The Easter Sunday egg rolling was a familiar part of White House routine in the years prior to the war.

Portland Sees Profit In Ships

PORTLAND, Ore., April 10 (AP)—The chairman of the port development committee said today that the dispute over laying up merchant ships here may end in a temporary program which would bring the city a $5,000,000 annual payroll.

Sites intended as permanent moorages here were abandoned after objections from the army engineers and various Portland and Vancouver groups.

Antique Music Box Donated To Klamath County Museum

Many memories of early pioneer days in Linkville, now Klamath Falls, are associated with the old music box being donated to the Klamath museum commission by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Egert, 331 S. 4th.

The music box, called a Concert Roller Organ, which was patented in 1887, has been in the Egert family for over half a century. Together with 19 wooden cylindrical records it has been presented to the Klamath museum commission.

Playing a few of the records which include German pieces, old hymns and songs popular with early settlers, recalled to the Egerts, historical events which they participated in when Klamath Falls was still Linkville. They remembered when the railroad came into Klamath Falls in 1909, and the day they were married, 57 years ago April 2, in the old Linkville hotel, by County Judge Moore. They were the first couple the judge married and he said he wanted "it to work." It did. Egert is 87 years old and his wife is 75.

By EDNA KILLMEYER

Two bullets went through his body, striking his spine. He was left completely frozen, unable to move, and unable to let go of the wounded gunner whom he had grasped by the belt. An ambulance took Linzi and three other wounded to regimental sick-bay. Blood plasma was administered to the men while en route to the hospital.
