The chapter closed its 57th annual session with this ceremonial.

The Crater lake theme was a tribute to the new worthy grand matron, Mrs. Lorena McNair of Ashland. Mrs. McNair's own chapter, Alpha No. 1, the oldest chapter in the state, sent 69 members to Portland for Thursday's installation, 29 of them participating in a "Lithia Bubble fountain" drill in her honor.

Honoring Cecil H. Greene, the new worthy grand patron, Friendship chapter, Portland, 24 members of his chapter presented a "Red Heart" drill in which they carried heart-shaped hoops covered with roses.

For those who have never been able to use cream rouge, Jacqueline Cochran Chroma-blend—the new and different individually blended powder base — is the answer. And of course, that's only one of the outstanding qualities of the new, individually blended Jacqueline Cochran powder and powder base that we've been demonstrating this past week.

These twin blends — powder and base — are the key to a lovely life-like glow for any skin. The base will blot out excessive color in florid skin or enhance to a lively color the subdued tones of a sallow skin. Each has to be blended for the individual, of course, and we invite you to come in and let us do just that.

• • •

The Jacqueline Cochran individually blended powder may be used with or without the powder base. The base assists the powder to cling to your face all day . . . or used alone, the powder will give a youthful glamorous sheen.

• • •

I'll have more to say about Jacqueline Cochran later, but in the mean time, please come in and see for yourself.

Chen Yu's 'Sun Red' made its debut on CURRIN'S shelves the other day . . . As you might guess, this brand new Chen Yu shade is meant to compliment that bronze glow you've been trying to acquire. . .

"Sun Red" is a brilliant, vivacious red with brown undertones . . . an eyecatching shade about which Connie Baert and I were enthusiastic.

It comes in both lipstick and nail polish . . . You can buy the polish accompanied by a small bottle of laqueroil for 75 cents . . . or a set of lipstick and polish at $1.75.

Then, too, there are "Sun Burst" sets which are attractively boxed . . . and contain three shades of polish, a generous size of laqueroil and emory boards and orange sticks. These sets are priced at $2.50.

All prices plus tax, naturally.

Remember that CURRIN'S for Drugs . . . corner of Ninth and Main . . . carries a complete supply of popular Chen Yu products.

Brunch Coats . . .

yes, LaPOINTE'S has just received some! Which is good news for a lot of gals, I'm sure . . . because these short housecoats have proved themselves one of the most practical bits of wearing apparel milady can own. The brunch coats at La POINTE'S are especially attractive, too. They come in two materials . . . seersucker (practicality, plus!) . . . and crisp pique . . . with a wide, puckered wasteband . . . sort of dirndl effect . . . making them fit snuggly. No resemblance, coincidental or otherwise, to a flour sack!

And such vivid colors! Even the prospect of a Monday wash shouldn't be half so appalling if you're wearing one . . . Stripes—wide ones and thin ones—prevail in the design. In several color combinations . . . blue and yellow . . . rose and aqua . . . chartreuse . . . and red. I felt "cheered up" just looking at them!

You'll find these brunch coats in sizes 10 to 16 . . . and they're so reasonably priced at $8.95 . . . at LaPOINTE'S . . . 507 Main.

A Fourth Holiday!

The Klamath Association of Beauty Shop Owners and Operators announced this week that the following shops will be closed July 4, 5, and 6 . . . to give beauticians a chance to enjoy the Fourth of July holiday. These are the shops that will close their doors for the holiday: AUDREY'S BEAUTY SALON, 1110 Main; BEAUTY NOOK, 133 N. 4th; ELSIE'S BEAUTY SHOP, 809 East Main; HASTING'S BEAUTY SHOP, 1215 Main; HELEN'S BEAUTY SHOP, 4056 Shasta way; HOUSTON BEAUTY SALON, 114 N. 8th; IRMA'S BEAUTY SHOP, 1124 East Main.

Sun Backers . . .

Taking a cue from this summer's vogue for sun back dresses, WHYTAL'S this week received a small shipment of cool looking butcher linens . . . ideal outfits for the scorching days ahead. (No, Martha isn't making any weather predictions!)

These dresses are almost classically designed . . . with their slim skirts and clever cross-draped tops. Two large buttons attached at the waistline provide the only ornamentation. Very smart looking! And they come in colors which will laugh at soaring temperatures . . . white, melon . . . and a lovely aqua which particularly caught my eye. Or if you prefer stripes to plain colors . . . that, too, can be arranged . . . in aqua or melon.

One of the nicest things about these dresses is their price . . . $8.30 . . . They come in sizes 9 to 17.

WHYTAL'S is on the corner of Main and Ninth.

• • •

They're back! Once again you'll soon be finding lovely solid brass door-knockers in authentic reproductions of Colonial designs. Available in heavy, sturdy models for the front door of your home, they may also be had in lighter, daintier styles for use on the doors of bedroom or study.

Chocolate Syrup . .

strictly of the yum-yum variety . . . arrived at the PINE STREET MARKET this week. It's called Tip Top syrup and Roy Eastburn says that it's the first stock of chocolate syrup he's had in many a moon. (A word of warning . . . Sherlock Martha noticed that the supply was fast diminishing!)

So if you've been racking your brains as to what-to-serve-the-family-for dessert, Tip Top chocolate syrup should be welcome news. Delicious chocolate sundaes, milkshakes . . . there are innumerable ways you can put it to work!

Remember, too, that the PINE STREET MARKET carries a complete supply of Crater Lake ice creams . . . in pints, quarts, and bricks.

Something else I noticed while roaming around the market . . . which should provide another answer to a housewife's prayers . . . was a stock of a new cleaner, Boon. Sounds appropriately named! Boon is available in quart size priced at 25 cents and in a whopping half gallon size selling at 45 cents.

The PINE STREET MARKET, as you know, is on the corner of Seventh and Pine. Don't forget that customers now have the convenience of four deliveries daily.

Something new under the small-fry sun, I've heard, is a soft, play-worthy little doll of many moods. Simply push a button concealed behind "baby's" blond curls, and the doll obligingly smiles, cries or sleeps. 'Twould make any child's birthday memorable!

Snow White . . .

and the Seven Dwarfs . . . in figurines of highly colored, glazed pottery . . . are among the newies at YOUR STORE, Inc. . . . 721 Main. All those storied Walt Disney characters . . . that children adore . . . lovely Snow White, the inimitable Doc, Grumpy, Bashful, Sleepy, Happy, Sneezy, and the comical Dopey . . . are represented in this group . . . along with Pinocchio and the beloved Pluto . . . at YOUR STORE.

'T Ain't So!

While having my hair 'coifed' at the STUDIO of BEAUTY yesterday . . . Fern Short was telling me some awfully interesting things about the beauty shop industry. I think you'll be interested in them, too . . . so I'll pass on a short resume of what Fern told me.

The beauty shop industry is comparatively young . . . and is constantly trying to improve its standards. In this connection, it's starting a campaign to discourage what it terms "false advertising" . . . for instance, a headline which screams "Special! Guaranteed Permanent Waves, Were $7.50, Now $1.98." There isn't any such animal! During the war, however, the industry had few, if any, troubles of this sort . . . and it is determined that this should continue.

The only "guarantee" for a permanent wave is the integrity of the beauty shop and the skill of the individual operator . . . so it's up to you to choose your beautician with care.

The STUDIO of BEAUTY is located on the mezzanine floor of the Medical-Dental building . . . Ninth and Main streets.

so ingeniously designed and so sleek looking you'll be wearing them for lots of "dress-up" occasions this summer . . . were unpacked this week at LONG'S. Excuse, please, if I rave about them. All of these frocks are "Pat Premo" fashions . . . made from a Bates fabric . . . a fine, "cultured" cotton.

One style . . . a black background print . . . has red roses scattered in the material. The skirt is designed to give a redingote effect . . . and is trimmed with delicate lace . . . as are the collar and sleeves. This also comes in a brown and green combination.

One adorable number has a square neck and a full tiered skirt. It is printed with novel surrealistic figures . . . and comes in a dusty rose or aqua.

A picture pretty, lace-trimmed frock of black has a clever long peplum and round neckline appliqued with small leaves.

Sun worshippers will love the backless styles . . . complete with bolero jackets . . . I saw at LONG'S. One, a black print, has a gored skirt and is trimmed with fagoting. Buttoning up the front . . . it has a flared peplum in back.

Another has a peplumed jacket, square neckline with a wide cuff . . . in colorful stripes of gold or aqua. All come in a good size range . . . at LONG'S, . . . 719 Main.

GREENE says he'll be available for lawn work again real soon now . . . and you can make an appointment with him through Box 404, Tulelake . . . phone 5063, Klamath Falls . . . or leave word at Kerns Implement Co.

To bring last year's suit up to date, add bright taffeta scarves for neckline excitement, but make them climb up your throat like a Dandy's to achieve that bravado Beau Brummel look.
