Returns—Mrs. John Yardon, 101 Old Fort road, returned Monday night from Portland where she has been visiting her son Melvin, who returned to the States last fall from service in the Pacific. Melvin has resumed his position with Westinghouse Electric company and is now promotional and supervising engineer for the commercial department. His territory includes all of Oregon and southern Washington. He is permanently located in Portland, having bought a house there. Mrs. Yardon saw her son leave by plane Monday for Seattle where he will attend a conference of northwest electrical engineers.

Vacation—T/Sgt. Harry C. Simmons, home now at route 3 box 548, a former prisoner of war in Japan, has accepted the vacation at Miami Beach, Fla., offered him by the AAF personnel distribution command, and will arrive there May 13. These two-week vacation offers to released prisoners of war include transportation by air, rail or private car for the veteran and two of his immediate family with all expenses, including hotel and meals, at the beach resort.

Leave Hospital—Darrell Jon St. Louis, 15, Keno, KUHS student, and John Richard Snyder, 17, route 3, box 545, city, were dismissed Monday from Klamath Valley hospital where they have received treatment for injuries received in an automobile accident on the Keno road on April 25.

Returns—Franklin L. Weaver returned Monday night from Los Angeles, where he was called by the illness of his sister, Florence Weaver, well known here. Miss Weaver, a teacher in the Los Angeles schools, underwent major surgery on her eyes and is at Good Samaritan hospital. She is reported doing nicely.

Called to Valley—Mrs. John White, owner of Hastings beauty shop, was called to Medford this weekend by the serious illness of her father, Rankin Estes. He has been in poor health for some time. Mrs. White called friends here today and said her father's condition was unchanged.

Navy Enlistees—Evan Everett Everly of Lakeview, son of Mrs. Lois Everly, Chico, Calif., and Donald David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Bly, have joined the U. S. navy and are now in boot camp, San Diego. Both are 17 years old.

Data Viewed—Data compiled by the technical staff on the veterans hospital sites was carefully gone over yesterday at a meeting of the veterans affairs committee of the chamber of commerce and the city planning commission.

Vacation Over—Della Stark, Valley hotel, who took a plane trip to Iowa to visit her family on her vacation, returned this weekend. She will return to her position with Weyerhaeuser Timber company May 1.

New Employee—Marie Hixson, 323 Division, formerly employed at the WRA camp, Tulelake, has taken a position with the U. S. bureau of reclamation in Klamath Falls, starting today.

Back From Trip—Mrs. Gomer Jones and daughter Elizabeth Ann, 429 Jefferson, have returned from a trip to New Orleans. They were gone nearly a month and got back Saturday morning.

To Coos Bay—Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Wood, 1963 Auburn, pioneer residents of Klamath Falls, left Tuesday morning for Coos Bay where they will visit their daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Schultz and children. Schultz, formerly manager at Algoma Lumber company, is now assistant superintendent of the Coos Bay Lumber company.

From Malin—Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Kelsey, who are now residing at Malin, are in Klamath Falls for a short time on business. Mrs. Walter Bower, daughter of Mrs. Kelsey, is spending a few days in San Francisco where her husband, a second engineer with the army transport, is stationed.

Visits Parents—Russell Crandall of Yreka, Calif., spent the past weekend here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willmott Crandall of 215 Eldorado. Mrs. Crandall is still confined to her home with a back injury received March 4 while attending a meeting at a local hotel.

Ill at Hospital—Syd Johnson, who resides in the Enterprise tracts, is receiving medical attention at Klamath Valley hospital where he has been seriously ill. Johnson was just recovering from an ankle fracture when he became ill and had to return to the hospital.

Lt. Cmdr. Gould Escapes In Crash

Friends of Lt. Cmdr. Richard K. Gould, who was stationed at the Klamath naval air station last year will be interested to learn of his narrow escape from injury in a mid-air crash of two navy fighter planes off Hawaii 10 days ago, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould of Bremerton, Wash.

Gould, commanding officer of a fighter squadron, was taking part in combat training when another plane sheared off the tail section of his plane. He went into an inverted spin, but managed to bail out and parachute into the sea, seven miles out, where he inflated a small life raft. A navy tug rescued him unhurt except for a few slight injuries.

His wife and two small daughters are now living in San Diego where they purchased a home after leaving Klamath Falls.

Requiem High Mass For War Casualty

Solemn requiem high mass was said this morning at 8 o'clock at Sacred Heart church for S. J. Joseph F. Sexton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sexton, 235 Riverside, who was lost early in the war on the Jarvis in the South Pacific.

Again on Thursday at 8 a. m. there will be celebration in memory of Harold Derrah, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Derrah, 1343 Crescent, lost on a submarine late in the war. Celebrants included the Rev. Fathers T. P. Casey, John Phelan and Raymond Beard.

The five-act play by Oliver Goldsmith, "She Stoops To Conquer," has been chosen as this year's Klamath Union high school student body presentation, to be given for the general public, Thursday at 8:15 p. m. In the silks and laces of the mid-18th century are four members of the cast, front, left to right, Shirley Dalton, Miss Neville; and Marilyn O'Neill, Miss Hardcastle. Back, left to right, are Gary Cruikshank, Mr. Hastings; and Dave Williams, Mr. Marlow. —Evergreen.

Vet Hospital Site Board Here May 5

L. A. Warren, site inspector for the veterans administration and inspection board, will be here May 5, according to a letter received today at the chamber of commerce.

Warren will look over proposed sites for the veterans administration hospital to be built in Klamath Falls and check the information secured by the chamber veterans affairs committee and the city planning commission.

In Hospital—Mrs. Walter Kennett, 335 Haskins, is a patient at Hillside hospital where she is receiving medical treatment.

News Notes and Comment

By JOAN O'NEILL

Yesterday was another big day for the seniors. Yesterday morning most of the seniors arrived at school dressed in the traditional senior Hick Day style. Costumes ranged through almost all forms of attire. The kids wore their costumes all day. At the close of school an assembly was held for the student body in which the seniors were shown off.

Joan O'Neill

Prizes were awarded by Bill Sari, senior class president, who acted as master of ceremonies for the gathering. After the seniors had paraded through the aisles, the judges submitted their opinions as to whom prizes should go. John Heilbronner, Carol Reeves, Jim Howard and Erlene Wheeler received single prizes. Five girls, June Bosworth, Ruth Merrill, Barbara Roskamp, Charlotte Carter and Joan O'Neill, posing as "Five Salted Peanuts," received the prize for the funniest. The award for the funniest boy went to George Zupan; funniest girl, Gladys De Witt; cleverest boy, Bill Sari; cleverest girl, Shirley Robinson. Mary Havens received the award as the best sustained character for her imitation of an old woman.

Play Today

The student body play, "She Stoops To Conquer," was played today. The remaining list of characters as mentioned yesterday are Alyce Wells, Madlin Ellis, Melvin Stoecklin, Dick Griffiths, Harold Gillette, Ruth Soder, Dolores Helfrich, Lee Goode, Jack Kennett, Rex Mills, Jim Crossley, Peggy MacAntee, Elaine Ericks, Evelyn Rowland, Joan Schroeder.

Other members of this large cast include the following who appear in the inn scene: Grayden Gwin, Jean Rae Oldenburg, Jerry Schubert, Rod Allis, Clifford Cain, Connie Kohler, Darlene Price, Bill Sari, Evelyn Long, Nancy Ballentine, Goldina Thompson, Jack Kennett, Owen
