

Klamath Still Far From Goal In Red Cross Drive

Klamath county's 1946 quota of $43,100, largest peacetime mark set by the American Red Cross for this area, was and is still far from the goal. This morning the amount collected had reached but $8535.51, Chairman Robert A. Thompson reported.

Local folks were urged to dig and dig deep for this worthy cause and it was hoped that workers would be able to complete contacts by the end of the week and reach the quota.

Four additional contributions made members in the $100 club. Donations of $100 each came from Lee Hendricks, Mary L. Moore, Swan Lake Moulding going into that commodity is $1.05, whereas dairymen in that area have been getting 95 cents and the OPA's offer puts the price up to $1.01.

Here, dairymen pointed out, diversion to sweet cream shipments will mean a slight loss to milk producers but that would be partially overcome by not having to conform with strict grade A requirements.

Portland Out Approximately 80 per cent of Portland's bottled milk supply was cut off today and the Portland area operators diverted their fluid this morning into powdered milk plants there and at McMinnville and to cheese manufacturers at Battleground, Wash.

However, whole milk is to be supplied hospitals, babies and invalids in Portland.

At Corvallis producers are meeting tonight to decide on strike action though at present bottling and distribution is normal. Salem's supply was almost completely cut off today and producers met with city officials to draft plans to care for babies and sick persons.

Grants Pass producers are moving more slowly and business is being conducted as usual. A spokesman of Rogue river valley dairymen said that no strike action would be taken for a few days there.

The OPA order affected all western Oregon counties, but eight eastern counties, Morrow, Grant, Harney, Umatilla, Wallowa, Union, Baker and Malheur, were specifically excluded.

War Chest Program Will Be Continued

SALEM, March 26 (AP)—Directors of the Oregon War Chest voted yesterday to continue their activities as a peacetime agency, but the name will be changed to Oregon Chest.

Dr. George W. Peavy, Corvallis, is elected president, succeeding Charles A. Sprague, Salem publisher who has headed the agency for three years.

Other officers are Judge Frank J. Lonergan, Portland, vice president; Rep. Burt K. Snyder, Lakeview, second vice president; Sen. E. R. Fatland, Condon, third vice president; John L. Sell, The Dalles, secretary, and J. J. Gard, Portland, treasurer.

Complaining About Street Conditions?

Then look at this picture of Hotel Hall at 4th and Main, taken immediately after the completion of the building in 1906. It was known at that time as the Withrow-Melchase block. To the rear of the building may be seen the sign, Klamath County Abstract company, which hung there for 40 years. This past week the company has moved one door south and, according to Elbert S. Veatch, head of the concern, it probably breaks a long-lease record for occupancy of one location for a Klamath firm. Insert, Capt. Bob Veatch who has returned from duty with the army air forces to enter business here with his father.

Oldest Abstract Firm In Klamath County Completes Move From 40-Year Occupation

The Klamath County Abstract company, oldest abstract firm in Klamath county and one of the oldest in southern Oregon, now has a new home, according to Elbert S. Veatch, owner and operator of the pioneer firm.

The company has just completed a move from its 40-year occupation to next door at 115 S. 4th. The move wasn't one which took the pioneer firm out of its original district and larger quarters are now in use, Veatch said.

The abstract company was organized by Joe Pierce and Allen Sloan in 1900, and it carried the original name, Klamath County Abstract company. About that time, C. H. "Charlie" Withrow, operating as C. H. Withrow, abstractor, was also in the same business.

Buy Out Plants In 1906, Burt Withrow, Ernest M. Bubb and Don Zumwalt bought out both plants and combined them, incorporating in September of 1906, under the present name.

Bubb sold out his interests to devote his time to the First National Bank of Merrill and Burt Withrow and Zumwalt continued in business until Withrow's death in 1923.

On July 1, 1924, Elbert S. Veatch bought the company from Zumwalt and Mrs. Margaret James Withrow. Veatch had come here some time before, at first was with the Algoma Lumber company and later, for a period of seven years, was identified with the First National bank.

The Klamath County Abstract company went into its location on S. 4th in the Withrow-Melchase building, familiarly known as the Hotel Hall building, when that structure was completed in 1906.

Son as Partner Elbert Veatch now has a partner—for the first time in the many years he has run the business. It is his son, Capt. Robert Veatch of the United States army air corps, who is completing terminal leave with the army and has joined his father in business here. Still with the firm is Jo Upp Babcock, who is starting on her 21st year of employment. Mrs. Babcock joined the company on February 14, 1926.

Rotarians Choose Stewart Governor

CORVALLIS, March 26 (AP)—A hundred Rotarians from Oregon and southern Washington continued their annual district conference today after choosing Ivan Stewart, Salem, as district governor.

Stewart, to be formally elected at the international Rotary convention in Atlantic City next June, will succeed George W. Peavy, Corvallis, on July 1.

Oliver C. McIntyre, Edmonton, Canada, main speaker at yesterday's sessions, outlined the Rotary program for peace and urged members to take an active interest in the United Nations organization.

Grocers Rapped At Spud Meet

TULELAKE, March 26—The increasing need for research into the field of potato by-products and the lack of cooperation from grocers was emphasized here Monday night by Chris P. Bemis, secretary of the potato division of United Fresh Fruits and Vegetables association, Washington, D. C.

Grocers failed to properly list grades of potatoes sold from retail store bins to consumers, Bemis stated, and this practice was prevalent throughout the nation.

Attend Meet Approximately 100 growers attended the meeting held in the Legion hall in Tulelake and unanimously approved establishing a potato starch and glucose plant in this area.

The urgency for research work in potato surplus field was confirmed by statements made to growers at the meeting in Merrill last Friday by officials of the Northwest Chemurgic Co-Op, in the interest of the proposed $200,000 plant. No definite location for the project was decided upon.

Growers will resort to legislative pressure to force the issue of correct marking of potato grades in retail stores, Bemis stated.

Chester Main, president of the Tulelake Growers association appointed Elmer Scott, W. G. Osborne, W. S. Edwards and Richard M. Smith to a committee for working out details of the program to establish a potato starch and glucose plant here.

Investigation Investigation of the water supply, sewage disposal, transportation and power facilities at various suggested sites will be part of the work of the committee, which will also be charged with accomplishing the subscription of stock.

Association members were asked to return questionnaires mailed last week on the proposed permanent transient labor camp. These must be in the office at Tulelake by March 30 and three alternatives are offered. Growers may vote on a permanent camp at Newell or at Tulelake or no camp at all.

A representative group of growers will attend the meeting of the state department of agriculture in Sacramento April 8. Proposed changes on certified seed regulations will be taken up at this meeting by Randall Ipsen. Main will also be present.

Extradition Of US Citizen Delayed

CALGARY, March 26 (CP)—Hearing of an extradition application in connection with an Oregon kidnaping charge laid against Emil Sorge, an American citizen, was further adjourned in supreme court chambers today until April 2.

The charge involves the alleged bringing to Canada by the accused of his two daughters after their mother had been given legal custody in Oregon.
