

Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY
THERE'S a good deal of skepticism about the proposed "trial" of parking meters for a six-month period.

EPLEY

If the trial is to be made, here's a suggestion that will make it bona fide:
At the end of a trial period, let there be a public vote on the question.

Then, if they are as good as some believe, they should receive public support.

Election Week

THIS is the first day of election week, and the interesting thing about it is the lack of interest.

In past years, this stage of the campaign found a mounting excitement, and a great many people couldn't concentrate their attention on anything but politics.

Right now, it is difficult to get them to give any attention at all to politics.

It is true that there are fewer contests this primary election than usual, both in state and local departments of the voting.

In this county, every voter will take part in the selection of the man to fill the highest-paying job in the gift of the people of the county—the circuit judgeship.

There are other important matters on the ballots. It is time for people to be thinking about them, and they should resolve now not to let Friday pass without voting.

The Forest Asset

IT HAS become customary at this season, when public attention is re-directed to the danger of fire in the forests, to consider the economic importance of the forest resources which people are urged to protect.

Hence, it is again bringing an outstanding speaker to the community on forest matters. He is E. T. F. Wohlberg, forest counsel of the Western Forestry and Conservation association.

The subject is of vital interest to Klamath Falls and the Klamath area.

The lumber industry, and the public which depends so much upon lumber for its bread and butter, is indebted to the local American Legion post for the continuance of this annual program.

It is to be hoped there will be a large turnout of interested people at the Stop Forest Fires banquet tomorrow night.

BOYLE'S NOTEBOOK

By HAL BOYLE
BERLIN, May 13 (AP)—You don't belong and you feel it. It is the most uncomfortable feeling in the world to live in a house where you aren't wanted.

The army gives you the paper. It says the home is needed by the Americans. Or the British. Or the Russians. Or the French.

Tears in Eyes
You know such arrangements can't really work well. But tears are trembling in the hausfrau's eyes.

The living room is surprising small and there is a heavy iron fence along the sidewalk and a fence around the back yard.

All Spick and Span
Everything is smiles all day long, and you never noticed a place so clean.

No More Smiles
The smiles begin to cease. Now when the hausfrau brings your laundry, she puts it down with a weariness.

STATIC

The picture of Louise Carlyle and Phil Hanna, stars of Sunday Evening Party, was stuck in here just so listeners could get an idea of what the people they listen to look like.

Commander J. M. Amberson of the Navy Department's bureau of Medicine and Surgery, will discuss the dread Asiatic plague, cholera, on "The Doctor's Talk It Over," Tuesday night at 10:30.

"Eb and Zeb," the country storekeepers of the Al Pearce show, have a problem on their hands for tomorrow when they order a nickel-in-the-slot piano for their home.

The American Legion's annual Stop Forest Fires parade and banquet will be held tomorrow, with the parade starting at Bal-siger's at noon, and the banquet held in the Willard hotel at 7 p. m.

Secondly, our own international, political and economic policies are unsettled, not to say confused, in the transition from our all-out war effort.

Queer Disease Strikes Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 13 (AP)—Drastic precautionary measures both here and at Corpus Christi, 175 miles to the south, were taken today by public officials in a battle to halt the spread of a strange polio-like sickness that already has claimed four victims.

In Nueces county, of which Corpus Christi is a part, the city and county health boards closed all schools, churches, theatres, night clubs, parks, playgrounds and swimming pools for two weeks and prohibited public gatherings of more than five persons.

In San Antonio, an earlier city order closing schools in half the city was extended yesterday to include all schools, public and parochial, and university and college classes were ordered curtailed.

Dr. George W. Edgerston of the Corpus Christi health board described the malady as resembling polio and yellow fever. He said it had been so quickly fatal at San Antonio that it had been impossible definitely to establish its symptoms.

Ship Founders In Aleutians

KODIAK, Alaska, May 13 (AP)—The 10,000-ton tanker Fort Sumter broke up Saturday about 720 miles south of Attu island in the Aleutians but all hands were saved by crews of two merchant ships, the commander of the Alaska Sea Frontier reported.

The S. S. Iberville took off 34 men and the S. S. Culbreath 10. The report, received in Seattle by the 13th naval district, gave no details as to how the accident occurred.

The boat was bound out of San Pedro, Calif., but its destination was not known.

Telling The Editor

Letters printed here must not be more than 200 words in length, must be written legibly on ONE SIDE of the paper only, and must be signed. Contributions following these rules are warmly welcomed.

MODOC POINT, Ore., (To the Editor)—I notice in your personal column that you said this plenty of butter is all false rumors.

I would like to inform you I was over to Medford last Sunday and bought butter at the Big Y store at the north edge of town. The storekeeper also told me that they had too much butter.

I saw one party buy five pounds over the counter and it wasn't black market butter either. Made at the Jorgensen's dairy and also the Ashland creamery.

I asked why they couldn't ship some into Klamath Falls and they said it couldn't be done with only three cents per pound profit, OPA ceiling.

I welcome your investigation

Health Item
By EARL WHITLOCK
It is a fact that women, on the average, live longer than men.

But now comes a scientist with a different slant. He has placed thermometers and other precision instruments under the clothing of men and women and thus has measured the temperature and humidity next to their skins.

He found that the temperature next to a woman's skin is usually about ten degrees lower than that next to a man's and that the humidity is from a third to a half less.

The scientist concludes that the average man, therefore, spends the greater part of his life in a debilitating climate like that of the tropics. This is true winter and summer. Only his face and hands stick out into healthier surroundings.

The average woman, on the other hand, lives in a climate like the cool, dry air of the mountains.

I just pass his findings along to you for whatever they may be worth.

"Memory Garden is for your comfort."

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on "Credo."
