

Goings and Comings Of Klamath People

Klamath Falls said farewell to Capt. and Mrs. Lowell T. Coggeshall and children with a dinner at the Willard last night. The Coggeshall family had a warm spot in local hearts and their departure for Ann Arbor, Michigan, is deeply regretted as evidenced in the farewells said last night.

Coming home, however, and who hopes to be here after 18 months in the South Pacific with the marine corps, in time to attend daughter Rue Ann's graduation on May 23, from Sacred Heart academy. In a letter written to his family on April 8, Col. Dubel said he hoped to be on his way from Honolulu here a month had passed and would probably fly to the west coast. He will be warmly welcomed on his return.

Of interest to folks who enjoyed the stay of Colonel and Mrs. George O. Van Orden during the officer's tour of duty as commanding officer of the Marine Barracks, is word from Mrs. Van Orden and her two children now in Guam with the colonel. They left late in March for the Pacific. Florette and Georgie are the children.

A number of informal affairs have been given for the pleasure of the Coggeshalls this past week, and there was an impromptu gathering for them and for CWO and Mrs. Bob Wilson who are leaving Sunday for Dublin, Georgia after several years here with the Marine Barracks.

Spending the weekend here with her family is Dorothea Ellingson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Ellingson Sr., of Pacific Terrace, who arrived home yesterday from the University of California.

Also home from school following completion of her four years at Stanford is Merion Albrecht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Albrecht of Pacific Terrace. Merion has been at Palm Springs and Los Angeles and Carmel since leaving school and will remain here until mid-June when she will return to Stanford with her parents to attend commencement.

Easter week is a determined rival with the month of June for the favorite season of brides. Most of this Easter's brides chose traditional white satin for their gowns. As industrious a pair of flower girls as we've ever seen were the two little ones who

Patricia Masten Is Easter Bride

An event of Easter Sunday, April 21, was the wedding of Patricia Masten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Masten of Olene, to Benjamin E. Kerns Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kerns of Harbor, Ore.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. David F. Barnett Jr. before the immediate families of the couple in the First Presbyterian church.

Preceding the service, Carl Hagel sang, "Because." The altar was banked with Easter lilies and spring flowers.

The bride chose for her wedding a gray suit with pink accessories and a corsage of gardenias and light pink carnations.

Bridesmaid was Jean Masten, sister of the bride, who wore a dress of aqua wool jersey with black accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

Best man was Claude Kerns, brother of the bridegroom.

After a brief wedding trip on the coast Mr. and Mrs. Kerns will make their home at Harbor.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert O. Roenicke and three children moved this week to the federal housing unit where they have taken an apartment, having recently sold their home on Portland. The children, Ruth, Virginia and Frederick, attend Roosevelt school.

WED ON EASTER SUNDAY, April 21, were Patricia Masten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Masten of Olene, and Benjamin E. Kerns Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kerns of Harbor, Ore.

A RECENT VISITOR was Mrs. William Wagner of New York City, here with Mr. Wagner as guests of her sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hancock and Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Boyd. The Wagners and Hancocks left Thursday by motor for San Francisco for a brief stay before the visitors return to New York. While here they were honored at a number of small affairs. —Guderian.

Many Gather At Easter Bridge Tea

Maids and matrons in best bib and tucker gathered at the Willard hotel this afternoon when the Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church entertained with one of the loveliest of late spring parties. The affair is given annually as a benefit for the church, during the week following Easter.

The tea table was particularly attractive and stressed the spring motif with spring blossoms in shades of blue, pink and white flanked on either side by white candles in white candlesticks. Mrs. Frederick C. Wissenbach and Mrs. Neal Stewart poured. Mrs. Horace E. Getz was in charge of the tea table.

Added to the list of reservations which were announced earlier this week, were tables reserved by the following:

Mrs. Martin Ramsby, Mrs. Howard Perrin, Mrs. John Schubert, Mrs. Richard Hibbs, Mrs. Lloyd Young, Mrs. Bernard Dubel, Mrs. Wyatt Padgett, Mrs. Henri Conradi, Mrs. Ben Gibson, Mrs. John Shaw and Mrs. Victor Newman.

A group of young girls of St. Paul's assisted at the tea table and about the room and Mrs. Carey M. Ramsby was in charge of the apron table. Mrs. R. Henry Anderson was chairman of the affair. Awards will be announced next week.

May Day Dance Planned Wednesday

A formal party for high school students is the first of many parties arranged by the younger set as school draws to a close. The affair arranged for May 1, at 8:30 o'clock, is a May Day dance sponsored by the Elks club for high school boys and girls only.

The party will be given in the Elks ballroom and dancing will end at 11:30 o'clock. There will be refreshments served in the lodge dining room and the party will be formal which means "heels and party dresses" for the girls.

In charge of the committee are Ted Reeves, chairman; Carmen Lee Jones, Andy Moore, Mary Vandenberg and Joan Albee.

Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reeves, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ward, Mr. and Mrs. David R. Vandenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Moore, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones.

Evans' band will play during the evening.

May Day Rites

A wedding of interest to Klamath folks will take place at high noon Wednesday, May Day, in Medford at St. Mark's Episcopal church when Susan Vilas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Vilas, and David Holmes Jr., son of David Holmes and Mrs. Muriel Kinney Holmes, all of Medford, exchange vows before many friends.

Attending from Klamath Falls will be Mr. and Mrs. Victor O'Neill and Virginia Turnbow and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Geary. Miss Vilas has been a guest at both the O'Neill and Geary homes several times and this week, with her groom-to-be, visited in this city. David Holmes is also known here having been stationed at the Klamath naval air station during the war as a lieutenant. Virginia Turnbow is to be one of the bridesmaids in the wedding party. Virginia and Susan were girlhood friends.

Luncheon

The Pelican party room was the scene of a prettily appointed luncheon arranged last week by Jean Hilton and Connie Hunt for Alice Meade whose wedding was an event of Easter Sunday at St. Paul's.

Following luncheon the bride-elect was presented with shower gifts. The tables were attractive with bowls of spring flowers. Guests included Mrs. James H. Hilton, Mrs. J. Calvin Hunt, Mrs. Donald Finch, Jeannine Selby, Jody Bennet, Lola Whisenant, Dorothy Collier, Mary Ann Mills, Ruth Landry, Norma Smith, Marilyn McClellan, Joyce Sample, Alice Meade and the two hostesses.

For the pleasure of the bride-elect, Ruth Landry entertained with a dessert party following the wedding rehearsal last Friday night at the church. The affair was given at the home of Miss Landry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Landry, 331 Pacific Terrace.

The Klamath Falls Garden club will meet with the Link River Garden club Monday, May 6, in the library club room.

Mrs. Margaret Powell Lamb, Portland, state publicity chairman for the Oregon state federation of garden clubs, will give the flower arrangements.

A noon potluck luncheon will be featured.

VIRGINIA LEE BENOIST was a beautiful Easter Sunday bride. She became Mrs. Aubrey Russell Avery at St. Paul's Episcopal church in an 8 o'clock evening ceremony. —Kennell-Ellis.

Easter Rites At St. Paul's Church

In one of the spring's prettiest weddings, Virginia Lee Benoist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Benoist of this city, became the bride of Aubrey Russell Avery, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Avery of Oceanside, California, at 8 o'clock Easter Sunday at St. Paul's Episcopal church. The Rev. Frederick C. Wissenbach read the ceremony in the presence of many friends of the young couple.

The church was lighted by many white candles and the altar was decked with Easter lilies and candles lighted the aisle. Calla lilies, white stock and palms were also used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely white satin gown with long sleeves, a drop yoke of marquisette trimmed with lover's knots of satin. The long full skirt ended in a train and the illusion net veil of fingertip length was edged in deep lace. A string of pearls was borrowed from the bride's sister, Patricia, and for something "old" the bride carried a lace edged handkerchief which had been carried by both her mother and her maternal grandmother at their weddings. The "blue" was a small blue garter and the "new" was the veil. She carried a sheaf of red roses caught with white satin ribbon.

The maid of honor was Patricia Benoist and the bridesmaids were Carmen Lee Jones, cousin of the bride, and Patty Avery, sister of the groom. Little flower girls were two five-year-olds, Lucy Ellen Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones of this city, and Sharon Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Jones of Mt. Hebron, California.

All attendants wore identical frocks of blue net with cap sleeves and trimmed with white lace daisies. They wore white satin ribbon bands in their hair and carried white carnations. The flower girls carried baskets of rose petals.

The ring bearer was Gregg Jones, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Jones. Paul Jones was the acolyte and lighted the candles before the bridal party entered the church. He is also a cousin of the bride. Best man was Ken Francis of Clear Lake, California, and ushers were Ted and Fred Reeves.

Mrs. Samuel A. Mushen played incidental music and also the traditional wedding marches. Betty Glidden sang "At Dawning."

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the parish house. The bride and groom cut their cake which centered a wreath of Cecil Bruner rosebuds. Mrs. Walter Jones and Mrs. Fred Jones served the punch and Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. Vernon Kuykendall presided at the coffee service. Mrs. Elwood Hedberg of Medford, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. Dream cake was passed by Mrs. Frederick C. Wissenbach.

Mrs. Benoist, mother of the bride, wore an afternoon dress of chartreuse with black hat and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Avery wore white wool with gardenias and rosebud corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery left Sunday evening for a honeymoon which will take them to Lake Arrowhead after which they will be at home at Davis, California, where the groom will continue his studies at California Agricultural college. He flew home recently from the Hawaiian islands where he has been stationed as a fighter pilot with the U. S. army air corps. He was discharged after four years in the service as a first lieutenant, on April 7. For traveling the bride wore a sky blue suit of
