

Bosox Again Piling Wins Into Streak

The onrushing Boston Red Sox, barring a sudden collapse, had at least an outside chance today of breaking three coveted standards—winning the most games in one season, winning the pennant by the largest margin; and clinching the flag at the earliest date.

Bucs May Get Sued

PITTSBURGH, June 10 (AP)—While the union-conscious Pirates were busy winning ball games, Baseball Guildsmen Robert Murphy revealed he was preparing charges of unfair labor practices against the Pittsburgh club.

The stocky Harvard graduate lost the first round in a battle for recognition of the guild Friday night when Pirate players dramatically voted not to strike.

Murphy said he would charge the Pittsburgh baseball club with attempting "to dissuade players," through its officials, from dealing "through the American Baseball guild, their chosen representatives, for the purposes of collective bargaining."

Murphy asserted the charges would be filed with the national labor relations board in Pittsburgh. He also alleged that club officials told players to deal individually with them regarding their grievances.

Pirate President William E. Benswanger would not comment directly except to say "the boys are playing ball and that's all we can ask them to do."

Manager Frankie Frisch, elated by his team's double win over the New York Giants yesterday, likewise declined to talk about the guild.

Seals Trail Oakland By Two Games

By The Associated Press
The San Francisco Seals, battling for first place, wound up Sunday's sessions two games behind the Oakland Oaks but with a 4-3 edge in their series.

The Seals looked bad in the first go-round, with Cotton Pippin limiting them to 5 hits. The Oaks took the game 5 to 0 but not before a first-class brawl, beginning with Ferris Fain and Pippin and winding up with both teams and a dozen spectators taking part in the fun.

Reasons for the Seals' loss were vague but it appeared that nobody was hurt.

Fain's Hit Wins
In the afternoon show, Fain won the ball game for San Francisco, tripling down the left field foul line to score Ted Jennings from first and give Lefty O'Doul's tribe a 2 to 1 victory.

Sam Beard's single and Jack Angle's steal home won the opening game 7 to 3 for San Diego over the Seattle Rainiers, and the Padres returned to take the evening's nightcap 8 to 4.

Los Angeles took both games of a doubleheader from Hollywood, 5 to 3 and 8 to 4, before 17,770 fans.

Beavers Divide
The Portland Beavers split a doubleheader with the Sacramento Solons, taking the first game 2 to 1 and dropping the nightcap, 5 to 3. Harvey Storey's home run won the first game for the Solons with three out-lets and a triple.

Saturday's scores: Oakland 4, San Francisco 1; Los Angeles 6, Hollywood 5; San Diego 5, Seattle (night); Portland 3, Sacramento 2 (night).

This week San Francisco plays at Portland, Sacramento at Oakland, San Diego at Hollywood and Los Angeles at Seattle.

Two Prelim Fights Set
Supporting cast of the Martinez-Angelo-Georges Dusette title match which will headline this week's wrestling card will be the three K's—Keston, Katonen and Kiser—plus Able Joe Lynam.

Both the supporting bouts will be of four rounds duration, while Thursday evening's main course will go on indefinitely until a finish.

In one of the prelims Bob Keston, Gold Hill's redoubtable ex-marine and veteran grappler, will meet the gun-tanned and slender Jack Kiser, who gets around to Klamath Falls just once in a moon or two.

The other warmup tiff will be between unreluctant Paavo Katonen, the man who admits having forgotten more rassing than most of the guys ever knew, and Joe Lynam, ex-Redmond athlete.

Those bouts will be by way of getting the canvas loosened up for the glory match between Angelo and Dusette, for which Dusette is not only fighting for a pared purse but has put up five hundred of his own iron men as a present to Martino.

The present is attendant upon Angelo's attendance, staking of his coast Junior heavyweight or 190-pound title and the no time limit specification.

Deer Discussion Up Tonight

All sportsmen, hunters, ranchers, foresters and anyone interested in Oregon's big game and their welfare are invited to attend a joint meeting of the Klamath Sportsmen's association and the Isaac Walton league to be held in the Willard hotel banquet room tonight at 8 o'clock.

The meeting, second joint session held by the gun and reel groups and open to the public, is sponsored tonight by the Klamath Sportsmen and Association. President Paul Winter will be master of ceremonies.

Subject of the conclave will be the Oregon-California migratory deer herd and problems of the winter range.

Expected to give their views of the controversial winter range topic are Don Fisher, custodian of the Lava Beds national monument, the area of the winter range, and George Fisher of the forestry service.

L. H. Douglas, also of the forestry service, and Ted Conn, Lakeview member of the state game commission, are also expected to be present.

After the meeting a Dutch lunch will be served.

Klamath Loses To Weed, 8-4

By HALE SCARBROUGH
The game played under Klamath protest from the sixth inning, the Klamath Sons took their first Northern California league defeat before an overflow crowd of home fans at Recreation field yesterday, losing to the Weed Sons, 8 to 4.

Righthander Jim Olsen, hurling for Klamath, was praying for a little luck and a hot day but got neither one. The day was cool with intermittent sunshine and clouds and Olsen's luck was mostly bad, except at the plate where he got two of Klamath's eight hits.

Weed took its margin by scoring one run in the second heat and three more in the third. Then the local lads came back into the game in the fourth with three scores. Weed counted again in the fifth, Klamath once in the sixth, and Weed again in the eighth twice and the ninth once.

The Sons were behind 3 to 3 in the last half of the sixth when Hi Hatfield, first man up, grounded to short and was safe on first when Ray Brown bobbled the ball. A pitch later Hatfield stole second clean and then Ernie Bishop walked.

Roy Wheeler, under the bunt sign, dropped a beauty down the first base line and dashed to first, leading the sacks. Then came a heated and lengthy discussion over whether the bunt was foul or fair, whether it hit the dirt in foul territory right at the plate and rolled fair, and at the end Wheeler was called back. The game was protested at that point.

Klamath's Final Run
Wheeler then bunted out and moved his runners up. Jack Durocha, leading the sacks, slipped to short and Brown made a nice stop but tumbled over and Hatfield scored for Klamath's final run.

A spark of life fell to the locals in the last of the ninth when with one out Bart Golbar doubled down the left field line. But he went out trying to take first on a passed ball. Jim Olsen fired a single into right for his second hit but was forced at second by Earl Brooks, ending the game.

Hidden Ball Trick
Jack Durocha, Klamath first baseman, pulled a nifty in the top of the ninth after Brown beat out a bunt. Durocha took the throw and palmed the ball, tagging Brown when he stepped off the base.

Jim Frussa, pitching for Weed, allowed the Klamaths only eight hits including doubles by Olsen and Golbar and a triple by Bishop. Weed's heavy slugging was done by Aldo Rossetto, who got a three-bagger; Elby Mazzoni, who got a triple and two singles, Dan Rocchi, a double, and Ray Bowers, two singles.

It was opening day for Klamath on newly-rebuilt Recreation field. Colors were raised by a marine ceremonial squad and the first ball was tossed out by Fred Robinson of the recreation committee on the mound and Police Chief Hamilton behind the plate.

The Elks are resting on top of the pile today with three wins and no losses, while Moose has two and none. Palmerton Lumber has two wins and one defeat.

In the lower division is the Knights of Columbus team with one and one; Ashley Chevrolet, no wins and two losses, and the Four Star Merchants with zero and three.

Joe Expects Fight To Go Full Length

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 10 (AP)—It would appear that after 10 years as champion and one month of training for what figures to be his toughest defense, Joe Louis has finally discovered there are 15 rounds in a title fight, and it may be a good idea to get ready for all 15 of them.

For the first time since he came down the pike to build the greatest heavyweight championship record in history, the Bomber boxed more than six rounds at a sitting, both Saturday and Sunday, as he polished up for his June 19th re-busting date with Billy Conn. Done it before.

He said it was "only because I feel real good." And it is in the books, too, that when he had to go 15 rounds in the past to keep his crown from being knocked off, he did it without having to call for help—notably against Tommy Farr and Arturo Godoy.

Yet, there is no doubt that during his drills, Joe has looked only slow—and calling him slow is giving him credit. Joe went on to his 35-year-old legs now, too. What's more, he has heard that Conn comes as close to looking like greased lightning as anyone can wearing 16-ounce gloves and silk panties. And while Farr and Godoy were nice fellows and good to their folks, neither is a Billy Conn in the art of getting round.

Annals of Good
After he finished, Louis got around to talking about Conn somewhat, even to admitting that he knows how he was behind in his conditioning when Billy took him almost to the end of his title run last time out.

"Billy was just a good lightweight-weight then," Joe went on, "now he's grow'd up into a good heavyweight."

"But I'm gonna beat him. I'm getting in shape for 15 rounds. If the change comes before then, of course, I think I'll take advantage of it."

Old Gene Sinks One

CLEVELAND, June 10 (AP)—A familiar dark horse charged into the national open golf picture today in the person of ageless Gene Sarazen, perennial ranking contender of America's golfing fraternity.

While the experts were trying to decide which section of the Hogan-Nelson-Snead triumvirate would grab goldfom's top 1946 prize, Sarazen boomed his national open shot yesterday by dropping a hole-in-one at Cleveland's Canterbury club.

Sarazen (further) startled the guess artists by flatly predicting that the national open golf championship at Canterbury would not be copped by the booming drives of Sammy Snead, the mechanical iron of Byron Nelson or the precision putting of Ben Hogan, the "mighty might" from Texas.

"This year's national open won't be won by Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Sammy Snead or any other golfer," Sarazen asserted under pressure of a steady tournament grind for several months, "I asserted the sharpshooting stylist in the 'plus-four' knickers."

"Some outsider who hasn't taken part in all these gruelling cross-country tours and has spent a week or so sizing up the Canterbury course and mastering its difficulties will win the 1946 open," Gene declared.

To prove his point, Sarazen stepped to the third tee, leveled his sights and waited a perfect moment for the shot which arched over a small pond and dropped into the cup 176 yards away.

Bend Staver Flashes To Win

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10 (AP)—Leading a field of 47 entrants, Gene Gillis, ex-marine from Bend, Ore., flashed across the finish line in 2:39 yesterday to win the annual Golden Rose Ski race championship on Mt. Hood's southern slope.

Gretchen Fraser, Sukaki, Ski club, Vancouver, Wash., won the women's event with a time of 3:03.4.

With visibility on the run cut to a few yards, only 30 of the entries finished the race. Sleet, snow and dense fog blanketed the entire course.

Bill Bowes, Cascade club entry and a western Canadian downhill-alum combine champion, was second with 2:58.2 in the men's senior.

The men's junior crown went to 17-year-old Art Schaefer, Portland, who checked in at 3:17.2 for the one and one-half miles of mountain-side racing from the 10,000-foot level of Hood's rough course.

Bill Cowan, Tyeve Sky runner, Vancouver, B. C., finished second in 3:49.2.

WSC Grid Great Signs Pro Paper
SPOKANE, June 10 (AP)—Al Akins, Washington State college sports great, has signed with the Cleveland Browns in the All-American pro-football circuit, the Chronicle said Saturday.

Akins was a four-sport star at WSC and as a naval trainee at the University of Washington played for the Huskies against Southern California in the 1944 Rose Bowl game.

Akins, a 185-pound speedster, expects to be discharged from the marines in July.

Craters Take 3-1 Win Over Tri-City
MEDFORD, June 10 (AP)—The Medford Craters defeated Tri-City of Canyonville, 3 to 1, in their Southern Oregon league baseball game here yesterday.

In an exhibition game Saturday night, the Craters defeated Roseburg, 6 to 4.

Portland Boy Gets West Bid
PORTLAND, June 10 (AP)—Gene Tansell, Portland, Jefferson high shortstop, will play in the west team at Chicago when all-American baseball teams meet at Wrigley field.

Tansell was named by Judges of the American Legion-sponsored game here Saturday in which Portland high All-stars defeated the Upstate baseball nine, 4 to 1.

The 155-pound Jefferson lad, who bats portside but throws right-handed, had five assists, one put-out and no errors in his field work and then stepped up to the plate for one hit in four trips.

Two other players who ranked high in the judging were Don Allen, Albany catcher, and Jack Dunn, Portland, Lincoln high outfielder. Honorable mentions were given Roland Johnson, Oregon City; Jim Eckstrom, Eugene, and Jack Jandereau, Ashland.

PCC Football Talks Begun At Victoria

By GAIL FOWLER
VICTORIA, B. C., June 10 (AP)—Pacific coast conference faculty representatives, graduate managers and coaches, went into session at 9:30 a. m. today, opening their annual June convalescence as secretive as usual.

They met last night to formulate an agenda for the meeting, then announced there was "nothing to disclose" concerning the items which will be up for discussion during the two or three days parley. However, it still was understood that matters to be threshed out included reinstatement of the round-robin football schedule for 1947-48-49; an earlier date for fall football turnouts; possible easing of the "purity code" restrictions; air travel for football teams, and the choice of a successor to Acting Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt.

Changes Discussed
While the professors are wrestling with matters of policy today, the coaches will be listening to Tommy Fitzpatrick of Oakland, Calif., discuss rules changes and interpretations.

Fitzpatrick disclosed that he would conduct five officiating schools during September—in Seattle, Spokane, the San Francisco bay area and at Los Angeles. He said he expected 150 to 200 officiating candidates to attend the schools.

Officials will work with school scrimmages for five-minute periods, after which they will be replaced with a new set of officials and the work of the preceding quartet will be the subject of criticisms.

Downfield Lateral
Among the rule changes Fitzpatrick will discuss today will be one which resulted from a Pacific coast conference recommendation last year. It concerns a downfield lateral which accidentally goes forward. The new penalty is five yards from the point of the fouled-up lateral, rather than loss of a down back at the line of scrimmage.

Sometime during the meeting, faculty men will listen to new proposals from coaches for an earlier start in order to field well-conditioned clubs which will, of necessity, have to bear comparison with the pro clubs.

The pros begin their fall seasons in August, and have nearly two months of conditioning before starting scheduled play.

One item at which the faculty has been balking is the "ham and eggs" aspect of earlier training. Although football is the big moneymaker for the schools, the professors hesitate to put out the training table meals for the additional pre-season period.

The difference between a blonde and a brunette quite often is a man.
