

Daly Board Selects 15 For College

LAKEVIEW, June 28 — Selection of 15 beneficiaries of the Bernard Daly Educational fund was made late yesterday following an all-day session of the trustees. In the group are eight girls and seven boys, bringing the total beneficiaries of the fund to 403 since its establishment in the will of the late Dr. Bernard Daly back in 1922.

Students selected this year were James Cotter, Nola Frakes, Della Gaskell, Theda Gowdy, John Harbison, Bruce Harlan, Alice Harvey, James Moe, Mary Nelson, Myrna Perry, Ruth Powell, Vernon Travis, Alth Elaine Turner, Wanda Whitcomb and Boyd Winward. Of the above Miss Gowdy is a Silver Lake girl. Wanda Hartzog Whitcomb has attended Oregon State college for three years and has one year left, and Della Gaskell of Paisley has two years left at Southern Oregon college.

Selections for the Daly fund grant are determined on the basis of the student's high school record and standing on the Daly fund tests given from time to time during the high school terms. Students who are not named to the fund but enter college and establish good scholastic records are given consideration above other high school graduates when the selections are made. In this way, the balance of their college education is met with Daly funds where application is made to the scholarship committee.

Attending yesterday's meeting here for determining those eligible were Dr. Harry Newburn, president of the University of Oregon, and Dr. A. L. Strand, president of Oregon State college, co-trustees of the fund; Dr. Howard Taylor, U. of O., and Dr. O. R. Chamber, OSC, scholarship committee; Dr. W. M. Atwood, OSC, and Prof. O. K. Burrell, U. of O., advisors to the presidents.

The local board of trustees is composed of B. K. Snyder, chairman; Roy Perry, vice chairman; E. A. Fetsch, secretary-treasurer; W. P. Vernon, assistant secretary-treasurer, and Paul Brattain.

Scholarships carry a grant of $75 a year for four years except in the case of honorary scholarships which are $75 a year. Students are permitted to select any higher institution of learning they wish to attend in Oregon that is under the board of education control.

Boy Held Blameless In Killing Of Father

COQUILLE, June 28 (AP) — The Coos county grand jury has exonerated 15-year-old Thomas Alan Coleman of blame in the fatal shooting of his father at their ranch home on Big creek June 10.

The jury found that the boy shot his father, Dolph Coleman, to keep his mother from injury. A coroner's jury had returned similar finding earlier.

A Rough One In Action

19-Year-Old Blonde Plans To Run Own Log Business

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28 — War assets administration officials blink and unbelievably when Mrs. Lenore Osborn, 19, blonde and lovely, walked in and asked if she might exercise veteran preference to buy a heavy truck and a D-8 "cat" so she could get into the logging business.

To questions, Mrs. Osborn explained her father, Bert Evans, had been in the logging business in Siskiyou and Trinity counties for the past 50 years, and that she had "grown up in the business." A brother also is in logging, her younger sister is "one of the best sawyers in the business," and M. J. Dye of Eureka, husband of another sister, is to be her partner in her new enterprise.

Mrs. Osborn's husband, Lester, is a torpedoman in the navy and now is somewhere in the Pacific. She has a 3-month-old son, too, staying temporarily with one of her sisters because "I've been traveling around too much, getting equipment and learning to drive heavy trucks." She added, "I took a load of lumber down to Watsonville last night."

During the war Mrs. Osborn was a yeoman 2/c in the Waves, at Mare Island most of the time. She said she and Osborn were married about two years ago. She calls Weaverville home.

Future base of operations for Mrs. Osborn's logging will be in northern California, where she said logging contractors are in great demand. "I'd rather be doing that than sitting in an office, like I was so much during the war," she said. WAA officials said they believed Mrs. Osborn would get the equipment she wants. They gave her a list of vehicles to inspect before she buys.

Will You Get a NEW CAR SOON?
Due to serious labor difficulties in the auto industry and related industries, motor car dealers have received numerous cuts in their new car allotments for 1946. Many people who expected to get a new car within the next 10 or 12 months are going to be disappointed, as cars probably will be as limited during most of 1947 as they are at the present time.
The Dick B. Miller Company advises owners who do not have a low number on a new car order-list to have their present vehicles put in good operating condition now and plan on driving them for at least another year. If you don't have a low order number, you will not get a new car before next spring or summer at the earliest.
