

Today's Roundup

THIS is a good week for Klamath people to be history-minded. It is an important week in a year that has great historical significance as the 100th anniversary of outstanding events in the history of our region, of the west, and of the nation.

EPLEY

As is related elsewhere in today's paper, it was 100 years ago today that John C. Fremont and his party crossed Link river at the outlet of Upper Klamath lake. The events of this and succeeding days of this week in 1846 are vastly interesting, and will be told as the week advances.

Must Be Signed

ANONYMOUS letters to the editor on political matters are unacceptable. We do not like anonymous letters under any conditions, but those covering political matters are definitely out of order because of legal restrictions on the circulation of such material.

The state corrupt practices act provides that it is unlawful to circulate through the mails or otherwise any letter, circular, bill, etc., relating to any election or candidate, unless the same shall carry the name and address of the author.

Our opinion is that this covers letters to the editor. We therefore insist on names and addresses with such letters that are submitted to us for publication in the letters column.

This is mentioned at this time because, as usual, at this stage before an election we are getting unsigned material. It can't be used.

Impossible ONE such anonymous letter came in this morning's mail. The writer of this missive suggested a write-in campaign for circuit judge for a man who is not a member of the bar.

Here again, the law enters the picture. Section 93-702 of Oregon law provides that all persons elected to the supreme court or the circuit bench must, at the time of taking office, be admitted to practice in the supreme court.

That eliminates any possibility of a successful write-in campaign for a non-member of the bar.

Arctic Trek On Last Lap

EDMONTON, Alta., May 6 (P) The caravan of 10 snowmobiles which started from Churchill, Manitoba, Feb. 15, on a 3100-mile trek across the frozen Arctic wastes, is scheduled to arrive at Edmonton today, marking "mission completed" to Canada's operation muskox.

The trekkers, under command of Lt.-Col. P. D. Baird of Montreal, will finish the last 107 miles from Grand Prairie, Alta., by train, with their machines. The vehicles suffered from dust and gravel on the Alaska highway and the train trip is to save them from permanent damage.

A preliminary reception will be given the men on their arrival here and a banquet is scheduled for May 10.

Army officials announced last night the snowmobiles had carried out more than 4000 miles of cross-country operation when the expedition reached Grand Prairie Saturday afternoon. The report said the machines, newly developed for snow travel through trackless country, had "functioned well."

Clear water is best for washing windows if they are not too dirty. The secret of sparkling clear windows is no soap. Soap merely streaks the glass and is hard to rub off. Spray water on, or wipe it on with a chamois, then dry windows with a lintless cloth.

Italy—France, on one side, Italy on the other and the three together.

Inner portents suggest the communists will not get away with it. Chairmanship of the UNO commission went to Australia. Spain sits with both paws on Gibraltar, and Gibraltar paws protectively the British lifeline, the main sea traffic route from Britain to Australia.

Spain today is impotent. Britain or Australia will hardly wish to renew their exposed condition on the rock during the war, by permitting a new communist-pressured government in Spain the same easy access, which Franco did not use, and the nazis never were able to employ.

Fundamentals

OTHERS on the UNO commission are China, Brazil, France and Poland. I would judge the vote then would be about 3 to 2 against a revolution in Spain or acquisition of communist or Russian power there.

In action, however, these UNO commissions have been required, for the face of things, to move only by unanimity. A divided vote will be avoided if possible. The investigation will necessarily, then, require much time.

Make It Non-Political

SOME authorities here have thought Franco would not allow the commission to come into Spain, because Russia's Poland is represented on it. His dangers from thwarting the investigation, however, might be greater than from welcoming it.

Personally I suggest Spain let in an American army man, who is beyond politics, to make the inquiry.

A military man who does not care what the Spanish government is in this transitional moment of the greater world, but who does actually want to know whether any atomic threat to peace exists there, might, by undertaking an investigation, solve the difficulty.

Arthur Fiedler, who conducts the Boston "Pops" orchestra in its Saturday afternoon broadcasts over KFLW and American Broadcasting company, has compared selections of programs for the orchestra to mixing a salad.

The result may be a program that includes Chopin's "Military Polonaise," and Offenbach's overture, along with Leroy Anderson's "Jazz Legato" and "Jazz Pizzicato," the "Skater's Waltz" and a medley of tunes from "Oklahoma." The personnel of the "Pops" orchestra is recruited mainly from the Boston Symphony, and their repertory in a spring season consists of several hundred works.

Posse Practices For Rose Festival

In preparation for its appearance in the Portland Rose Festival on June 7 and 8, the sheriff's posse turned out 25 strong for an intensive drill at the fairgrounds yesterday afternoon.

Captain E. P. (Pat) Ivory has announced that commencing next week drills will be held each Sunday and Wednesday until departure for the festival.

ABOUT FREMONT MARKER

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (To the Editor)—In your article of April 27, about the finding of the John C. Fremont marker, I believe you were incorrect in stating that this stone had been moved when the Fremont bridge was built.

1920's. I still remember the wording. It was: May 6, 1846 JOHN C. FREMONT

And his expedition of 40 men here crossed Link river, and proceeding on the west side of the lake, camped that night at Rock creek.

The actual crossing was made through the shallows where Link river leaves the lake, some 200 or 300 yards west of the sign. But these markers were placed on Front just off California, in the belief that they would be more noticeable there.

The stone marker should not doubt be moved over near the bridge where more people could see it, and also a sign should be placed there. But I think the sign should tell a little more about Fremont. Something like: John C. Fremont, (1813-1890).
