

Violent Death Claims 7 In Series Of Accidents

By The Associated Press
 Three auto collisions late yesterday took the lives of five Oregonians—three of them Gaston high school students—and an accidental poisoning and a lumber mill mishap claimed a toll of two others.

Ten persons were critically injured in the fatal highway accidents outside Portland. A total of 13 injured motorists and one pedestrian were involved in wrecks of 15 vehicles in a few hours late yesterday in that city.

In the worst of the accidents, three Gaston high school students were killed almost instantly and three others seriously hurt when the auto they were riding to a baseball game struck a lumber truck near Newberg on the Newberg-Wapato highway.

The victims were Ralph Ellingsworth, 17; Mary King, 17, and Charles Turner, 18. The injured: Ralph Hatfield, 15; Donald McMahon, 14, and Carl Hering, 17.

The boys were all members of the Gaston high baseball squad. State police reported that heavy dust, spun up by another car, apparently obscured vision and caused the car to sideswipe the oncoming truck. It was not immediately determined which youth was driving.

The truck was driven by Fred Ortman, Forest Grove, police said. The impact sheared off the top of the car at the hood.

In other accidents Donald James Burris, 36, Portland, was killed when his car and a truck crashed east of Cherryville on the loop highway. Adolph Valentine Swanson, 66, was killed in the overturning of a car on the Garden Home road southwest of Portland.

At North Plains, the Bates Lumber company reported Clarence Hatfield, 44, was crushed by a spinning log being hauled into the mill. A widow and three children survive.

The Multnomah county coroner's office reported James E. Dickason, 84, died of poisoning after drinking "sheep dip" he had mistaken for another beverage.

FALSE TEETH
 That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEREETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate order" denture breath. Get FASTEREETH at any drug store.

Would-Be Minister Jailed For Theft
 PORTLAND, May 16 (AP)—A three year probationary sentence has been given Ansell Durell, 24, who pleaded guilty in federal court of stealing $1000 from the mails to finance his studies for the ministry.

Postal inspectors charged Durell had taken the money from mails here while he was employed during the Christmas season. Durell told the court he hid the money in a cigar box and did not tell his wife of the fund. Durell is the father of two children.
