

Bill Vinson didn't go far from home to catch this monster. The salmon trout weighs 9 1/2 pounds and was caught in Link river just below the dam, after a 25 minute struggle.

Swim Program Opens Monday

Registration for the summer swimming program at the Klamath Union high school pool will begin June 10, according to E. E. Hambrick, city recreation director. The program, under the auspices of the city recreation department will be open next Monday to all school pupils beyond the second grade of elementary school. Both advanced and non-swimmer classes are to be taught. Classes are to continue Monday through Friday, from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p. m. The pool will be open on week-day evenings from 6 to 9 p. m. for the general public, Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon, 1 to 4 p. m., and 6 to 9 p. m., and on Sunday from 2 to 5 p. m. There will be no instruction on Saturday and Sunday. Suits may be rented at the pool. A few Monday nights, according to Hambrick, may still be leased at a flat rate of $15 by private parties. This will cover the entire evening, Hambrick added. Also part of the summer recreation activities will be wood-working and handicraft shops. Registration for these programs will be open next Monday. The shop will be held in the wood-craft rooms of K.U.H.S. Any boy or girl out of town next Monday may register for either program upon returning to the city.

Shorter Duck Season Prospect

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Duck hunters this year face a shorter shooting season, a reduced bag limit, or both. This will be necessary, Director Albert M. Day of the fish and wildlife service said today, "to halt and reverse the alarming decline in the wild duck population." In the past two years, Day said, there has been an average decline of about 23,000,000 birds a year. The continental population of migratory waterfowl began to decline in 1945 when the annual inventory of the service indicated 105,500,000 birds, compared with the peak of 125,350,000 in 1944. The downward trend continued in 1946 with wild ducks and geese dropping to 80,000,000. Meanwhile, the number of licensed duck hunters skyrocketed to 1,696,368.

Newsom Joins Solons For Fourth Time

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Louis Norman (Bobo) Newsom, the wandering boy of baseball, is back with the Washington Senators for the fourth time. Released by the Philadelphia Athletics on Monday, the 37-year-old hurler accepted an offer from the Senators last night. Clark Griffith, boss of the Senators, said Bobo will pitch tomorrow night when the Washington club opens a four-game series with the Chicago White Sox. Griffith wouldn't say what he's paying Bobo, but sports circles speculated it might be in the neighborhood of $15,000 a year.

Rutgers Crew Enters Seattle Hull Regatta

SEATTLE, June 6 (AP)—Acceptance last night by Rutgers university compete in the June 2 Lake Washington regatta rounded out the full quota of eight slim-hulled racing shells, the University of Washington announced. A limited number of the boats available has forced a limit on the number of entries. The complete entries lists now is: Wisconsin, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cornell, Harvard, the University of British Columbia, California, Washington, and Rutgers.

Link River Yields Big'n

If you are one of those just plain unlucky fishermen who crawl through brambles and wooded tangles, over mountains and through valleys remote to civilization in order to reach a good fishing spot, then don't catch anything, take heart and try Link river for a change. Although the merits and quality of fish caught there are constantly under discussion, D. L. "Bill" Vinson, 2325 California, is proud of a 9 1/2 pound salmon trout hooked there. Fishing in the swift water just below the dam on Link river, Vinson, 65, and an ardent fisherman, cast his line out not 10 minutes before the big fish took it. "He took the reel right out of my hands five or six times," declared Vinson. He used a small hook, about a number 2, one ounce of weight on his line, and had a live minnow as bait. The fish was hooked about 4:30 Monday afternoon and Vinson, fishing the spot alone, landed it after a 25-minute battle. The fish weighed 9 1/2 pounds four hours after it was caught.

Local Shooters Hot At Medford

George L. Jantzer, Medford lumberman, won the Mail Tribune trapshooting trophy for the second time in a shoot-off with Harry Elden of Central Point at Medford Sunday, both gunners breaking 99 out of 100 targets. Jantzer's handicap score was 48, Elden's 47. In the doubles event Nelson Reed and Cliff Dunn tied for high with 23 breaks out of 12 pair. Reed, John Martin and Prent Puckett hit 97x100; Virgil Bewley and Dunn, 96x100; Pete Driscoll, Frank Adams, Martin Adams and Clyde Fox, 94x100. As a highlight of the shoot, a five-man squad composed of H. R. Turpin, E. W. Pease, George Jantzer, Harry Elden and Harry Niedermeyer broke 50 straight each for a squad total of 250.

Bucs Hear Relief Call

PITTSBURGH, June 6 (AP)—Major league baseball faces the threat of the first union strike in its long history here tomorrow night in a scheduled game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants. Robert Murphy, ruddy-faced labor relations director of the American Baseball Guild, announced last night the Pittsburgh Pirates had voted unanimously not to take the field against the Giants unless Bucs' officials meet their demands for an immediate collective bargaining election.

William E. Benswanger, president of the club, discussed the case with his attorneys this morning and told Murphy he expected to give him a decision later today. Only a dramatic eleventh-hour session in the Pirates clubhouse kept the strike from coming off before last night's game with Brooklyn, which the Dodgers won, 5-3. The rapid-fire developments followed a breakdown of a conference earlier in the day at Benswanger's office, during which the Pirate management suggested the quit issue be deferred until the baseball season is over.

First word of the strike threat came shortly after 6 o'clock when Murphy met with the players and telephoned Pirate officials. The players had voted to stay in the dressing room until Benswanger came to talk to them. If Benswanger didn't show up within an hour, Murphy said he "wouldn't be responsible if the game did not go on." He said the players were ready to vote in that event. Trip To Clubhouse But Benswanger heeded the ultimatum and made his first trip to the Pirate clubhouse in 12 years, while thousands of fans poured into Forbes field unaware of the drama that was being enacted. Benswanger let Seward H. French Jr., his chief counsel, do most of the talking. But he did tell the players he thought he always had been fair with them and would leave any decision up to them.

Relief Hurler Keeping Cubs In Flag Chase

By The Associated Press
Emil Kush, a local boy from Chicago's North Side, who waited nine long years to make a boyhood dream come true, was rivaling the Boston Red Sox' Earl Johnson as the number one relief pitcher in the major leagues today. Not since Jack Russell, whose yeoman relief work helped the Chicago Cubs win the 1938 National league pennant, have the Bruins boasted such a brilliant rescue artist as this 29-year-old right-hander.

Kush gained his fourth victory without a defeat yesterday—all of them in relief roles—as the Cubs shaded the New York Giants 6-5 to move into third place in the National league pennant race. The native Chicagoan entered the game in the seventh inning after the Giants had pummeled Johnny Schmitz and two successors for a dozen hits and all their runs, and held the New Yorkers hitless the rest of the way.

2 Klamath Men Hunt Big Game

The wilds of eastern British Columbia have lured two Klamathites in search of big game. Dr. R. W. Stearns and Victor O'Neill left last week on a hunting trip which will take them deep into the heart of the Canadian Rockies. They hope to snare some grizzly bears. This marks Dr. Stearns' fourth trip. The men entered Canada at King's Gate and have established camp at Wardner, British Columbia. They will pack in by horseback from there. Each time Dr. Stearns has had a definite hunting objective. On his first trip, into the rugged Frazier river country, he went for caribou and moose. In later trips he has been in quest of mountain sheep and goats as well as caribou and moose. In this region is found some of the roughest terrain the continent has to offer. The grizzlies inhabit the precipitous slopes and cliffs of the mountains. As a side line Stearns and O'Neill plan to indulge in some fishing.

Cellar Team Rocks Salem

By The Associated Press
The Spokane Indians moved up into the Western International league lead last night, one-half game ahead of Salem, and the cellar-dwelling Victoria Athletics pulled a double barrelled surprise out of the hat by knocking the cocky Senators off the top rung twice in a row. The Indians ran off with an 8 to 4 win from the Tacoma Tigers at Spokane after forcing a Tiger hurler off the mound in a six-run fourth inning. The victory—combined with Salem's losses, shoved Spokane to the top of the league standings with a total of 26 games won and 16 lost for the season. At Victoria, the lowly Athletics apparently made a good start on the comeback trail by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the invading Senators, 6-1 and 13-4. Neither game went the full nine innings, the opener running seven and the nightcap being called after the eighth because of a curfew law. Wenatchee evened its series with the Yakima Stars by taking their game at Wenatchee 8 to 2. Yakima's Gene Thompson and Eddie Barr of the Chiefs contributed homes for the cash customers. The Bremerton-Vancouver game at Vancouver was cancelled because of threatening weather.

WRESTLING!

"The Battle of Champs"

ERNIE PILUSO vs. MARTINO ANGELO

TONITE

If You Can't See the Excitement in Person . . .
The Next Best Bet Is Don Neal's Ringside Description

KFLW---9:30 P. M.

No Titles At Stake

In tonight's armory main event, the contestants Martino Angelo and Ernie Piluso have three assorted wrestling championships to their names, and quite possibly are among the claimants to more, but none of the diadems will change hands this day. Ernie, the home-town product, is recognized as the world's lightweight mat champ and has been since last January, while Martino holds the lightweight belt issued by the Pacific coast wrestling commission. Both these are 160-pound honors. In addition, Martino also owns the coast junior heavy title, issued by the northern California wrestling commission and recognized in 160-pound circles of this area. It may be that Angelo in the near future will be able to request a title bout with Piluso, but nothing of that sort is in the wind yet. They fight tonight in a six-round top event with nothing at stake but the win-lose purses. The opener and semi-windup will each be of four rounds duration or two falls out of three, and the first bout is scheduled to get underway about 8:30. Paavo Katonen tackles rugged Georges Dusette, the arduous French-Canadian who uses a private plane for his travels, and Bob Keneston meets Mad Mike Nazarian. A coin toss will decide which bout comes first.

Elks Dump Third Softball Victim

The Elks salted away their third win of the current softball season by defeating the Knights of Columbus 10-7 last night on Recreation field. Led by M. Marshall, Bishop, and Mauler with two runs each, the Elks continued their perfect record of no losses and three wins and retain first place in the local circuit. This marks the 100th loss suffered by KC in two games. Six walks and a hit batsman gave the Elks their start in the first inning, while the best inning for KC was the sixth, with five runs chalked up. McDanials pitched for the Knights and Zmaski hurled for the Elks. Paul Deller was the umpire.

Conn May Weigh Less Than 180

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., June 6 (AP)—Challenger Billy Conn may enter the ring at Yankee stadium for his heavyweight title fight with Joe Louis June 19 weighing less than 180 pounds. Conn weighed 182 after yesterday's workout, in which he boxed eight more rounds to bring his total for the training camp session to 217 frames.

Salute to Salem

Salem, capital of Oregon, is a progressive city, sparkling with activity and good living. Geographical center of Northwest agriculture and recreation, it is also a focal point for commerce, industry, and education. The pioneers' courageous spirit was poured into the foundations of Salem and is honored by the heroic pioneer figure atop the modern capitol building. Once called Chemeketa, the Indian "place of rest," this beautiful place was renamed Salem, "city of peace," by its missionary-founder, over one hundred years ago. Its growth is steady, and Salem has the look of purposeful stability. Its streets are broad; fine trees line the parkways and dot the lawns. There are no slums or unsightly districts. Salem looks ahead with a vigorous program of civic planning in which Greyhound, as transportation link to neighboring Oregon cities, is a vital factor. In saluting Salem, Greyhound, too, looks ahead and will continue to provide the best in modern intercommunity bus service.

Oakland's Bulge Now Cut To One Game Over Frisco

By The Associated Press
The strain of trying to ward off the San Francisco Seals' challenge for the Pacific Coast Baseball league leadership wrecked the Oakland A's defenses for the second time in a row and left them only a game ahead today. Five errors and six walks made up the margin of victory in unearned tallies as the Seals romped to their second successive triumph, 6 to 3, last night. Although the league leaders outdid them, 8 to 5, last night, the Seals bunched their blows better and took every advantage of the A's ragged playing. Larry Lansen won his 12th game against three losses. The Hollywood Stars subdued the faltering Angels of Los Angeles on both ends of a doubleheader, 5 to 3 and 7 to 2, featuring home runs, which brought in all tallies in the first game. Portland's Beavers, occupants of the cellar, played the kind of baseball that won them the 1945 pennant in trouncing Sacramento, 7 to 2. Jake Mooty, the winning pitcher, fanned 12 men and yielded only four hits. Manager Mary Owen of the Beavers got into the lineup and had a perfect day at the plate, with four singles. Danny Escobar, Beavers outfielder, got four hits, including a triple, in five times at bat. The San Diego Padres turned back the Seattle Rainiers, 7 to 4, putting over five runs on four hits and three walks in the third inning. Vern Kennedy, who was lifted in the ninth, was the winning pitcher.
