3 To Appear On Tax Count

PORTLAND, March 27 (AP)—Three officials of the Scott Lumber company, Culp Creek, charged with federal income tax evasion, will appear for arraignment here in about two weeks.

The men — Alfred Merle Scott, 51, Cottage Grove, Sidney T. Sheets, 50, Veneta, and Wilbur Pitcher, 38, Culp Creek —were arrested in Eugene yesterday and released after posting $3500 bond in justice court.

A secret federal grand jury indictment charged the three with reporting less income for 1941 and 1942 than they actually had, and reporting less company net income in 1941 than was actually received.

Scott is president of the Scott Lumber company; Sheets, vice president, and Pitcher, secretary-treasurer.

The U. S. attorney's office said the arraignment date had not been set, but would be in about two weeks.

State Plan Not Hit By Building Ban

SALEM, March 27 (AP)—The government order stopping nonessential construction probably will have little effect on the state's $10,000,000 building program for institutions, state officials said today.

Most of the proposed construction is for state hospitals, which state officials said probably would be considered essential by the government.

people are facing starvation, because it is TRUE.

Last summer, this writer was quartered at an army billet in Berlin. Every morning, every noon, every night, there was a line of people (all with money in their pockets) waiting for a chance AT THE GARBAGE CAN.

When fairly well-dressed people with money in their pockets wait their chance to get into the garbage can, along with stray dogs and alley cats, HUNGER IS REAL.

It isn't just in Germany. There is such hunger over much of the world.

C Of C Backs Power Service

Chamber of commerce directors went on record today urging a congressional appropriation to provide for a standby plant or other steps necessary to assure electric power service for rim facilities at Crater lake when the season opens this year.

The chamber tourist committee reported that an underground cable which carries power to the rim has failed, and about $10,000 will be needed to make other arrangements.

Directors also endorsed the proposal for setting up a commission to take charge of the South Road centennial and the employment of Prof. Horace Robinson, University of Oregon, as director of a centennial pageant.

A vote of confidence in Klamath dairymen was voiced by the directors.

The Klamath chamber voted against entering an agreement with Jackson county to refrain from use of billboards to promote tourist travel. The Jackson suggestion was based on the idea of preventing a "billboard race." Klamath chamber attitude was that under such an agreement, Klamath would be the loser, inasmuch as Medford is on highway No. 99 designated as the inter-regional, and Klamath's effort is to attempt to get travel off that road on to the shorter and faster route through here.

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP)—Except for scattered short covering of light volume, grain futures prices barely stirred most of the time today after easing off fractionally in a slow opening trade.

Uncertainty over what action, if any, the government might take in an effort to restrict feed grain usage, or toward increasing the amounts to be paid producers for surplus stocks, chased some interests to the sidelines to await developments.
