20-30 Club Will Play Host Here

On June 22 and 23 the local 20-30 club will be host to other clubs throughout the state when the northwest district convention will be held here.

The convention will be the first 20-30 club gathering of its kind since 1941. Some 30 delegates from various parts of the northwest are expected, in addition to a large number of club members who will come. Also expected to be here are the club's national officers.

On Saturday, June 22, a dinner dance for members and guests will be held at the Willard hotel, and on Sunday morning a breakfast meeting is slated. At the business session the local club's charter will be presented. Stewart Patty, 20-30 club president, is a candidate for the office of district governor. Elections and other business will be featured at the meeting.

General chairman for the convention is Bob Hall.

The local 20-30 club during the war years was inactive because most of its members were in the armed forces, but was reactivated about three months ago. Among its community projects recently have been sponsorship of the high school track meet in April, the senior A.J.F. Scout troop recently organized by the local Boy Scout organization, and the most recent venture, the city clean-up campaign. Other local service clubs are joining in sponsorship of the clean-up undertaking.

Returns—Mr. and Mrs. George Reed, 1125 Walnut, and Mrs. A. W. Jackson, returned yesterday from Portland where they attended the Rose Festival. They also visited relatives in Richfield, Wash., during the trip.

Speaker—Rev. John Harrington, director of religious education at Lewis and Clark college in Portland, will speak at the morning service Sunday, at the First Presbyterian church, 6th and Pine.

Autoist Finds Tire Snatched

H. C. Gilbert of route 2 has reported to city police that a spare tire was stolen from the rear of his car while it was parked in the downtown area yesterday.

The car was parked on S. 9th between Walnut and Klamath at 2:30 yesterday afternoon and when Gilbert returned shortly after 4 p. m., the tire was gone.

Harold R. Skinner, San Diego, posted $5 bail for a violation of the basic rule after he was arrested for driving 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on Oregon.

Jahn A. Moore, Bohney cabins, was cited to appear in court for running a stop sign at Upham and Prospect and Fred Moreland, Klamath Falls, paid $5 for running a red light at 6th and Klamath.

As a result of the strict surveillance now being made over the downtown parking areas by a patrolman in a three-wheel motorcycle, 35 parking tickets, the majority of them for overtime parking, were paid this morning. Three cars were towed into the station and tow charges added to the parking fines.

Six drunks, three disorderlies, one vagrant and one drunk and disorderly appeared in police court this morning.

Commission Against Dam At The Dalles

PORTLAND, June 12 (AP)—The Oregon fish commission opposes the proposed Columbia river dam at The Dalles. The commission said at yesterday's meeting here that Bonneville dam has already caused great loss to fish life and that a higher dam at The Dalles would virtually eliminate the industry.

Today Is Circus Day in Klamath Falls

Long before Klamath Falls residents had enjoyed their toast and coffee this morning, the big Clyde Beatty Trained Wild Animal circus, aboard its own mile-long train of double-length steel railroad cars, steamed into town coming from Alturas over the Southern Pacific line.

The big show, here for a one day visit, is exhibiting at the South 6th and Division street grounds, at 2:30 and 8 p. m., with doors opening at 1 and 7 o'clock.

The hundreds of people with the circus as well as the elephants, prize blooded horses, and the congress of rare animals in the show's menagerie were greeted by youngsters of all ages at the railroad sidings this morning.

No sooner had the gay string of sleepers, stock and flat cars been spotted at the street crossing for unloading, than the haul to the circus grounds began. Teams of harnessed elephants as well as tractors immediately started towing cages and baggage wagons along the ramps and into the clear, and before the last railroad car was emptied of its fascinating freight, canvas crews were erecting a magic city of gleaming white tents at the show grounds.

Featuring the world-famous Clyde Beatty who shakes dice with death twice daily in battling 40 ferocious, savage, blood-thirsty lions and tigers in the big steel cage, the 1946 performance is ultra modern, yet "circusy" to the core.

Beatty presents another wild animal act of her own conception in which a ferocious Royal Bengal Tiger is made to ride atop a giant Asiatic elephant and later jump through a blazing hoop.

Adhering to every big top tradition, Clyde Beatty and his staff have skillfully blended an avalanche of circusdom's foremost features into a refreshingly new sequence of up-to-the-minute entertainment, highlighted by exciting music, frolicsome merriment, and flamboyant coloring.

An impressive array of top-flight attractions make up the gigantic 1946 program in which scores upon scores of world-renowned circus stars participate.

Prominent among the multitude of alluresments in the arena and in the air are the Flying Concellos whose breath-taking exploits on the flying trapeze have been the toast of two continents; the Sensational DeWaynes, whirlwind acrobats, formerly featured by Rudy Vallee in his U. S. Coast Guard revue; Don Francisco, unrivaled and amazingly versatile genius of the slackwire; and the Great Oliveras, high perch artists of exceptional daring.

Additional thrills are provided by the Seigris, Escalante, and Sleetor troupes of aerial marvels; Jack Joyce, America's foremost master of equitation, and his superb troupes of high school and liberty horses; Senior Phil Escalante, Latin American daredevil of the silver strand; a fantastically beautiful new all-girl Cloud Ballet exemplifying grace and precision at lofty heights; Morales' educated canines and military ponies; tons of peerless performing elephants in new routines and maneuvers; and a host of other circus champions together with Kenneth Waite's convulsing convention of clowns.

Col. Swigart To Hold Sale

Latest to offer his services to the Red Cross auction sale, slated for July 14, is Col. Swigart, local auctioneer, who has offered to conduct the sale and has contributed a Jersey heifer calf to be auctioned.

Merchandise orders from local retail stores continue to come in for the sale.

A donation has also been received from John H. Pearce, 725 Owens, who has added to the list of articles to be sold, a hot water tank, heating stove, and a window. People throughout the county are urged to contact Frank Hurd, at telephone 7802, or Otto Smith, chairman of the local Red Cross, if they have something to donate to the sale, all proceeds of which will go to the Red Cross.
