Warmer Weather Brings Folks Home

April is bringing many Klamath Falls people home following stays in southern California and other warmer climes. Last week was typically spring with sunshine and blustery winds, with a cherry shower or two and all highlighted by the first blossoms of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ramsby are back from a trip south where they visited friends and relatives including Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gilmasters and family at Westwood, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Ted is now on terminal leave from the United States army with the rank of colonel. He left several weeks ago and the Ramsbys and other residents plan to remain in the south. The Ramsbys also visited with Mr. and Mrs. James Bell at Santa Maria on their vacation. Mrs. Bell is remembered here as Constance Bullock.

Mr. and Mrs. George Myers and sons Jimmy and Georgie, spent spring vacation in California and saw a number of former Klamath residents. They visited May's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robertson (Katherine Lindley), who have just moved into their new home at Atherton, a few miles south of Palo Alto. While south they also enjoyed a visit with the Lon Brainerds and daughter Jean who once lived at Lava Butte national monument. Mr. Brainerd is now head ranger at Sequoia-Kings Canyon national monument. Jean is a freshman at the University of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rogers are home again after a lengthy holiday in California. While south they enjoyed the open air flower show at Niles sponsored by the California Nursery and both declared it one of the most beautiful shows on the Pacific coast. The Rogers stopped at Richardson Springs en route south and enjoyed visiting with their Klamath folks away from home.

Easter greetings will reach Lt. and Mrs. Arthur Gustafson and daughter Sonja at 1101 Bluefield street, Columbia, S. C. Betty and Evelyn are now making their home in the southern city and he is on duty with army air services. They are enjoying it a great deal, friends have learned, and Snowy expects to remain there for at least one year.

Jack Hibbs flew from New York to Shannon, Ireland this week but lost one bag in transit which left him with but three shirts to do the continent! He is expected home around May 27, after stops in Sweden and Norway.

Mrs. George H. Merryman Jr., (Mary Jane Jenkins), will join Mr. Merryman in Santa Ana, Calif., very soon. They will make their home there where Dr. Merryman has completed arrangements to enter practice in a southern city. They have been here the past 10 days visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jenkins and Dr. and Mrs. George H. Merryman.

Lucille O'Neill, who won the "outstanding woman" award given by Soroptimists last Wednesday night, might be interested as were in this bit from the 50-year-ago column of the Pendleton East Oregonian:

"Take off your hat to the good faithful teacher. She is the civilian angel of the republic. She takes the fledgling right out of the home nest, full of pouts and passions—an ungovernable little creature whose mother confident that she sends him to school to get rid of him. This gentlelady, with an iron hand below a velvet glove, will take a whole carload of incipient anarchists, everyone of them sinful and handed more than match for their parents, and at once put them in the way of being useful and upright citizens."

Sojourners

Seven tables of cards were in play after the regular meeting of the Sojourners, Wednesday, April 10, at the Willard hotel, with F. A. Murphy, president, presiding. A short business meeting included the following guests, Mrs. E. S. Casey, Mrs. J. K. Howard, Mrs. E. F. Hobart, and Mrs. R. A. Newell. The new members welcomed into the club were Mrs. C. N. Thornton, Mrs. Ray Eastburn, Mrs. W. M. Doyle, Mrs. B. A. Fetzer, Mrs. Doyle, and Mrs. C. L. Svensgaard.

Mrs. Lloyd Young acted as hostess in the absence of Mrs. Horsham. The pinochle prize was won by Mrs. B. A. Fetzer and the bridge awards went to Mrs. E. F. Hobart and Mrs. C. L. Svensgaard.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 24, at 1:45. A ghost luncheon precedes the meeting at 12:30 in the Willard hotel dining room.

Lioness Club

Members of the Lioness club were entertained with several numbers played by Neal Kujac, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kujac, Monday evening at the library club rooms.

The selections were "Sonatina" by Kulau, "Mocking Eyes" by Bert Anthony, and "Elves in the Moonlight" by Stanford King. Neal is just seven years old and his rendition of the difficult numbers was well received.

Completing the program Lois Cassel gave a talk on "How to Improve the Eyes," speaking on the Bates method of eye conservation, a program the local Lioness club has sponsored for many years.

A going-away gift was presented to Mrs. Paul Skeen, a past-president of the club, who will make her home in Salem.

Hostesses were Mrs. Clifford Voight, Mrs. W. L. Whytal, Mrs. Estin Kiger, Mrs. Roy Rakestraw, and Mrs. Paul Skeen.

Mrs. O'Neill Is Award Recipient

One of our favorite people, Mrs. Victor O'Neill, was justly honored Wednesday evening at the Soroptimist club dinner in the Pelican party room when she was given the award as an outstanding woman, choice of the club in the first annual award made by that organization.

Mrs. O'Neill was chosen by a committee of Soroptimists following a suggestion of the American Federation of Soroptimists honoring outstanding women in their respective communities. To be eligible for such an award a woman must be outstanding in her chosen vocation or profession and should be one who has contributed the most to the economic advancement of women.

The announcement of the club's choice and the presentation of a bouquet of red roses was made by Mrs. Frank Z. Howard, member of the club. Mrs. Howard recited a few of Mrs. O'Neill's activities in the community including her memberships in many organizations. Mrs. O'Neill has been a member of the city library board for many years, is well-known as a speaker, is a member of the English department of Klamath Union high school, served as head of that department for many years.

In her chosen profession, teaching, Mrs. O'Neill is regarded as highly successful. She reorganized the English department at the school, wrote courses of study for all of the English work in high school, and on at least two occasions the state department of education has asked Mrs. O'Neill for her services in curriculum construction.

Mrs. O'Neill originated the idea of giving counseling and guidance to selected high school seniors by teaching classes in elementary and applied psychology. She has helped hundreds of young people to live saner and more productive lives. Both students and parents recognize the value of her counseling.

A thunderous applause greeted Mrs. O'Neill as she received the award and she responded with a few brief words.

The award was made prior to an interesting talk given by Phil Hitchcock, Klamath Falls businessman, who stressed the American's obligation to America, and "Our Debt to Our Christian Heritage."

The committee in charge of the dinner included past presidents of Soroptimist club, Mrs. Rose M. Poole, Mrs. Stephen Sabo, Mrs. Sheldon Brumbaugh and Mrs. Robert Odell. Mrs. Robert A. Thompson, president, was toastmistress of the evening. The music was presented by Jewell Cantrall who sang two delightful numbers, accompanied by Marie Obenchain. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowering peach and quince and white candles lighted the room.

Honor Guest

Mrs. Stewart Patty and Mrs. Bruce Barron were co-hostesses Wednesday evening at Mrs. Patty's home, 346 Pacific Terrace, honoring Ruth Walldin of Tulelake with a pre-nuptial shower.

A desk was arranged like a huge Easter nest in the living room and the Easter motif was carried out in the flower arrangements. The nest held eggs, bunnies and little pastel chickens. The chickens came in a package from Sweden the day before, an Easter gift from Mrs. Patty's aunt.

Gifts for the kitchen were presented to Miss Walldin in a large Easter basket. After games were played in which high scores went to Mrs. Thomas Patty and Mrs. Axel Jacobson, the hostesses served their 21 guests.

Miss Walldin's wedding date has been set for Easter Saturday, April 20, when she will become the bride of Lloyd Nicholasen of San Francisco in the Klamath Lutheran church.

Nicholasen was stationed at Camp Tulelake when Miss Walldin was employed with the area engineers office there. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Walldin of Tulelake. She is a graduate of Tulelake high school and Armstrong business college. Her sister, Mrs. Barron of Mt. Hebron will be matron of honor at the ceremony and Nicholasen's brother will serve as best man. The couple plan to live in San Francisco.

Spring Formal Held Friday Eve

High school girls in gay spring formals against a setting of "Rainbow Enchantment" highlighted the Girls League traditional spring formal held in Pelican court Friday evening.

The "Rainbow Enchantment" theme was carried out in a sky of blue paper with balloon clouds suspended from it. Over the orchestra stand where Evans' band played, a rainbow completed the motif.

Dances were named for tunes in keeping with the theme, "Deep Purple," "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows," and others.

A short floor show at 9:30 presented Alyce Wells who sang, and Diane Micka, dancing, with Marie Wilson accompanying her.

The arrangements for the affair were made by the Dance-a-Lot club, one of the divisions of the Klamath Union high school Girls' League which sponsors the dance each year. Over-all chairman was Darlene Gehrman, assisted by Betty Lou Craig. Dorothy Howry was in charge of the dance programs.

Advising the club this year is Lyravine Fish, faculty member.

Parents were invited to attend as spectators. Presiding at the punch table was Mrs. Lila McMan.
