Byrnes Wants Heavy Heel On Germans For 25 Years

PARIS, April 30 (AP)—The foreign ministers conference decided to devote its entire session today to a discussion of Trieste and the Italian-Yugoslav frontier questions after receiving from U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes a proposal for a four-power mutual assistance compact to keep the peace in Germany for at least a quarter of a century. Byrnes' proposals would pledge American military might to keep the peace in Germany for at least 25 years as part of a long-term United States foreign policy. The secretary of state also disclosed he had drafted a similar pact to keep United States and other allied forces on the alert against a revival of militarism in Japan, but declined to reveal details of this proposal.

France And Britain Approve
France and Britain have accepted the proposal in principle, Byrnes said, and Russia has expressed willingness to discuss it, although without setting a definite time.

The proposed pact apparently was put forward with the sanction of Sen. Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), ranking minority party member of the committee, who are acting as Byrnes' assistants at the conference. It was an answer to fears, which Byrnes said had been expressed by Stalin and other leaders, that the United States might withdraw from European affairs as it did after the first World war.

Complete Disarmament
Byrnes' suggestion would insure that German armed forces are "completely disarmed, demobilized and disbanded"; that such organizations as storm troopers and the gestapo are wiped out, and that no military equipment or explosives are manufactured. Atomic energy research would be outlawed through a prohibition of the production of "all fissionable materials for any purpose."

Six Local Men Enlist In Navy
Six more young men have enlisted in the U. S. navy through the local recruiting office it was announced today. They are Mark Albert Hattan, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mark Hattan, 729 Main; Richard Thomas Higgins, 17, son of Mrs. Alice Marie Higgins, 2136 Wentland; Rudolph Columbus Schmidt, 18, son of Mrs. Irene Schmidt, 2333 White; Glenn Bert Turner, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bert Turner, Lakeview; Paul Lawrence Gaylord, 17, Lakeview, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gaylord, Portland; Gordon Givan, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Truman Givan, Bonanza.

All of these men have enlisted for a two-year period and are in San Diego taking the boot training. Hattan attended KUHS and is a term at University of Oregon. Givan has served with the merchant marine for one year as quartermaster striker.

High Court To Rule On Evictions

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) The supreme court agreed today to tell federal courts how far they should go in preventing evictions of tenants from homes while appeals are pending.

The department of justice asked the court to define extent of the courts' authority in cases involving OPA regulations. It warned that "any break in the system of control would result in grave hardship for tenants illegally evicted, and an extreme pressure on the rent ceilings."

The government brought two cases to the high court. In one it contended Robert C. Bever had been improperly evicted from his apartment after the landlord began proceedings before a Covington, Ky., justice of the peace to regain possession. The circuit court later ruled it could do nothing because the tenant had left the property.

Injunction Denied
In the other case, OPA had sought to restrain eviction of a tenant from a Columbus, Ohio, house owned by the estate of Emma Gang. OPA asked the circuit court for an injunction pending final determination on an appeal. The application was denied.

If landlords, the department said, "can deprive tenants of all protection by evicting them before remedial action can be taken in the federal courts, they will be greatly encouraged to attempt unlawful evictions."

Coast Guard Office To Close For May

The coast guard recruiting office, open Friday and Saturday in the chamber of commerce during the spring, will be closed during May, according to Chief Roger Herendeen. Men who have already applied for enlistment may contact the recruiter at room 316, Pioneer post office, Portland. The coast guard institute, available to men in this branch of service, free of charge, offers an opportunity to complete schooling in high school or college courses, receiving credits and diplomas, so that they may continue their education.

Wire Shortage Feared In Rogue

MEDFORD, April 30 (AP)—A baling wire shortage may delay movement of the hay crop in the Rogue River valley, farmers reported today. A spokesman said the hay would be stacked unless an appeal for help by Washington, D. C., agriculture officials resulted in wire deliveries before haying starts in mid-May.

Homemakers Festival Slated For Tomorrow

Topping the list of events for Klamath county homemakers is the May Day homemakers festival to be held in the First Methodist church parlors, Wednesday. Easy methods for making comfortable homes will be exhibited by county home extension units, starting at 10 a. m. At 11:45 a. m. Bob McCarl and his roving mike will go among the crowd picking up comments from the guests. Luncheon will be served at noon by Methodist women to the first 200 registering for tickets.

Mrs. Buena Maris, dean of women, Oregon State college, is the principal speaker for the afternoon and will talk at 2 o'clock, using a blackboard to illustrate her topic, "What's Under Your Feet." Among out-of-town guests expected to attend are Mrs. Azalea Sager, state home demonstration leader, Corvallis; Frank L. Ballard, associate director of extension work, Corvallis; Marian Farrell, Jackson county home demonstration agent, Medford; Mrs. Ann Montgomery, state president of home extension council, Coquille; Mrs. K. Ethel Lathrop, state chairman of the associated country women of the world, Central Point and several county home extension committees.

Forest Fire Fighters Organize

Again the annual program to prevent forest fires is getting underway with the first crew to start clearing roads in accessible areas May 1, Hal Ogle, superintendent of Klamath Forest Protective association, stated today.

Some areas are still closed on account of snow, Ogle said, with none of the lookout stations accessible to date.

Fewer high school boys will be used this year. Applications coming in from servicemen for fire fighting work will be given preference. Another point to consider is that boys must return to school in September, one of the greatest fire hazard months. Last year 25 per cent of the fires started after school opened, Ogle pointed out, commending the boys however for their summer work.

The first road crew will work out west of Klamath Falls clearing the roads and two men will start soon in the Bly area removing logs and brush from the roads.

CHILD HEALTH DAY
SALEM, April 30 (AP)—Governor Earl Snell today designated May 1 as Child Health Day, urging organizations to observe the day "as a fitting tribute to Oregon's efforts in improving the qualities necessary to a useful and successful life."

Skies Clear After Storm

SALEM, April 30 (AP)—The skies cleared today in the mountain passes after a four-day snowstorm, giving highway crews a chance to clear the roads.

The roads were expected to be cleared today. Santiam junction reported a 30-degree temperature and three inches of new snow fell last night. There was light
