

New Strike Threatened By Bridges

SEATTLE, June 19 (AP)—Charging that the contract signed several months ago by Tacoma's AFL-affiliated International Longshoremen's association was a "large obstacle" in the CMU (CIO) negotiations, Harry Bridges, co-leader of the CMU declared yesterday his longshoremen will strike September 30 if a satisfactory contract is not signed by that deadline.

He said the Tacoma agreement was "the worst longshore agreement in the nation," and described it as a "company union—a complete sell-out."

Arriving here from New York, Bridges asserted "there'll be no more stalling. If there's no contract, there'll be no work. No more of this business of working while negotiations are stalled along after agreements have expired."

Query on Tie-up
Asked if a nationwide shipping tie-up by the seven unions in the CMU is certain if the Longshoremen's and Engineers association demands are not met, he asserted:

"I can't speak now for all the unions in the CMU in future action of this kind, but there's no doubt in my mind that we'll get 100 per cent support. The CMU is here to stay."
"We learned from bitter experience that labor has no friends in the Truman administration," he continued, "with possible exception of the secretary of labor. And we learned all about government fact-finding boards. Any labor unions or labor leaders caught within a mile of any fact-finding boards should have their heads examined."

"The CMU will strike every time before allowing its members to be enticed by fact-finding boards. These boards are sugar-coated, concealed, compulsory arbitration—against unions and for employers."

Bridges was to talk to two union meetings here about the recent negotiations over the threatened maritime strike before leaving for Portland to-night or Thursday.

Gambler Plans Casino Afloat

LOS ANGELES, June 19 (AP) Law enforcement officials were thumping through law books and scratching their heads today as Tony Cornero Stralla completed his announced plans to open his offshore gambling ship, the SS Lux, a former seaplane tender.

Gov. Earl Warren, U. S. Sen. William F. Knowland, State Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kenny and local officials all have declared war on the plan to operate gambling off the California coast again.

One possibility was proposed by Governor Warren, who suggested that persons returning by water taxi from the Lux might be placed under quarantine and forced to submit to examinations to determine if they were carrying any communicable disease.

While the officials mulled it over, Cornero was installing 200 bathroom fixtures to conform with a federal ruling requiring one such convenience for each 18 passengers on a licensed vessel.

Schwollenbachs Visit at Juneau

JUNEAU, Alaska, June 19 (AP) After a brief visit here, Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwollenbach and his wife continued on toward Skagway late yesterday. They are to return here southbound Friday.

The labor secretary and Mrs. Schwollenbach, both still asserting they are on a vacation trip, were greeted by Territorial Secretary Lew Williams, Labor Commissioner Walter P. Sharpe, and Mrs. Ernest Gruening, wife of the governor. During the afternoon, Schwollenbach conferred with Sharpe.
