Her Letter Answered

Joan Dewey MacKay (above), 8-year-old orphan, received the Purple Heart at a ceremony at the Presidio of San Francisco as the answer to a letter she wrote General MacArthur. Her father was wounded on Batavia and died in a Japanese prison camp. In her letter to the general Joan said "... Please try and find his Purple Heart and send it to me. The Japs took his watch, ring and pin, so I have nothing of his. ..." Joan's mother died when she was only five months old. Maj. Gen. Homer M. Groninger (left), commanding the San Francisco port of embarkation, made the presentation. (AP Wirephoto)
