

Grange Urges Road Program

An appeal from the Fort Klamath Grange urging cooperation in road improvement on the west side of Klamath lake and the lakes district of the county, was heartily accepted by the city council last night. On motion of Councilman Paul O. Landry, Mayor Ed Ostendorf was directed to write the state highway commission, bureau of public roads and the forest service, stating the city's attitude toward the road problems in that part of the county.

A letter signed by M. L. Ferguson, F. G. Brown and Paul Wampler, road committee of the grange, was read to the council. The committee pointed out that "what might be a useful and beautiful highway remains unimproved" and that it is so dusty in summer and snow-covered in winter that farmers have difficulty in making their way over the roads.

Not only was the farmer angle stressed in the appeal but also the tourist angle. The grange also brought attention to the yellow pine areas in that locale and stated that funds derived from these timber sales and allocated for road construction should be used in the areas where the timber is located.

"With these points in mind we urge you to give serious consideration to the construction of an improved highway on the west side of Klamath lake and to Lake o' the Woods at the earliest possible date," the grange letter stated.

Routine business took up the remainder of the council session. The Rev. Victor Phillips of the First Methodist church was given approval to present a chimes program twice daily from the church tower.

The March report from the police department was accepted. Some $2813 in fines and bail forfeitures was reported, 333 arrests made. The Klamath Falls city pound reported $149 revenue for the month.

Philip Gustafson asked help from the city for an entrance to the rear of his lot on Lexington and this was referred to City Engineer E. A. Thomas as were the other street matters brought up. Plum street residents requested paving on Plum between 7th and 9th, this matter to be held up until after the May primaries.

A. A. Myers of 2026 Applegate, presented the city with a bill for $43.38, for damages done property when a city sewer stopped up on April 1. Thomas will also look into this.

On recommendation of the city park board, the council accepted donation of additional Moore park property and also sent a vote of thanks to Alfred Collier for his efforts in obtaining this land.

The city will buy from Earl Whitlock, property in the Veterans Memorial park site valued at $7200, and Whitlock made a donation to the city of $368. City band uniforms are to be donated to KUHS on approval of the council and it was also voted to recommend purchase of $6700 worth of property for the city-county jail commission. The council approved leasing lots 2, 3, 4, 5 of block 88, Original Town, to Madoc Lumber company, for $1 per year for five years.

The California Oregon Power company advised installation of new lights at Mitchell and Shasta way, Washburn way and Shasta, Eberlein and Washburn way, 2nd and Roosevelt; larger lights at Eberlein and East Main, Martin, Division and Mitchell.

The First Methodist church's request to improve parking facilities at 10th and High by additional paving, was referred to Thomas.

Permission was granted Veterans of Foreign Wars to hold parades on Main street V-E Day, May 8, and also on V-J Day, September 2.

Rotarian Roll Takes In 3 Generations

ALTURAS, April 10 — Alturas Rotarians are boasting of a membership that includes three generations.

Dr. E. F. Auble and son, M. J. Auble, have been members for several years. Last week, Jimmie Auble, son of the latter, was elected student body president of the Modoc Union high school, thereby automatically making him the school's representative of the local service club.

3 Business Firms Change Ownership

ALTURAS, April 10 — Three business transactions were made here during the past week when Mrs. Daisy Frailey, owner of the Post Office cafe sold to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schmidt of Oakland; Charles Stile, proprietor of the Niles drug store, sold to Mrs. Daisy Frailey; the Model Cleaners, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil C. Tucker, was sold to Francis C. Olds of Alturas.

Money consideration in sales was not made public.

Growers Will Meet In Gym

The Klamath Potato Growers association meeting in Henley Thursday, will be held in the high school gymnasium at 7:30 p. m., instead of in the grange hall as notices to growers stated.

Potato diseases and their control will be thoroughly discussed by Dr. J. A. Milbrath, associate plant pathologist of Oregon State college, J. R. McCambridge, state specialist in seed certification, and R. E. Reider, entomologist for Shell Chemical company.

A Union Pacific color movie, "Potatoes Unlimited" will be shown, also color slides illustrating diseases in potatoes and potato plants.

New chemicals in use in agriculture, including DDT, DD and 2-4-D, will be discussed and Dr. Milbrath is to give the most recent information on potato virus diseases.

Basin Has Ample Supply Of Water

The Klamath basin has an ample supply of irrigation water for this season, with more than two year's supply already stored in Clear lake and Gerber reservoirs and more to come, it was brought out Monday at the southern Oregon water forecast meeting at Grants Pass.

Upper Klamath lake is forecast to have an inflow of 783,000 acre feet, which will nearly equal the 1943 flow and will be 98 per cent over average.

Soil moisture throughout Oregon was said to be favorable for 1946 crops.

Hyatt reservoir in the mountains west of here, which supplies Talent irrigation district, is expected to reach a peak of 12,000 acre feet storage.

Andrew Loney Named To Post

Andrew Loney Jr., director of music education in the Klamath Falls schools, was elected first vice president of the National School Vocal association at a meeting held at the Statler hotel in Cleveland, O., of the National School Band, Orchestra and Vocal associations, it was learned here today.

The association is divided into regions of which one is comprised of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming. Executive president of the national board of control is Louis G. Wersen, supervisor of music education, Philadelphia, and with whom Loney will work this summer. Loney was one of two men on the west coast named to official positions of the association.

Loney is in Portland this week judging the Portland schools music festival and contest.

Sailor Posts Bail Of $55

Thomas D. Modisett, 21-year-old sailor, posted $55 bail in municipal court Tuesday morning on a charge of reckless driving and no operator's license. While rounding a curve at Main and S. Riverside Monday afternoon, Modisett, driving a 1938 Chevrolet sedan, collided with a 1940 Chevrolet driven by Louise Strowbridge, a school teacher.

Damage to Modisett's car was estimated at $20. Police reports showed that neither car was traveling fast.

Others appearing on the Tuesday morning court docket were Ivor Wallin, 1527 Lookout, who posted $5 bail for running a red light, Gene Bennington, 4353 S. 6th, who posted $10 bail for violation of the basic rule; J. D. Vaughn, naval air station, posted $25 bail for reckless driving.
