Iran Undecided On Russ Demands

TEHRAN, April 8 (AP)—The Iranian government apparently had not reached a decision this morning as to its policy toward Soviet demands that the Iranian case be withdrawn from the United Nations security council.

Prince Firouz, minister of propaganda, when asked if Premier Ahmed Qavam supported the Soviet demand, said "action on Mr. Gromyko's request is entirely a security council matter."

A cabinet member said privately, however, he believed "in view of the friendly relations existing between Persia and Russia," that Qavam would agree to dropping the case from the agenda.

"After all our governments are now in agreement on the problems posed before the security council," he said.

Our Home Town

TRANSPORTATION NOTE

By EARL WHITLOCK

If there is one irritant which is hard for me to bear, it is the man who is constantly finding fault with this good city of ours—not in a constructive way, not saying, "such and such a thing is wrong and here's the way we ought to make it right," but just generally knocking the community and comparing it, disparagingly with the place where he used to live. To men of that stamp I dedicate this little jingle, author unknown, which has recently been sent to me by one of my readers.

"If you do not like your home town or the speed at which it grows, if you do not like its scenery, its climate or its shows, if you do not like the people that this city fascinates, there are cars and trains now leaving for some forty-seven states.

"If you cannot boost your home town where men rise and fall each day, if you cannot use the sunshine to make glad somebody's way, if you cannot join the boosters who are thankful for their fates, well — they're selling tickets daily for some forty-seven states."

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock, of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home, will comment on "Toward Success."

FUSION, the more of it the better for their purposes.)

RUSSIA, by way of keeping her hand in, lodged a vigorous complaint the other day as to our arrangements for this election —charging, among other things, that we have been so remiss in our duties as to have made no plans to THROW THE ELECTION OUT if it didn't go "the right way."

(They have elections in Russia, but when the voters go to the polls they have only ONE SET of candidates to vote for—and these candidates have been put up by the crowd in power.)

Obviously it seems silly to Moscow to throw elections wide open, so that JUST ANYBODY who happened to get a majority of the votes cast would be IT.

MAYBE it is. Only time can tell as to that.

This complaint about our way of handling the election the Japs are to hold serves to illustrate the wide gap between our institutions and Russia's institutions.

Not Much Of Value Found In Bonfire

dump, told of new furniture, mattresses, rugs, stoves, crates of food and the like being destroyed but an ex-army civilian policeman stationed at the camp gate who sees the trucks come out on their way to the dump shook his head and denied that anything of any re-sale value has been thrown out.

The government property, he said, is being stored in various warehouses and barracks, none of it is for sale now, neither are any of the buildings. The civilian workers are under orders to get the huge camp cleaned up by May 1, the date when the reclamation bureau is to take command of the camp.

The stories of wholesale destruction of property at the Jap camp centered around Malin where several persons have visited the dumping grounds and claim to have seen valuable government goods destroyed.

Wood Oliver, Malin barber, said that on Sunday, March 31, he saw two truckloads of items, including oil stoves still in crates, furniture, and rolls of carpet still wrapped and tied, dumped and burned, while persons who were interested in purchasing the material looked on.

Centennial Group Will Be Organized

A Centennial association will be formed at an open meeting Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce to which representatives of men's and women's organizations and interested individuals have been invited through press and radio publicity. The new association will be an incorporated body responsible for staging a celebration of the 100th anniversary of the South road, which is also known as the Applegate trail.

The Klamath Historical society is the active force behind the establishment of the Centennial association through having first proposed the idea of a pageant to commemorate the centennial. Support of the program has also been expressed by the Klamath County chamber of commerce and several other community organizations.

It is hoped by the officers of the Historical society that all those interested either in local history or in any phase of pageantry will be present Wednesday to help set up the new association. The meeting will start at 8 p. m.

Stage Service Still Tied Up

PORTLAND, April 8 (AP)—All Oregon motor stage busses continued strike-bound today and there was no indication when negotiations over a demanded wage increase—cause of the tieup—would be resumed.

A. L. Snyder, company manager, could not be reached for comment but his office reported that no moves toward reopening discussions had been taken. Harold Oathes, union business agent, said the situation was unchanged from midnight Thursday when the strike was called.

Some 300 drivers and shop men walked out, halting bus service in Salem, Eugene and Springfield as well as over-the-road service between Portland and a number of coastal and valley points.

WHEAT

CHICAGO, April 8 (AP)—May rye moved well ahead most of the time again today on continued strong short covering demand and stop loss buying.

At one time, the delivery was up with the 5-cent limit allowed in a single day's trading at $2.34¼ a bushel, another new 20-year peak price. All other deliveries of the grain remained at $1.46½ ceilings.

At Winnipeg, the May contract was advanced the allowable 5 cents within a few minutes after the start of trading, for the fourth consecutive day. A short time later, the demand shifted to July and it also boosted the limit.

Profit cashing came into the pit in moderate volume here and some of the advance was lost at times.

The demand for oats which usually accompanies a strong bulge in rye was absent and prices for all deliveries, except May, were weak.

Wheat, corn and barley finished again at ceilings of $1.83½, $1.21½ and $1.26½. Oats were unchanged to ¾c lower than Saturday's close. May 83c ceiling; rye unchanged to 3¼c ahead, May $2.32½-2.33.
