Air School Announced By Mocabee

Allan Mocabee, manager of the Oregon Flying Service, announced today that final approval from the Veterans Administration had been granted his school, and flight training for vets will get under way Monday or Tuesday of next week.

A class of 25 to 30 students is expected to attend the opening class, said Mocabee, and hours will be held from daylight to dark for the convenience of those who are working. Saturdays and Sundays will be set aside for local fliers, and for the few selected vets under the program who are unable to attend the school at any other time.

Instructors for Oregon Flying Service will include G. R. Crusen, Gail Putnam, Ruth Morse and Mocabee. Crusen, a Klamath Falls man, instructed both primary and secondary for Soukup at the Klamath airport prior to the war. During the war he taught for Tex Rankin's army school before he went into the army transport service. He was discharged in February of 1946. Crusen holds both single and multi engine ratings and has a CAA instrument rating.

Ex-Naval Instructor

Gail Putnam, well known Klamath flier, was chief flight instructor for the navy at Ottumwa, Ia., for three years. Following his discharge in December of 1945, he flew on various crop seeding and dusting projects. Just before coming to Klamath Falls to instruct for Mocabee he was employed in seeding rice in California and dusting crops at Tulelake.

Ruth Morse, the third instructor, comes to Klamath from Susanville, Calif., where she taught flying for a year. She has also taught at the Worden field for some eight months.

Mocabee, prior to entering the navy, instructed primary and secondary flying at Klamath and secondary CPT for A. W. Whitaker at Sunnyside, Wash. During the war he instructed for the navy for 3½ years. He holds primary and secondary designation and is the CAA flight examiner for the Klamath area.

Students who wish to attend the school must obtain certificates of eligibility from the VA office here, and have a CAA physical exam prior to starting instruction.

Burness Urges Care Of Tires

"It probably will be quite a few years before there is any such thing as a 100,000-mile tire for autos" James Burness, manager of Burness Motors, 316 South Sixth street, said today, "but in the meantime intelligent car owners can add many thousands of miles to the life expectancy of today's tires by following a faithful pattern of tire maintenance, and carrying on the practices they learned during the war."

American motorists, Mr. Burness said, made great progress these last five years in learning the importance of proper tire inflation and the "cross switching" of tires every 5000 miles to equalize wear.

"One thing that a lot of drivers still need to get straight," Mr. Burness emphasized, "is the fact that it's just as injurious to over-inflate a tire as to under-inflate it. This habit is definitely noticeable as a holdover from the war days."

Up From Shame

The great hour of the fall festival had come. It is October, Jerusalem, the year 33 A.D. You see Jesus rise up to tell the listening throng—If any man thirst, let him come to Me and drink. He that believeth in Me, from within him, shall flow rivers of living water. So He bid them believe on Him, drink Him in, be blessed and be a blessing.

Now come on down to our day and see Chas. Crittenden, rich man, mourning at the grave of his wife and only child, Florence. But Crittenden was blessed by faith in Christ and the blessing was to flow on to others. It took shape in a memorial to the daughter — The Florence Crittenden homes. They are for girls who would escape the life of shame in the red light sections. Only eternity can tell how many girls have been rescued, city by city, across the nation. Yes, Charlie Crittenden drank of that life-giving stream and there flowed out the blessing.

But God cannot bless us while we have sin charged against us. So it is that He sent his Son, our Lord, Jesus Christ, to die for us and clear our page. — Jesus paid it all. All to Him I owe. Sin had left a crimson stain. He washed it white as snow.

You count your sins blotted out by the blood of Christ. But are you the selfish Christian or the channel of blessing?

Police were called and took her out on a stretcher.

Auction Sale Set For July

The date for the auction sale to benefit the Red Cross has been set for Sunday, July 14. The place has not been definitely decided.

Main feature of the sale will be Smokey, the Red Cross horse, donated by Mrs. Frank Hurd. Local merchants have begun to contribute heavily with merchandise orders to be auctioned at the sale. One retailer expressed the opinion that it is a good idea to set aside one particular day to help the Red Cross, since the deficiency in the organization's quota will have to be made up.

Smokey, who will be the featured attraction at the sale, is being housed free of charge at the county fairgrounds, and is being tended by Al Jones, caretaker of the fairgrounds, who is donating his time. Other donations toward Smokey's cause include feed from the Standard Feed company, vaccinations and medical care by Dr. Herrick A. Wheeler, local veterinarian, saddle and bridle donated by Deputy Sheriff M. J. Barnes, a blanket sign painted by Harry Huddart for the horse to wear on exhibition donated by Frank Sexton of Great Northern railroads, and an offer from Police Chief Orville Hamilton of a police escort when Smokey is exhibited in downtown Klamath Falls. Sam Pieser has offered to ride Smokey on exhibition.

Entertainment Planned

Plans are progressing rapidly for entertainment to be furnished in connection with the auction. Dorothy Ackerman will sing for the event, and other features are being arranged.

People of the county are reminded that all donations of household goods, livestock, or other materials will be welcomed. Anything donated will be sold in the auction sale, whether the articles are of small or large value.

Sponsors of the idea feel that every family has something it isn't using which would be of value to someone else. Anyone having something to contribute is asked to contact Otto Smith, head of the Klamath county chapter of the Red Cross.

Fifty-one Nations Team Up for Ocean Rescues

Born of an Anglo-American system set up during the war, which has functioned smoothly ever since, plans for a permanent world-wide network for air-sea rescue have just been completed by representatives of 51 nations, meeting in Paris as "PICAO"—Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization. Map above shows how the system works. Upon receiving a radioed distress signal, powerful listening posts on both sides of the Atlantic "fix" the location of survivors and the nearest co-ordination center dispatches planes and ships to the scene. Thirteen weather ships will be maintained at fixed stations. PICAO was organized with an eye to the greatly expanded postwar transoceanic travel.

Anthracite Miners Back On Monday

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP) Pennsylvania's 75,000 hard coal miners will return to work in the anthracite pits Monday under a new contract providing for an 18½ cents an hour wage increase and a $2,700,000 health and welfare fund.

Their week-old strike ended late yesterday when leaders of the anthracite operators and John L. Lewis' AFL United Mine Workers agreed on a new pact after nearly five weeks of negotiations.

The welfare fund—whose cost is based on last year's production of anthracite—will be financed by a five cents a ton royalty on all hard coal mined.

It is estimated that all the concessions—closely paralleling those gained by the soft coal miners in their contract with the government—would cost the operators a total of $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 a year.

Retail Price Affected

A spokesman for the operators estimated the increased overhead from the new contract would add to the retail price of anthracite—used chiefly in home heating.

Regarding the welfare fund the hard coal mines won an even greater concession than the bituminous workers—Under the agreement the fund will be administered by three trustee—two of whom will be named by Lewis and a third by the operators.

The soft coal agreement provided for one tustee selected by the UMW, one by the government and a third by the mine operators.

Lewis decared the anthracite contract already had been approved unanimously by his 34-man scale committee making it official.

"I think the agreement is wholesome and constructive and I will warmly recommend its approval to the mine workers," Lewis said, explaining that the contract would have to be submitted to the membership for a referendum vote.

But since the pact gives the miners virtually all of their demands overwhelming approval was predicted.
