Longshoremen Return To Work At Portland

PORTLAND, May 8 (AP)—Marine cargo loadings and unloadings resumed in the port of Portland area today under an interim compromise agreement between the CIO cargo checkers and waterfront operators that ended the 10 day old tie-up here.

R. E. Ferguson, manager of the Waterfront Employers association, reported the settlement reached last night with U. S. Conciliator H. H. Lewis presiding, required the workers to accept terms of the previous contract which gave the employers the right to determine how many checkers will supervise each longshore gang.

The checker hiring issue has idled 150 checkers and involved 1500 longshoremen and virtually paralyzed shipping in the Columbia river harbors since April 29. Only three grain vessels and one meat vessel were loaded last week.

W. H. Hanks, business agent for the CIO supercargo and checkers union, and Michael Johnson, San Francisco, vice president of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's union, announced the interim agreement called for renegotiation of the contract for the port of Portland and arbitration of any issues arising during the life of the interim agreement.

Both the union officials said the interim settlement was very unsatisfactory, but the men were anxious to return to work and assist in moving cargo needed overseas.

Few ships have entered the harbor area since the work stoppage began. Most shippers rerouted vessels to other west coast ports, marine sources reported.

Others Asked To Bomb Test

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—The United States put an end today to a lot of speculation about "Operation Crossroads" by inviting 11 nations to send official representatives and news correspondents to the coming atomic bomb tests in the Pacific.

For some weeks there has been considerable conjecture whether foreign observers would be permitted to witness the experiments, and Capitol Hill has heard some lawmakers assert the tests were certain to divulge valuable military information.

Uncertainty on the question ended when Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson announced last night that President Truman had authorized invitations for all countries having membership on the United Nations atomic energy commission.

In addition to the United States these countries are Russia, Britain, France, China, Canada, Australia, Brazil, Egypt, Poland, The Netherlands and Mexico.

School Music Fete Friday

The city-wide grade school music festival will be held Friday, May 17, at 2 p. m., in Pelican court. According to Andrew Loney Jr., director of music education, it was necessary to change the date from May 14 because of conflicting engagements.

A rehearsal for the concert is slated for Thursday afternoon, May 16. Combined orchestras under the direction of John Best will rehearse at 1 p. m., the combined beginning strings under John O'Connor at 1:15, the combined beginning band under Mrs. Sherman Carter at 1:30, the combined advance bands under Oland Warcup at 1:45, and the grade school chorus at 2 p. m.

Bus transportation for Pelican, Conger and Riverside schools will be provided.

Selected to direct the festival choruses are John O'Connor, fourth grade chorus; Andrew Loney Jr., fifth and sixth grade chorus, and the seventh grade chorus, Mrs. Patricia Hunt.

The concert will be free of charge.

Costa Rican To Get Pan-Am Scholarship

PORTLAND, May 8 (AP) — Award of the first Pan-American scholarship ever granted by the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, was announced today.

The $1000 scholarship went to Rosa Amelia Colum, 24-year-old San Jose, Costa Rica teacher. She will attend the University of Oregon next year under a new law which enables this state's schools to exchange international students without tuition fee.

The Last Battle Front Of World War II

Map above shows the military situation in Europe one year ago today, when hostilities officially ended with the signing of the final surrender in Berlin at midnight. The "cease fire" order became effective throughout the continent one minute later. However, desperate German units continued to fight on in Austria and Czechoslovakia for several days. Inset boxes describe individual surrenders leading up to the climactic total capitulation of the once-great German war machine.

Milk Hearings To Be Resumed

PORTLAND, May 8 (AP) — A state department of agriculture hearing on milk was scheduled to resume Thursday after OPA officials and milk producers disagreed sharply on whether a price floor should be set.

McDannell Brown, district OPA director, told the department's milk control section yesterday that there is "no need" for a price floor on milk. The League of Women Voters and Safeway Store attorneys backed his opposition to making the recently granted half-cent per quart increase a minimum.

Producers and distributors, however, testified that the industry can not make money under existing conditions. Will W. Henry, dairy cooperative manager, declared that herds would continue to be liquidated and grade A milk supplies decline.

OPA studies, Brown retorted, show a "satisfactory profit level" in fluid milk.

Urging the floor, producers declared that feed costs have risen 150 per cent since 1940, labor costs jumped heavily.

'Man In Barrel' Mystery Solved

SEATTLE, May 8 (AP) — The mystery man who lived — and died—in a barrel on a Seattle garbage dump was identified through fingerprints yesterday as Mike Cobb, 50, alias M. M. Prevo.

The coroner's office report showed he had served time in South Dakota, Nebraska and Montana prisons.

Habitues of the dump knew him only as the "old man who lived in a barrel" and said he had survived for some years on the food he could salvage nearby. He was found dead April 17.

'Party Burglar' Shot By Portland Police

PORTLAND, May 8 (AP) — A 25-year-old man, shot last night at the rear of a home where a party was underway, was being questioned today by police hunting a "party burglar."

About 50 Portland homes have reported burglaries in the last few months while they were entertaining guests.

The man, Arnold Wayne Pitts, shot by a police patrolman after, police said, he ran from a ladder behind the house, was booked on a charge of attempted burglary and held under $5000 bail. A bullet wound in his upper arm was treated at Emergency hospital.

Legion To Give Service Dances

In line with their policy of community service, members of the American Legion, Post 8, voted at their business meeting, Tuesday night, to sponsor a series of weekly dances for members of the armed forces still stationed in the basin area. In cooperation with the Junior Hostess club of this city, the dances will be held on Friday nights in the Legion hall, upstairs over the War Memorial building, 4th and Klamath.

The Legion color guard and a group of marchers will participate in the V-E Day parade Wednesday evening, and on Tuesday, May 14, the same group will take part in the "Stop Forest Fire" parade scheduled for noon on that date. Under the chairmanship of Walt Wiesendanger, the Legion's "Stop Forest Fire" program is being conducted in most of the public schools and will be climaxed by a public meeting and a dinner to be held in the Willard hotel, Tuesday night.

"I Am An American" Day, May 19, will be observed with an all-day picnic at Moore park for the entertainment of servicemen. An old-fashioned wiener roast and picnic games will highlight the day's activities.

The Legion club at 219 Main, is now in full operation and all visiting members and local members are urged to stop in, according to Dave Hoss, chairman of the house committee.

Loney Will Judge Contest In Montana

Andrew Loney Jr., director of music education in the Klamath Falls public schools, will be in Billings, Mont., Friday and Saturday, judging in a national contest there.

Over 2000 students are entered from eastern Washington, Montana and Wyoming. Loney will return Tuesday.

Loney recently returned from Eugene where his local Klamath Union high school students were entered in national competition in the Eugene music festival.
