Plans for the program to be given at the Red Cross auction, July 14, at the fairgrounds, are nearing completion although the final announcement regarding the entertainment will be made later.

A number of merchants have donated merchandise orders to the auction, and others who are interested are asked to contact Otto Smith, head of the Klamath county chapter of the Red Cross or Frank Hurd, telephone 7802.

Those merchants who have contributed merchandise orders are the Home Lumber and Supply company, Emil's food stores, Swan Lake Molding, Suburban Lumber company, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Cascade Laundry, Jantley's of 1330 California, H. H. Hurdley's of 1330 California, has added to the list of articles to be auctioned, a wood furnace, and a wood heater has been contributed by R. W. Van Duker of 1224 Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Higley have agreed to manage the concession at the sale and are donating their time and equipment. Supplies for the concession will be furnished by various local packers, bakeries, and bottling plants. The Highleys will need seven or eight people to help them in managing the concession on the day of the sale, and anyone interested in giving his time is requested to contact Smith or Hurd.

In the princess contest an unmarried girl in the county is urged to enter. The girl chosen will rule over the day's activities after her name is announced the day of the sale. Contestants must furnish their own horses and be judged by the Klamath Saddle club on both personality and horsemanship. Girls of any age may enter. The contest award will be a complete western riding outfit from Town Shop.

Funeral For Child Held In Lakeview
LAKEVIEW, June 22—Funeral services were held at St. Patrick's church Friday at 10 a. m. for little Maryann Lemke, 11-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemke of Corvallis, Ore., who died Tuesday in Doernbecher hospital in Portland. The Rev. F. L. Gies, pastor of St. Patrick's church, officiated and interment was in Sunset Park cemetery.

Maryann, who was ill about two weeks before her death, was born July 7, 1945. Her mother was formerly public health nurse in Lake county.

Calling All Men
This is not the day of a warless world. For more than 2000 years there have been wars and rumors of war, as foretold by Christ. This is not the age when wars are to fade out. This is the age of the Great Call. God is now calling all men to turn from sin and trust in Christ as having died for their sins.

When the last man has turned to fill out God's roll-call of the redeemed, the curtain is to drop on this age and Christ is to return and set up the warless world.

CALLING ALL MEN—As a father seeks his own who have strayed away, so God is now calling all men to warm to his love. Christ died for your sins. Name your sins as blotted out, settled for and receive Christ into your heart. God then counts you cleared and He then sets to work to build you up into the likeness of Christ Himself. God would give you grace to live godly here and now and He would raise you up to glory on Resurrection Morn. Yes—He that spared not His own Son but delivered Him up for us all, how shall He not also with Him, freely give us all things? Settle it that Christ's death for your sins cleared you, receive Him as your Saviour, then live by the Bible and look to Christ for the strength. So you prove the new life and man God the giver of hope fill your heart with joy and peace because you to trust in Him.

Air Trip Ends In Bus Travel

Marshall Cornett, Phil Hitchcock and John Houston, members of the Klamath chamber of commerce committee next to Portland to protest the Western Air Lines case, were held up by weather at Redmond on the way back.

Phil Hitchcock, piloting the plane, said that the weather was building up at Redmond, and the trio decided to land to avoid trouble. Weather prevented their going in at Redmond and the plane was landed at Sisters, 20 miles away for the night.

Minor motor trouble developed at Portland at the start of the trip, causing one stop, and showed up again at Redmond. The plane was left at Sisters to avoid possible damage to a new motor until a check could be made. The three men returned to Klamath Falls by bus, the Cornett and Houston arriving on Thursday and Hitchcock last night.

Stephenson Rites Held In Lakeview

LAKEVIEW, June 22—Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Elks lodge for George A. Stephenson, prominent Lakeview timberman, who succumbed at the Lakeview hospital to Rocky Mountain spotted fever. The Rev. H. N. Tragitt Jr., pastor of the St. Luke's Episcopal church officiated, and interment was in Sunset Park cemetery.

Stephenson operated in the timber business in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota before coming west, and before the turn of the century was engaged in timber cruising along the northern Minnesota border country, where he once owned the site of the town of Orr between Duluth and the Canadian border. He also worked briefly on the old wooden iron ore docks on the north shore of Lake Superior at Two Harbors.

Born in Monticello, Maine, on September 29, 1875, he moved with his parents as a child to Marinette, Wisconsin, where he attended grade schools and later St. John's Military academy at Delafield, Wisconsin. Later he attended the University of Pennsylvania where he graduated in 1908. While there he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, a three-year letter man in football and rowing. He was a member of the University of Pennsylvania crew team in the Poughkeepsie regatta in 1897 and 1898.

Back to West
Stephenson came to the northwest in 1905 as a lumberman and woodman. The following year he decided to go back east, but a few months in the midwest, including a blizzard in Chicago, and he packed his suitcase to return to the west.

In 1910 he married Myrtle Lee Smith in Portland, Oregon. They have one son, Robert L. Stephenson, who was recently given his certificate of service from the marine corps and is now residing in Austin, Texas.

Following two years in the lumber business in California, he engaged in his life-long profession at various periods of time in Coos Bay, New York, Los Angeles, Klamath Falls, and came to Lakeview in the spring of 1924.

Sociologist Flays Removal Of Japs
PORTLAND, June 22 (AP)—Dr. Daniel Bell, University of Chicago sociologist, declared last night the removal of Japanese-Americans from their west coast homes was "both criminal and stupid."

"There was neither a legal nor a moral right for such action," he told the Northwest Institute of International Relations.

He said the nation's treatment of conscientious objectors was better in World War II than in the First World War.

4-H Clubs Continue Demonstration Work
CORVALLIS, June 22 (AP)—The 1800 Oregon youths attending the 4-H club summer school continued demonstration work today after hearing a promise of expanded 4-H exhibits this fall.

Heavy Rains Bring City Flash Flood

The temperature hitting 82 in the afternoon and dropping into the 40s last night.

Many Incidents
Incidents in the storm were numerous and some were humorous. Cecil Fitzgerald, roofer residing at 1734 Crescent, was struck by lightning while working on a roof downtown late in the afternoon before the rain started.

He was on the roof and started to reach for the ladder to go down when C. R. Young, his partner, saw an electrical flame shoot half a foot out from his hand, but Fitzgerald had only a headache and stiff feeling to show for his narrow escape.

Potatoes and grain in the flats north of town were battered considerably but the larger plants are coming out of the wreckage pretty well. Gardens in many areas were completely ruined.

A housewife on Mt. Pitt reports a new garden cut down flat and one on Orchard found corn kernels planted yesterday lying on the ground this morning.

Pheasants Killed
Out at Moore park about 30 young pheasants were killed by hail-driven trees and the larger ones stripped and about all of 5000 young plants killed. In a pasture on Lakeshore several horses belonging to a riding stable were caught out in the storm and nearly ran themselves wild trying to escape the pounding.

Fruit trees on Lakeshore were picked clean and other trees stripped of leaves just like an autumn shed.

Out in Poe valley there was very little wind but high winds broke limbs off trees. A driver caught a mile east of Merrill reported visibility cut to zero by swirling dust and there was some rain at Merrill.

Here in town at the Main street underpass water stood a foot deep and the motors of eight cars splashing through were drowned out. At 7th and Pine, water filling a manhole and hitting the steam pipes formed a virtual steam geyser.

Curb-Deep
Water was standing curb-deep on almost every corner in the business district at 8:15, but by 7 o'clock had drained off.

Copco service crews were working most of the night repairing damage and almost every line in town and south to Tulelake was down at some time because of the wind and lightning. Surges of lightning punctured the coils at generators in both the east side and west side plants and many poles here and south of town were blown down. The lines north to Chiloquin and Crater lake were not bothered.

By midnight all power lines were cleared but crews are working today repairing the damage. Service crews reported that beyond Olene and above Algoma the pavement didn't even get wet.

Fire Call
The telephone company had a few drops wet and out for a while but no serious trouble. KFPA answered one fire call to a lightning-started blaze on the Klamath-Jackson county line just over the California border and ran across another small one just inside Oregon. Lookouts reported visibility down to zero.

This morning, with clearing skies here, KFPA lookouts report slight winds, overcast and fair visibility at Parker mountain, Chase mountain and Sycan

Shortage Of Fresh Meat Hits Nation

By The Associated Press
Fresh meat, hard to get in wartime with rationing in effect, has virtually vanished from most of the nation's peacetime dinner tables.

With slaughtering operations of most of the big packers at a historic low level, the shortage of fresh meat supplies is general throughout the country.

One meat packing industry spokesman said the consumer supply of meat in legitimate channels was lower than at any time in history.

Most of the packing plants, large and small, maintain skeleton working crews. Many plants have closed. Butcher shops in many cities remain closed two or three days a week.

All-Time Low
Business at the big packing plants in Chicago and Kansas City, the nation's two largest meat centers, is at an all-time low.

Since Monday Chicago packers reported slaughtering less than 4000 cattle, the lowest in history and compared to more than 20,000 head the same days last year.

Armour, one of the biggest packers, has not slaughtered a beef animal this week. Operating at capacity, the cattle slaughtering department could slaughter 220 animals an hour. The company, which had an average daily slaughter of 3789 hogs last year and 7607 through 1944, obtained 16 hogs on yesterday's market.

Reports from cities across the country were about the same—very small supplies of meat.

The agriculture department in Washington and Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles have said that farmers are withholding meat animals, anticipating possible higher prices. Bowles added there would be plenty of meat after the OPA issue is settled.

Dick Johns Elected By Lakeview Lions
LAKEVIEW, June 22—At the last meeting of the Lions club Dick Johns was elected president of the organization for the coming year, and will succeed Walt Sandquist, who did a fine job of piloting the club the past season.

Other officers named for the coming year were Robert Welch, first vice president; Scott Clevenger, secretary; G. D. Honnold, treasurer; Dr. B. H. Franklin, tail twister, and William Strong, lion tamer. The board of directors will be composed of Art Fish, Randal McCain, Al McCabe, Glen Shaver and the above named officers.

butte, but Yainix butte lookout is fogged in.

The most damage was done to gardens, tomatoes, onion patches, strawberries, fruit trees and young spuds in the northern section, and at Lakeshore there were still hailstones on the pavement this morning. During the blow at Shippington gardens were covered up and lightning blew out a motor at the mill.

Western Air Reopens Case

were not surprised at the Western Airlines move for re-opening the CAB case. They stated this is routine procedure.

Whether it will hold up the beginning of United service to Klamath Falls is not certain, but it is hoped here that will not be the case. Western vied with United for the Klamath service, but was denied its application by CAB.

In the last few days, Klamath interests have succeeded in preventing Portland, Seattle and San Francisco groups from supporting Western's efforts to re-open the case, unless it can be done without delaying the start of United service to Klamath Falls.

"I am unable to explain the arrest," Sexton said.
