Adopt Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"When dogs and puppies thrive..."
Mrs. Jackie Wells, owner of Well-Known Kennels, 1349 DeCosta, Detroit, writes: "My kennel contains no less than 30 crown St. Bernards (English Type) at all times... I have been feeding Kellogg's G-R-O... to all my dogs for the past four years. Both the grown dogs and the puppies thrive on it."

DOG BREEDERS AND VETERINARIANS
I use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So you feed Kellogg's one-rur because it contains all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for health and vigor.
Kellogg's one-rur is thrifty. And it has its hearty, meaty flavor.
Get this scientifically formulated dog food in 3 sizes: Ribbon, 1 lb. or Pel-ettes at your grocer's pet shop. Made by KELLOGG'S Battle Creek, Mich.

Improvement Plan Adopted

LAKEVIEW, Ore., March 27. A program of beautification of the local business district was set in motion Monday night when a resolution calling for such a campaign was unanimously adopted by the Lake county civic coordinating council.

This council is composed of a representative from each civic, fraternal, church, governmental, veterans and welfare activity in the county. The resolution adopted asked the Lake County chamber of commerce to conduct a survey to determine the plans of private property owners and tenants in the business district.

Also requested was that the city council investigate its condemnation ordinances, with a view to possible enforcement of same later if necessary.

The coordinating council also heard reports from the Lions club on its street and house numbering and fire prevention program. An outline of possibilities for securing a greater volume of construction materials in the near future was given by Ray Harlan, local building material dealer.

Next month's council meeting, to be held April 22, will include a discussion of advisability of conducting a local Community Chest, as well as possibilities for establishment of a local community building, park and playground.

Pioneer Resident of KF Seriously Ill

Gus Melhase, 82, pioneer resident of Klamath Falls residing at 638 Walnut, is seriously ill in Klamath Valley hospital where he was admitted Monday. Melhase suffered a stroke earlier that day.

Melhase spent his early years on a cattle ranch in the Fort Klamath country and at one time owned considerable property in this city. He was one of the owners of the Withrow-Melhase building, 4th and Main, now known as Hotel Hall, at the time of its construction in 1906.

Rotary Clubs Will Support Food Drive

CORVALLIS, March 27 (AP)—Thirty-three Rotary clubs of Oregon and southern Washington pledged support in the food-for-famine drive at their annual district conference.

Delegates recommended Medford as site for next year's conference. Salem, which had submitted an invitation, withdrew its bid in favor of Medford.

The conference, closing yesterday, voted to send retiring district governor, George W. Peavy, to the International Rotary convention.

Medical Teachers To Get Vacation

PORTLAND, March 27 (AP)—Instructors at the University of Oregon medical school will have their first real rest in four years of accelerated wartime work when they leave for a six months' vacation beginning Friday.

Officials said the customary fall term would open October 2 when the faculty is due back. The accelerated year-around school started in July, 1942.

Surgery—Mrs. Marlon C. Beal

815 Fulton, is recovering nicely at Klamath Valley hospital from recent major surgery.

Former Bonanza Resident Passes

Friends in Klamath county were advised this week of the death of Clifford Glenn Burk, 48, who died suddenly of a heart ailment at his home in Portland on March 20. He was the son of Mrs. Birdie Burk and a brother of Milburn Burk, both of Bonanza.

Burk was born in Bonanza and lived there for many years, graduating from Bonanza high school and also attending Oregon State college. He was associated with the Oregon state highway commission as an engineer for 12 years and for the past five years has owned and operated a grocery store in Portland.

In addition to his wife, Stella, Burk is survived by three sons, Delmar of Portland, Delbert of Harrisburg, Ore., and Virgil of Sitka, Alaska, and one daughter, Mrs. Pearl Turner, and a stepdaughter, Elva, both of Portland. Final rites were held at The Little Chapel of the Chimes and interment followed at the Rose City cemetery in Portland.

Boy Scout Leaders—There will be a meeting of the Boy Scout leaders training class tonight, Wednesday, in the girls' gym of Klamath Union high school at 7 p. m.

To Tulolake—Florence McConahey, Girl Scout executive director, Mrs. Roy Carter and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Woodruff are driving to Tulolake today on Girl Scout business.

Slate Dance—Pythian Sisters will sponsor an apron and overall dance and card party in the IOOF hall Saturday evening. Lunch will be served to knights, sisters and their guests.

KF Woman's Song To Be Published

Mrs. Katherine J. Osborne, 2440 Reclamation, has been advised that her song, "Melody Song," has been accepted for publication.

This is the second song which Mrs. Osborne has submitted to be published, the first appearing in 1934. Mrs. Osborne has made her home here for 20 years.

Mineral Club To Be Entertained

Mrs. Lola B. Wilson and Mrs. Edith McLeod will entertain the Klamath Mineral club at the McLeod residence, 413 High, Thursday at 8 p. m.

Members and their wives are invited to be present. After a short business meeting the McLeod mineral collection will be shown. Considerable material has been added in the past year.
