

Baseball Comes To Aid Crushed Spokane Outfit

SPOKANE, June 26 (AP)—Organized baseball opened its heart today to help reconstruct the Spokane Indians baseball team, slashed to three active players Monday night when a bus crash carried eight to their deaths and injured seven other players and the driver.

Offers of player help came not only from the B league Western International circuit where Spokane was battling to rise from fifth place but from major and minor leagues across the nation.

The president of the Western International league, Robert B. Abel of Tacoma, was to arrive in Spokane today to discuss invoking an emergency rule to recruit players from other clubs and enable Spokane to finish its season.

Owner Sam W. Collins, directing the Indians for the first time this year, was too busy assisting relatives of victims to plan a resumption of play immediately. He was determined, though, to finish the season because "the boys themselves would want the game continued."

Collins was encouraged to try again by a wire from Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league, who promised "every possible effort" to send players and help locate a new manager if necessary.

President W. G. Bramham of the National Association of Minor Leagues also offered all help possible.

President Clarence Rowland of the Pacific Coast league said in Los Angeles he had urged coast teams to option surplus players to the Indians.

William H. Klepper, Portland's general manager, said the Beavers and all other coast clubs would "lend a hand" in reconstruction, and Spokane's opponents in the Western International circuit were reviewing their rosters to decide what players to lend the Indians.

Spokane will not attempt to compete at least until July 4, though other league teams will resume play tonight.

When reorganization of the team begins, Collins will start with three uninjured men—Pitchers Milt Cadinha and Joe Faria, who drove to the coast in a private automobile and escaped the crash, and infielder Fred Laniero, optioned to Spokane by San Diego just before the tragedy.

The other was Pitcher George Lyden, 22, of Tensed, Idaho. He played with Spokane in 1942, then later was on a navy team in Memphis, Lyden died of his injuries yesterday morning.

All the players killed were young fellows, the oldest being Pitcher Robert E. Kinnaman, 27, of Brooklyn, Wash. He started out this season with the Oakland Oaks but was released to Spokane.

First Baseman Vic Picetti, 18 years old and a San Francisco boy, was an Oakland chattel and was considered about the most promising youngster in coast baseball last season.

Manager Mel Cole, who also caught, was just 25; Second Baseman Marty Martinez of San Diego was 24, Outfielder Robert James was 24 and Outfielder Robert Paterson was 22. Paterson, incidentally, also spent some time with the Oaks this season.

Spokane games with Bremerton and Yakima scheduled for this week and next have been cancelled but Sam W. Collins, owner of the Spokane club, expects a meeting of the directors of the Western International league will be called in the next three or four days to see what can be done about providing players for Spokane.

The Indians are currently in fifth place in the league, having a record of 31 wins and 25 defeats, and are five and a half games back of Salem in first place.

Bob Kinnaman, one of the boys killed in the bus plunge, beat Salem 7-5 in a relief-pitching job Saturday night, a game which Mel Cole caught.

'Wrong Side' Driver
Survivors of the crash have placed the blame for the holocaust on an unidentified car which was on the wrong side of the road on Snoqualmie Pass highway.

Levi McCormack, injured outfielder, said that he saw the lights of the car coming on the wrong side of the road, and that the bus swerved or skidded in and through the guard-rail to avoid hitting the other car. McCormack was quoted as saying, "I don't know why we didn't smash the other driver. It might have been better."

Stankovich TKOs Seattle Boxer
SEATTLE, June 26 (AP)—Mike Stankovich of Fresno, Calif., scored a ninth round technical knockout over Johnny Wells of Seattle in the main event of a fight card here last night.

Other results included: Manuel James, 159, Denver, scored a fourth round technical knockout over Ron Whalley, Vancouver, B. C.
Freddie Steele, Vancouver, B. C., 131, won a six-round decision over Paul Cook, 130, Tacoma.

Duke Harris, 137, Bremerton, won a four-round non-over Toughie Wilson, 132, Tacoma.

Hot Jockey Boots Home 22 Winners in 38 Mounts

SEATTLE, June 26 (AP)—Maritime delegates from all over the world will be guests today at Longacres race track, where they'll see perhaps the hottest thing on a horse since the invention of the horse blanket.

At least, 23-year-old Walt Litzenberg is the hottest jockey seen on the Longacres oval in its 13 years of racing.

In the first seven days of the 58-day meet, Litzenberg has ridden 22 winners, placed four times, showed three times and finished out of the money nine times for his 38 mounts.

The form players have been taking a licking, and now they're taking their cue from those fans who just run an index finger down the right hand column of the race program looking for the name "W. Litzenberg." Their finger then goes over to the left hand column listing the post position, and then they head for the sellers' windows.

Some of the track officials are making fearful grabs at their receding hairlines because of Litzy the Blitz's sensational streak. His name in the lists has sent odds down to 3-5 and 4-5 on nags which ordinarily wouldn't figure. An instance came in last Sunday's feature race, when he brought Larry Kidd's My Empire from last to first in a mile and a sixteenth race to win by a lip and pay $11 on the horn to beat the lines of the top-notch Canadians, Mouse Hole and Pagan Star, and the American Last Roll.

Somebody hit the charts to figure out that betting Litzenberg the first seven days with nothing but $2 noers would have returned $105.10, which is pretty fair pickings.

Strange thing about the Wapato, Wash., flash is that he never rode a horse up to nine months ago.

Phyllis equalled men's par at 37 for the first nine and was one under women's par at the Wankoda club for the 12 holes she was to eliminate Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., 7 and 6, in the first round yesterday. She wasn't sure she could do a repeat performance against the Babe.

She confided, "I bet she'd like to cut my throat."

Little Phyllis meant it in fun, of course, as she discussed Mrs. Zaharias' desire for revenge.

Both bouts will be four rounds in the lightweight division. In what is temporarily listed as the curtain-raiser, Bobby Barney of Sprague River will meet a newcomer to the local ring, Bobby Hancock, Barney last week was the victim of a kayo by Don Reynolds in the initial canto of their scheduled four-round opener when he rested during a count after being knocked down and failed to get to his feet in time.

The second bout will put Don Reynolds up against Herbert Snell of Sprague River. Snell last week pounded out a four-stanza decision over Paul Wilson in one of the most popular fights on the card.

Aviation engineers are predicting that, within the next three years, jet propulsion will be used as standard equipment in cargo and transport planes. Jet engines will be smaller than air-cooled units of today, but will develop from 6000 to 7000 horsepower.

Chapman Is Cinch For Some Honor

Phillies Now Only One Game From Top Half; Decision Cards, 5-3

By The Associated Press
Ben Chapman, the "fall guy" who took on the thankless job of managing the Phillies a year ago, is a solid bet to be named manager of the year in the National league—even if his team winds up in the basement.

Winning 18 of their last 24 games and moving from eighth place to sixth, only one game out of the first division, rates as a minor miracle for the club that holds the all-time record for finishing last.

Philadelphia has taken the Phils to its heart and last night's 5-3 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals was the latest reason for jubilation.

Brooklyn Battered
The Cardinals had a chance to pick up a game, for Brooklyn had been battered by Cincinnati, 15-3, earlier in the day. John Hetki scattered 10 Dodger hits while Ray Mueller smashed two homes and Ed Lukon collected five blows off an assortment of Brooklyn throwers. Starter Les Webber was the loser.

Pittsburgh staggered out of the basement behind Nick Strincevich, who scored his first win of the year, a four-hit 3-0 whitewash of the New York Giants, who now bring up the rear in the National.

Chicago's Cubs stopped Boston's five-game win streak, 7-3, to the dismay of 34,331 fans. Claude Passeau went the route to decision, 6-4, and Sam Zoldak outpitched three Athletic hurlers to give the St. Louis Browns a 7-2 night verdict over Philadelphia. Two homers by Chet Laabs and one by Walt Judnich were the big blows.

Bill Dietrich suffered a broken finger when hit by a line drive off Cecil Travis' bat as Chicago downed Washington, 6-4, and Sam Zoldak outpitched three Athletic hurlers to give the St. Louis Browns a 7-2 night verdict over Philadelphia. Two homers by Chet Laabs and one by Walt Judnich were the big blows.

Tex Hughson's second straight shutout was the big news in the American where Boston stretched its lead to 7½ games by blanking Detroit, 1-0, while New York bowed to Cleveland's Bobby Feller, 8-3.

Spokane Tragedy

George Lyden

As it happened, although the Spokane Indians were heavy with former service men, only two of the eight ballplayers killed in the disastrous bus crash were ex-Gis.

One was shortstop George R. Risk, 25, of Hillsboro, Ore., who played three years of army baseball with a team at Salt Lake City and who prior to his army service played ball for Pacific university, Forest Grove, Ore.

The other was Pitcher George Lyden, 22, of Tensed, Idaho. He played with Spokane in 1942, then later was on a navy team in Memphis, Lyden died of his injuries yesterday morning.

All the players killed were young fellows, the oldest being Pitcher Robert E. Kinnaman, 27, of Brooklyn, Wash. He started out this season with the Oakland Oaks but was released to Spokane.

Montana Girl Golfer Paired With Rucker

TACOMA, June 26 (AP)—Miss Edean Anderson, Montana state women's golf champion considered most likely challenger for Betty Jean Rucker's Pacific Northwest Golf association championship, will get her chance today against Miss Rucker.

Miss Anderson was an easy 7 and 5 winner yesterday over Mrs. Alex Babbit, Tacoma, in first round matches while Miss Rucker defeated Betty Frank, Seattle, 7 and 6.

The little lady who wished the Babe well for two more days was Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Ia., the hard hitting Northwestern university graduate who would like a chance to duplicate her victory over Mrs. Zaharias in the western amateur title contest a year ago.

Phyllis equalled men's par at 37 for the first nine and was one under women's par at the Wankoda club for the 12 holes she was to eliminate Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., 7 and 6, in the first round yesterday. She wasn't sure she could do a repeat performance against the Babe.

She confided, "I bet she'd like to cut my throat."

Little Phyllis meant it in fun, of course, as she discussed Mrs. Zaharias' desire for revenge.

Both bouts will be four rounds in the lightweight division. In what is temporarily listed as the curtain-raiser, Bobby Barney of Sprague River will meet a newcomer to the local ring, Bobby Hancock, Barney last week was the victim of a kayo by Don Reynolds in the initial canto of their scheduled four-round opener when he rested during a count after being knocked down and failed to get to his feet in time.

Two Prelim Bouts Booked

The next armory boxing card is slated for Tuesday of next week and two of the five bouts which will eventually make up the docket have been tentatively slated.

Both bouts will be four rounds in the lightweight division. In what is temporarily listed as the curtain-raiser, Bobby Barney of Sprague River will meet a newcomer to the local ring, Bobby Hancock, Barney last week was the victim of a kayo by Don Reynolds in the initial canto of their scheduled four-round opener when he rested during a count after being knocked down and failed to get to his feet in time.

Veterans' Housing Priorities Asked

PORTLAND, June 26 (AP)—Applications for 450 HH veterans' housing priorities have been filed with FHA here on the district's third-quarter quota. State FHA Director Folger Johnson said today.

The quota of 3604 housing HH priorities will allow 2703 for sale and 901 for rent, Folger said. Of second-quarter priorities only a few for eastern Oregon are still available, he said.
