New Attack Mapped On Black Marts

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—The government mapped a new attack on the snarled food situation today involving butter, bread, meat—and black markets. Wartime controls were ordered slapped back in an effort to spur butter production and Stabilization Director Chester Bowles foresaw a "real improvement within the next 60 days" on this front.

The senate agriculture committee called for more details on factors dislocating meat distribution, while OPA and the agriculture department moved to restore other wartime controls on slaughtering with the aim of spreading available supplies more evenly.

Bread Problem
A potential bread problem had members of the senate small business committee seeking ways of meeting famine relief quotas for overseas without impairing the nation's flour supplies. Baking industry spokesmen told the committee yesterday that if these supplies fall 25 per cent below last year, government bread rationing or black markets in the food are probable.

The move for butter production was bracketed with OPA action to keep consumers bills at their present levels for milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products. A program of larger subsidies for dairy farmers was announced yesterday to compensate for higher feed and labor costs.

Wartime Ban
On butter, the OPA aimed at overcoming a situation which had made it more profitable to use butterfat for ice cream and other products than for butter.

Accordingly, the wartime ban will be restored on the sale of whipping cream and restrictions will be placed on the amount of butterfat in ice cream. The program also includes price ceilings for the first time on cream used in bakery products and ice cream. Leonard E. Hertz of Omaha, chairman of the dairy industry committee, announced in a statement that the new program would lead to a decline in milk production "and continued shortages" of dairy products.

The senate agriculture committee was plainly exercised about the meat situation which Packer James D. Cooney testified was "a national scandal which makes prohibition look like petty crime."

Dairymen Rap Milk Subsidy

PORTLAND, Ore., April 16 (AP)—A dairy industry spokesman today asserted Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles' milk subsidy was a "political move" while state Agriculture Director E. L. Peterson announced the plan "won't work" because it will not put cows on the farms.

Peterson reported the state's dairy cattle census declined in 1945 and is continuing to drop and questioned whether the new subsidies would boost production to meet the rising demand for quality milk.

At the same time, W. W. Henry, spokesman for the big dairy cooperative association which led Oregon dairymen in a recent strike for higher prices, said the order would force dairymen to turn milk into channels where normally the dairymen does not receive his best price.

Meanwhile, women's organizations in Portland continued their demands for quotas and ceiling prices on powdered milk products which they declared funnel fluid milk from the area's bottled trade.

Indian Stabbing Trial Set May 9

The trial of Willard Williams, 29-year-old Beatty Indian charged with second degree murder, has been set for May 9 in the Portland district federal court.

Williams is held for stabbing Ebert Hugo Smith, also an Indian at the climax of a New Year's Eve party at Beatty. The killing occurred about an hour and a half after the beginning of the year 1946.

Smith was stabbed in the throat with a pocket knife and Williams was arrested at the scene by Indian officers, J. C. O'Neill is Williams' attorney.

Registrants Swamp Clerk's Office

The county clerk's office was having a run of last-minute registrants getting their name in the pot for the May 17 primary voting as the registration deadline neared this afternoon.

Poll books will be closed at 5:30 p. m. today. A tabulation of registrants will be made as soon as possible. Two years ago there were more than 20,000 registered voters in Klamath county and unofficial figures gathered two weeks ago indicated that the books were then about 4000 names short of that figure.

Action Held Up On Russia's Proposal To Drop Iran Case

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—The United Nations security council today postponed action on Russia's proposal for dropping the Russian-Iranian case and adjourned until tomorrow with three delegates demanding immediate consideration of Poland's charges against Franco Spain.

Dr. Quo Tai-chi, chairman, announced the council would meet at noon PST tomorrow. He did not state what would be taken up then. But France, Russia and Poland joined in asking immediate consideration of the Spanish case.

Poland has charged Franco Spain with endangering world peace and with harboring nazi scientists doing research on new weapons in this atomic age.

Eight delegates lined up yesterday and today against Russia's proposal that the council immediately strike the Russian-Iranian case from its agenda.

Russia and Poland stand together for the Russian move. The eleventh nation on the council, France, presented this morning a compromise proposal designed to have Secretary General Trygve's report to the general assembly which meets here Sept. 3. This would have the effect of taking the case off the council's docket.

Doubts Legality
Lie this morning handed the council a memorandum expressing doubt that the council could legally keep the case on its agenda. He noted that the council had not declared a dispute existed, that the governments had announced an agreement and that Iran had withdrawn the case.

The council referred the Lie memorandum to its committee of experts for a report within two days. This could bring the matter up again on Thursday.

The council saw a brief recurrence of the bitterness that marked its session late yesterday when the Russian delegate, Andrei A. Gromyko, expressed "doubt" that the United States and Britain wanted a peaceful settlement of the Iranian case.

Not Wise
Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., the American delegate, told the council today that his government still thought it not wise to drop the Iranian case immediately.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, the British delegate, who said yesterday that the Iranian case was before the council again only because Russia had brought it up, did not reply again today to the Russian remarks.

Gromyko closed the discussion by telling the council that he had "called things by their names yesterday and I did not expect the delegate of the United States to agree."

Train Jumper Now In Clinic

Justine Oliver Looyens, 39-year-old resident of Pasadena who stabbed a Southern Pacific brakeman after leaping from a southbound train near Midland Sunday night, has been removed from the county jail to the county medical clinic.

He is still under observation by Dr. Peter H. Rozental, county health officer, and no criminal charges have been filed against him.

It is expected by the sheriff's office that Looyens will be kept under medical surveillance for several days. An effort is being made to contact the man's relatives in California.

Donald Partin, the SP brakeman, was not injured seriously.

Oregon Cars To Carry 2 Plates

SALEM, April 16 (AP)—The state board of control announced today that Oregon motor vehicles will carry two license plates in 1947, and it awarded the contract for the 465,000 sets of plates to the Irwin-Hodson company of Portland on a bid of 20.97 cents a pair.

The plates will have black numerals on a grey background.

Cobra Woman Found To Be Man After Fatal Snake Nip

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 16 (AP)—A snakecharmer who as Elsie the Cobra Woman thrilled thousands of visitors to Long Beach's Pike, was unmasked today as a man.

Dr. J. L. Robinson, assistant county autopsy surgeon, said he made the discovery in a post-mortem into the entertainer's death from rattlesnake bite.

Detective Inspector B. C. Cartensen said Alexander Marks, a shipyard worker, told him he was Elsie's third "husband." They were married 18 years ago in San Francisco. "Her records were lost in a circus train wreck years ago,"

Coggeshall To Leave Klamath

Capt. Lowell T. Coggeshall, USNR, chief medical officer of the Marine Barracks, was released to inactive duty Monday at Seattle.

Capt. Coggeshall was accompanied by Mrs. Coggeshall on the trip to Seattle to receive his release. He is now on terminal leave.

He plans to remain here until about May 1, when the family will return to Michigan. Capt. Coggeshall heads the department of tropical diseases at the University of Michigan.

Capt. Coggeshall was medical head of the Marine Barracks from its inception, and the original mission of the barracks was conceived by him. For the outstanding job done there in the control of tropical diseases among marine veterans of the Pacific fighting, he was awarded the Gorgas medal.

Deserted Boy Kills Father

MURRAY, Ky., April 16 (AP)—A 16-year-old farm boy who said he made a home for two younger sisters and a brother when their parents deserted them over a year ago, today awaited juvenile court hearing on the charge, charged with fatally shooting his father.

Acting Juvenile Judge Weldon Rayburn of Calloway county said the youth, Leonard Manning, told him at his arraignment here yesterday he killed his father, Gervis Manning Sr., 50, with a shotgun last Wednesday when the elder Manning came to the farm home near here with the expressed intention of removing the household goods.

Story of Poverty
Rayburn said the youth, placed in the custody of a neighbor, unfolded a story of poverty and hardship during a period of more than a year as he tried to work the farm, owned by an uncle, with the aid of his brother and sisters, Peggy, 15, Mary, 13, and Gervis Jr., 10.

The judge quoted Manning as saying his parents separated and both went north to look for work. His father, the judge said, threatened to take his scanty crop. The mother, Mrs. Ida Bell Manning of Detroit, has returned since the shooting and told officers she would like to make a home for the children.

Bridges Blocks Merger Measure

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—A protest by Senator Bridges (R-N.M.) blocked the senate military committee's plan to send the army-navy merger bill to a sharply-divided senate today.

Bridges told a reporter after a closed session he objected to the move because he was "not satisfied" with the legislation which would create a single department of common defense.

"It involves," he said, "too great a concentration of power in the hands of one man. I believe we can have unity of the armed forces without too great a concentration of authority."

Bridges said Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) agreed to another session of the committee to hear a detailed analysis of the bill before final action is taken. He added that he had favored open hearings on the measure but proponents had objected.

War Bureau Blamed For Draft Mess

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) asserted today the war department is responsible for what he termed the "confused and chaotic" draft extension bill passed by the house.

The legislation provides for a nine-month extension of the draft law beyond May 15, but prohibits any inductions until Oct. 15. It also halts the drafting of teenage youths.

In a blistering letter to Secretary of War Patterson, the Colorado senator spoke of the war department's "blind and congenital stupidity," and said the department apparently had assumed "that members of congress are dummies and that they can be swayed and influenced by a mass of distorted mathematics."

Johnson said the house measure would not provide replacements for fathers and combat veterans now in service. He urged the department to back his proposal for a six weeks' extension to July 1.

Johnson said the senate now must find a way out of the "muddle" created by the war department's "arrogant demand" for a year's extension of selective service.

Muddleheads
"It never seemed to occur to these muddleheads that a six weeks' extension could have been supported by them with honest calculations, and that all the jugglers in kingdom come could not and did not make a case for year's extension," Johnson declared.

The senate military committee previously had rejected Johnson's proposal for the six weeks' extension.

Johnson told Patterson the department ought to "admit its mistake" and ask congress for only a limited extension of the draft.

"The war department ought to make a mental note now of the thoroughly-demonstrated fact that it cannot fool congress all the time," he declared.

Johnson contended that a six weeks' extension would provide sufficient men by July 1 to replace all drafted fathers, combat veterans who desire to get out of the army and all draftees with 18 months' service.

The bill adopted by the senate committee would halt the future drafting of fathers and would limit the service of present and future inductions to 18 months.

Johnson also assailed what he described as the war department's determination to draft "eighteen-year old boys for police work in foreign lands."

"The welfare of the United States and its military security demands that these boys remain in school," he declared. "Every one understands army officers' passion for the conscription if immature, beardless schoolboys, but that fascists-inspired aspiration must be curbed by the congress in a period when a shooting war does not exist."

Truman Signs Petrillo Curb

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—President Truman signed today legislation making it a federal offense to use coercion against radio broadcasters.

Sponsors said the measure is designed to halt certain practices of the AFL musicians union headed by James C. Petrillo. It carries penalties of up to a year's imprisonment and $1000 fine for compelling or attempting to compel broadcasters to:

1. Hire more employees than they want.
2. Pay money for services not performed.
3. Pay unions for the use of phonograph records.
4. Pay again for broadcasting a transcript of a previous program.

The same penalties could be invoked against persons interfering with broadcast of cultural or educational programs originating in foreign lands.

The legislation developed from an original attempt by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) to override a Petrillo ban against broadcast of a students music festival at Interlochen, Mich.

Petrillo contended the program took jobs from professional musicians.

Dragging Continued For Missing Limbs

OREGON CITY, April 16 (AP)—State police and sheriff's deputies continued dragging operations at a number of points in the Willamette river today, seeking missing parts of the torso recovered from the river Friday.

The torso was identified by Dr. Warren C. Hunter of the University of Oregon medical school as that of a woman about 50 years old.

Bradley said Mrs. Koski had asked elimination of the skull, entitled, "Salome, Where She Danced," on grounds that it was more suited for adults than for school children, and that the student show people had agreed. "Yet when the show came on, 'Salome' danced," Bradley said. "They slipped the skull back in on Mrs. Koski."

Doughfoots Who Aspire To Be Dancing Masters To Be Financed By Uncle Sam

ARTHUR L. EDSON
WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—It may be shocking news to those who drill sergeants, but it is a bill of rights definitely to finance the effort who aspires to be a dancing master.

News came from Arthur L. Edson, who specializes in writing people how to trip the wire in his many various including jitterbug style. Murray does not make any stampede of extra learn jitterbugging at Uncle Sugar's expense? "They know how to do that already," he said while visiting one of his studios here.

Murray told a reporter that his New York and Washington studios have been certified to teach veterans dancing. They can accept pupils under the GI bill and the government foots the bill.

He said about half of his New York pupils want to teach dancing. "Most of the others, he added, came at the prodding of psychiatrists.

"They need social contacts," Murray said. "Dancing gives them confidence and helps them to get readjusted."

No price tag has yet been worked out for this instruction in the art of dance, he said. Uncle Sam will pay costs, plus 10 per cent.

The usual charges, he said, are $4 for a private lesson or $1 to $2 for class instruction. A Veterans Administration (VA) official said if a fellow wants to learn how to be a dancer, that's his business.

This official added that if the veteran never intended to use dancing as a business, but just thought dancing might improve his Saturday night technique, there's nothing VA can do about it.

"But that's true of any veteran," he added. "We can help him get an education, but we can't force him to use it."

The VA man said the barracks are full of men with unusual ambitions. Such as the GI in Greenland who wondered about silversmithing. And the guy in Switzerland who fell in love with a Swiss watch. He wrote in to apply for a course in watchmaking.

Word from Salem today was that the bid of Angelo Doveri for widening the Altamont bridge on South Sixth has been referred to the OPA in Washington to determine if it is too high. Doveri's bid price was $4,385.

Today, the R. A. Heintz Construction company was awarded a contract to grade 6.88 miles of the Spring Creek-Lobert section of The Dalles-California highway re-routing around Sun mountain. Bid was $208,447.

Previously, contracts had been awarded for grading of 2.01 miles of the Spring Creek hill section to Strong and McDonald, Tacoma, at $160,958, and for McNutt brothers, Eugene, for grading 25.01 miles from Mazama junction to Spring Creek hill, at $243,501.60.

Contract on a lighting project on South Sixth, on which Mark Smith of Klamath Falls is low bidder, will probably be let in a few days.

High School Girl's Dance Of Salome Brings Blushes

DETROIT, April 16 (AP)—The case of Lincoln high school's "Salome," whose scantily-veiled dance was the hit of a recent teen-age assembly revue, went before the school board today.

An estimated 150 of the 800 rural high school students struck Monday after a rumor spread that 16-year-old Beverly Cort would be expelled for her forbidden performance in the revue.

Walter Bradley, principal, said there is no thought of expelling the girl and that she probably will not be punished at all. He said he asked the students to return to classes and to send a delegation to discuss the matter with the school board. Beverly, Bradley said, was to
