

GAVE IT ITS NAME
The name "vaudeville" came from the invasion area of Normandy. An ancient miller, Olivier Basselin, made the valley of Vaux de Vire famous with his entertaining songs, and from this name the corrupted term "vaudeville" arose.

Native Son Comes Back From Wars

Sgt. Primo Andreatta, 26, nephew of Victorio Andreatta, 3128 Boardman, returned to Klamath Falls this week after 39 months of service in this country, Australia, New Guinea, Dutch East Indies, the Philippines and Japan. With the famous arrows of the "Red Arrow" division, Sgt. Andreatta also wears the medical combat badge awarded front line medics who serve with the infantry, the Silver Star for gallantry in action, Victory ribbon, Japanese Occupation ribbon, Good Conduct medal, Asiatic-Pacific with three battle stars and a landing "sparehead" and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with two battle stars.

As if this is not enough for one soldier to wear, Sgt. Andreatta also wears the blue badge which signifies the Presidential Citation given to the Red Arrow division for action in the Leyte campaign. Young Andreatta is a native of Klamath Falls, born here July 31, 1920. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Onorato Andreatta, came to this country from Padernodel Grappa, about 40 miles from Venice, Italy. Papa Andreatta worked in the timber industry at Pine Ridge, but having property in Italy which he wished to protect, he returned to his native land in 1926. Mrs. Andreatta remained in Italy, but several years later her husband returned to this country for a short time and then also went back to Italy.

When war broke out in Italy, the Andreattas sent their son to his uncle and Primo remained in Klamath Falls and at Sprague River until he entered the service March 10, 1943. In the meantime, Primo's father was thrown in a German concentration camp for his anti-fascist views and he was held in prison for 17 months. He was not liberated until the Russians and the Americans entered Germany. The family is now reunited, including the parents, a son, Gino, and daughter Lina. Primo hopes to go back to Italy within a year to visit.

Primo was awarded the Silver Star for an incident which took place in April, 1945, when the 32nd infantry division went into battle in northern Luzon. While bullets were whizzing around his position of safety, young Andreatta heard the cries of wounded, and with his kit crawled to aid a number of men. For his gallantry along the bitterly contested Villa Verde trail, the sergeant received the highly coveted medal. Contracting malaria while on duty in the South Pacific, Sgt. Andreatta was sent to two hospitals for treatment, the last American General Hospital at Fort Lewis. He is now on sick leave and reports back to Fort Lewis within a week.

Sgt. Andreatta hopes to return to Klamath Falls to live after his discharge, which he expects will be forthcoming soon.

Moscow Questions Iran 'Champions'
LONDON, May 31 (AP)—The Moscow radio asked bluntly last night if Iran's "unbitten champions" want peace and security in the Middle East, or seek "artificially to create and fan trouble and conflict on the southern frontiers of the Soviet Union."

President retention of the Russian-Iranian question on the agenda of the United Nations security council, Commentator Levin observed that "one cannot help wondering what it is that Iran's unbitten champions really want."

SGT. PRIMO ANDREATTA

Boatman Denies Holstrom Fears

LA GRANDE, May 31 (AP)—Haldane "Buzz" Holstrom, river boatman who committed suicide last week while with a survey party studying the Grande Ronde river, had no fear of its treacherous waters, another old-time boatman declared today.

Oliver W. Barlow of Elgin said "There is some rough water but it isn't a terrible trip at all. Any man with Holstrom's experience wouldn't be afraid of the trip."

Members of the survey party reported Holstrom shot himself because he didn't think he could get through the rapids with his boat.

Barlow, who said he had made the trip 24 times with only one accident—and that due to carelessness—told of talking with Holstrom before he left for the trip.

Whatever Holstrom's reason for committing suicide, it wasn't the river, Barlow declared.

Crater Roads Still Blocked

Snow plows have reached to within three miles of headquarters at Crater Lake national park, Thomas C. Parker, assistant park superintendent, reported today.

Due to bad weather, breakdowns in equipment and heavy snow, the park will not be open to visitors June 1, as expected. Every effort is being made however to open the following weekend but snow at present is eight to ten feet deep on the level and undetermined depths in drifts. As soon as the plow reaches the lodge at the rim, so that a crew can get in to prepare facilities for visitors, both plows will be used on widening the now narrow, one-way road.

Recent snow and rain have delayed work on clearing the roads but weather was clearing at the latest report.

A portable power plant has been rented from Portland to be delivered June 3 to the park, for supplying power to the rim lodge until such time as the new underground cable can be laid this summer. The existing cable failed during the war and must be replaced.

Parker spent Memorial Day in Klamath Falls and was in the office in the post office building this morning but plans to return to the park tonight.

Money Snatched At Paint Store

Harry Goeller of Goeller's paint store, 434 Main, has reported to city police the disappearance of $379 in currency from his store Wednesday.

An employee had been to the bank to cash some checks, Goeller said, and placed the money, $379.75, on his desk at the back of the store. Goeller was busy at the time, but when he returned to his desk only the 75 cents was there.

Federal agencies and qualified veterans will buy Monday and Tuesday with veterans' sales continuing the next three days. Other priority dates are: Smaller businesses with RFC priorities, June 10; state and local governments, June 11; non-profit institutions, June 12; normal trade channels, June 13, 14, 17 and 18.

Automobile Crashes Into Side Of House

Only minor damage resulted to a house-car crash on Ward about noon yesterday.

Charles J. Smith, 1529 Ward, reported that his 1937 Chevrolet sedan, parked in his driveway, slipped its brakes and rolled backwards across the street and smashed into the side of the residence of E. O. Stockdale, 1530 Ward.

'American Pigs' Slain By Nazis

DACHAU, Germany, May 31 (AP)—A Belgian woman testified today that Nazi SS men who slaughtered unarmed American war prisoners at Malmedy kicked their victims and shouted: "You pigs, why didn't you stay in America?"

The prosecution witness, Anna Willems of Ligneuville, Belgium, said she saw Germans kick the bodies of dead Americans in the streets of Malmedy during the Battle of the Bulge.

Centennial Meeting Slated For June 5

Completion of plans and final decisions on the coming centennial celebration will be made at a meeting of the Centennial association, June 5, at the chamber of commerce.

This will be a general meeting and all civic organizations in the county wishing to participate in the pageant are requested to have representatives present.

At the meeting held last Wednesday, pleasure was expressed at the response of Malin and Chiloquin communities in signing underwriters for financing the celebration. Merrill reported getting its campaign under way.
