

Ranier Hurler Flings No-hit, No-run Match

The good right arm of Joe Louis Demoran has knocked down the barrier to victory for the Pacific Coast league's last-place Seattle club and opened the door to baseball's exclusive society of no-hit pitchers.

In taming the top-lodging Los Angeles Angels, 3 to 0, yesterday at Los Angeles, Demoran not only handed the Rainiers their first 1946 win but pitched his first no-hit game and the first this year in organized baseball.

San Francisco's Seals were outslugged, 12 to 6, by the Padres at San Diego but remained even with Los Angeles at the head of the pack, with four wins and two defeats. Hollywood's Stars had a big eighth inning in subduing the Solons at Sacramento, 5 to 3, while Portland walked off in a breeze with a 7-1 victory over Oakland in the Oaks' home park.

Demoran's hitless hurling allowed one of the Angels, Catcher Dewey Williams, to get on first base on a walk in the second inning. Another, Bill Schuster, got that far on George McDonald's first-inning error, but the pitcher's mates snuffed both men out on double plays.

The Rainiers' tallies came on Chuck Aleno's homer behind Ted Norb's single in the fourth, and Bill Ramsey's single, scoring Tony York, who had doubled, in the fifth.

San Diego reached the Seals' ace righthander, Larry Jansen and his relief, Elmer Orella, for 14 safeties and a scoring spree. The Seals got to Vern Kennedy for their six runs in the eighth and ninth, scoring three in the last inning on Ferris Fain's homer.

At Sacramento, the home team's Gerald Staley and Ronnie Smith of the Stars began a pitching duel, but Staley was soundly smacked in the eighth for two singles and Butch Moran's home run. Freddie Gay relieved Smith in the ninth.

Dick Barrett, in his ninth Pacific Coast league season after a tour with the Philadelphia Nationals, did the pitching for Portland's victory, his 17th in the circuit. Oakland, with six errors for the evening, didn't make the opposition serious. Marvin Smith, Portland center-fielder, banged out a two-run homer his first time at bat.

Angling Rules

In response to inquiries received from fishermen who want to know what's what on Lost river, we're going to summarize the rules now in effect as set forth by the game commission.

Spiny-ray fish, including black bass, perch, crappie, catfish, sunfish pike and bream, may be taken all year in all counties, except the season is closed on black bass during May and June in Klamath county.

Bag limit is 30 fish or 20 pounds and one fish, but no more than 30 fish of all the types listed above in possession at one time. There is no bag limit on perch.

Exceptions to the rule are Oswego lake, Dunaway pond in Malheur county and May and June closed period for Lost river in Klamath county, stated above.

It's legal to angle for catfish at night.

The general trout season doesn't open until April 20 but various lakes in the county have different opening dates, such as Lake of the Woods, May 11; Davis lake, May 30; Odell, Crescent, Agency and the northern portion of Upper Klamath, May 11; and all other lakes in the county, May 11.

Upper Klamath south of a line from Eagle Ridge to Modoc Point is open now for trout fishing and Klamath river is also open.

These are the regulations which are going to be enforced and we have the word of the justice of the peace that any illegal fishing case brought before him is going to result in a minimum fine of $25 and costs.

Bob Leonard, who formerly held down the chair of sports for this institution, is back in town now, just out of the service, but has decided not to stick around Klamath Falls.

Bob has a deal in the fire for the managing editorship of a Twin Falls, Idaho, newspaper and will probably go over there.

Speed Record Try Slated Saturday
MARCH FIELD, Calif., April 5 (AP)—A new aerial speed record try from Seattle to Los Angeles in two jet propelled P-80s is scheduled Saturday, the army air forces reported.

The planes, leaving Boeing field, will be piloted by Lt. Col. Robert Petit, commanding officer of the 29th fighter squadron, and Capt. Mack Mitchell, operations officer.

A B-29 last December 12 flew from Seattle to Burbank, approximately the same distance, in two hours 53 minutes.

KUHS Thinclads Schedule Dual Meet With Medford

Paul Deller's KUHS track squad, which was 100-strong at first tryouts, has been cut to 60 members and will be pared further to about 32 before the Pelican cindermen go to Medford tomorrow to take part in a dual track and field meet.

Fifteen events and an extra quarter-mile relay are on the docket for the dual meet. Medford beat Grants Pass and Ashland in a three-way field day there last Saturday.

Coach Deller believes he has a well-rounded squad of thinclads this year, good in sprints, jumps, pole vaults and hurdles and fair in distance events.

Bob Dodson and Tommy Edwards are returning from last year's championship relay team, and Bud Brown, Jim Pope, Bob Redkey, Chuck Thurman and

25-1 Shot Wins Grand National

AINTREE, England, April 5 (AP)—Lovely Cottage won the 103rd running of the Grand National today.

Second was Jack Finlay with the favored Prince Regent third. The winner, a 25-1 shot, swept to the front in the final yards after the favored Prince Regent had taken over the lead on the second time around before a crowd estimated at 400,000, probably the greatest ever to see a horse race.

Back of the three leaders, came Dorothy Paget's Housewarming, trailed by Schubert, with Limestone Edward, second choice in the betting, sixth. Prince Regent went off as the 3-1 choice.

Only six of the 34 starters finished the gruelling test of 30 jumps over 4 miles, 856 yards of Aintree's stiff course, which had been used as a depot for U. S. army jeeps during the war.

The victory was worth $35,000 to the winner, largest since Mrs. Marlon Dupont Scott's American jumper, Battleship, won the 1938 Grand National.

Jack Finlay, finishing a fast-closing second, was 100-1 in the betting.

Mex Mogul Has Family In Business

MEXICO CITY, April 5 (AP)—A silk-shirted millionaire, still young enough to play baseball occasionally himself, is the driving force behind the Mexican league.

He is 38-year-old Jorge Pasquel, handsome and mustachioed, who can play every position "except first base which I don't like because it is too easy."

Pasquel, one of seven children of a well-to-do businessman at Vera Cruz where boys learn "el beisbol" before they learn to ride horseback, is president both of the league and the Vera Cruz club with which he occasionally works out.

He is assisted by his four brothers, Bernardo, Gerardo, Alfonso and Mario, the youngest at 23. Mario was graduated from the University of Mexico law school last year. They have three sisters, all fans.

After Jorge and his brothers took over his father's importing and exporting business, and moved to Mexico City, he was too busy to devote much time to baseball, but he followed activities of the Mexican league, then an amateur organization.

His chance came in 1940, when internal strife developed and he took over part of the league as president. He won the war between his "league" and the other by the simple expedient of buying Delta park, Mexico City's only place to play. The rival faction folded.

Alta Cup Ski Run Opens On Wasatch

SALT LAKE CITY, April 5 (AP)—A field of more than 50 snow stavers are on hand to compete in the opener today of the 1946 Alta Cup ski races on Utah's Wasatch mountains.

An international atmosphere will prevail with the entry of eight Canadian skiers and two Chileans.

The affair gets underway today with the giant slalom event followed by the downhill race Saturday and slalom finals Sunday.

Dodgers Deal Longview Out

PORTLAND, Ore., April 5 (AP)—William Cox, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers football team, predicted here last night that "at least six of the eight teams in our All-America league will make money this year."

"Sound business sense is all it takes," he asserted, "regardless of what you hear from the monopolistic National league."

Cox was taking a rap at his National Professional League rival, Jimmy Conzelman of the Cardinals, who was reported to have foreseen a red-ink finish for both pro leagues because of bankrupt, inexperience and salary bidding by the All-America league.

Cox announced he has given up plans for the Dodgers to train at Longview, Wash., because of inadequate hotel facilities. He said he is still looking for a training site.

Gory Roman Holiday Halts By Action Of Spectators

By HALE SCARBROUGH
Like gladiators of Roman holiday legend, Bob Keneston and Tony Ross battered and bloodied each other at the armory last night until Referee Wally Moss, the police and a number of spectators combined to stop the carnage.

It was the second round when Tony bare-knuckled a deep cut over Keneston's right eye and the ring began to turn red. Bob refused to let the fight be stopped then and finally gashed Ross' face over the eye.

Both huskies began to falter and weaken but neither would let Moss stop the affair. They fought in the ring and out, getting groggy all the time. Wally finally managed to raise Keneston's hand for several minutes until the sheet weight of protests from the crowd got it ended.

Keneston had to be dragged out of the ring but Tony was still on his feet and got away under his own power.

The opener went almost the same way. Paavo Katonen bulled Al Szasz all over the squared circle in the first round, knocking him out of the ropes twice and took a fall with a hangman's hold. Paavo also scuffled intermittently with Wally.

Moss was threatening to send Katonen to the showers for rough tactics and in the second frame retaliated with three body punches that didn't make the hard-rock Finn blink. Szasz, meanwhile, was getting in some good kicks and got a fall with a leg strap. Katonen followed Al out of the ring and the battle raged on into the dressing room.

ANNOUNCING A NEW POLICY FOR THE Armory Dances
At the present time a large percentage of our dancers prefer smooth dancing to "jitterbugging"; therefore starting this Saturday no "jitterbug" dancing will be allowed on the main floor. We are, however, reserving a small space on each side of the bandstand for those who care to "jitterbug." We feel sure this new policy will meet with the approval of our patrons.

We also find it necessary (due to the drop in attendance) to raise our prices slightly. Our new admission price will be 62c plus 12c tax, or a total of 74c per person.

This Saturday night's dance will also see our initial broadcast over KFLW from 9:45 to 10:15. This will be a regular feature of our Saturday night dances. Won't you come down and give us a good sendoff on our initial broadcast? If you can't be there, please tune in and tell us how it sounds.
