakes.

Cornett Named To Trail Post

State Senator Marshall E. Cornett has been advised of his selection as regional vice president of the Old Oregon Trail association, an affiliate of the American Pioneer Trails association.

Walter Meacham, executive secretary of the Old Oregon Trail, said today that Cornett's appointment was made because of the Klamath man's interest in Oregon's colorful and historic background.

The association is composed of representative citizens throughout the state and in neighboring states who are interesting themselves in perpetuating the memory of the pioneers, marking and monumenting historic trails, preserving pioneer landmarks and carrying the story of America's making into homes, schools, churches and museums.

A. L. Greenwalt, president of the Old Oregon Trail, with Meacham, are visiting various towns along the South road, blazed by the Applegate, and Klamath Falls is tentatively dated for their visit April 19.

The first postage stamp of Great Britain was made in 1840, and bore a portrait of young Queen Victoria.
