Voters To Get Four Ballots

Klamath Falls voters will have four different ballots to choose from and county electors, three, when they go to the polls for the primary election May 17.

The extra ballot for city folks is the one calling for a vote on three proposed city measures providing for property assessments.

A registered democrat, resident of Klamath Falls, will get a democratic nominating ticket, a city ticket and a non-partisan ballot, while a registered city republican gets the same thing with the exception of getting a republican nominating ballot.

Party nominating ballots include the following offices and candidates:

Representative in congress, vote for one: Lamar Townsend (D); Lowell Stockman (R).

Governor, vote for one: Henry Black (R); Earl Snell (R); Carl Donaugh (D).

Secretary of state, vote for one: Robert S. Farrell Jr. (R); Floyd K. Dover (D); David C. Epps (D).

Commissioner of the bureau of labor, vote for one: W. E. Kimsey (R); Ralph W. Peoples (D).

Representative (Klamath county), vote for two: Troy V. Cook (R); Rose M. Poole (R); Henry Semon (D).

County commissioner, vote for one: Fred L. Pope (R); Ernest W. Massey (D).

County assessor, vote for one: No republican candidate; Newton B. Nelson (D).

County surveyor, vote for one: Wally M. Hector (R); Frank Z. Howard (R).

Constable (precinct office), vote for one: Tulelake and Linkville precincts are the only districts having a candidate for constable. Other precinct ballots have space for write-ins. Gary B. Cozad (R), Linkville district; Ed Davis (D), Tulelake district.

On the party ballots the only offices having more than one nominations for the party candidacy are: governor, two republican nominees; secretary of state, two democratic nominees; county assessor, two republican nominees; and state representative, two republican and one democratic nominee, in which two candidates will be elected.

The judicial or non-partisan ballot has two names, candidates for the circuit judgeship: David R. Vandenberg and Clarence A. Humble.

Persons registered as non-partisan, socialist, independent, communist, prohibitionist and so on will receive only the non-partisan ballot in the primary, and also the city ballot for those registered in town.

Ex-servicemen who registered as non-partisan or independent while overseas, however, will be asked to state a party preference at the polls and be given a ballot of their choice.

Sample ballots are on hand in the front office of The Herald and News and are available for examination by interested voters.

The Touch of Mother's Hands

From the dear dead long ago
Where tender memories stand,
There comes to me, at twilight's hour
The touch of mother's hands.

Those tender hands, though worn with toil
Were always fair to me
And memory thrills me as of old
I stand beside her knee.

And feel her loving tender touch
And hear her accents low
While guiding me to better things
In evening's quiet glow.

Those patient hands in midnight's hour
Oft cooled my fevered brain.
I feel them yet though years have fled
And long at rest they've lain.

So when I reach the Pearly Gates
Alight with Heaven's glow
Oh may I hear her gentle voice
In accents soft and low.

And feel again that tender touch
Midst Heaven's angel band
That blessed touch, that tender touch,
The touch of mother's hands.
