

Long-Range Forestry Program For State Recommended By Governor's Group

SALEM, June 29 (AP)—A comprehensive long-range state forestry program, calling for creation of a state department of conservation, more rigid fire protection and rehabilitation of the 300,000-acre Tillamook burn, was recommended today by the 10-man special forestry committee appointed by Governor Earl Snell.

Sam Ritchie Elected By Rotarians

The Rotary club president's gavel was turned over by retiring President Frank Eberlein to Sam Ritchie, who will head the club for the year starting July 1, at the regular Rotary meeting at the Willard hotel Friday noon.

In summing up the past year's activities Eberlein noted the major achievement of bringing the annual Junior Livestock show and auction back to full prewar size. The show last fall was under the direction of Henry Semon, and the first barbecue since before the war was held for participating 4-H and FFA members and their families. Club membership now stands at 102, and attendance the past year was over 90 per cent, Eberlein said.

President Ritchie called on directors to announce committee appointments for the coming year. Club service chairmen and committees named by Alfred Collier, club vice-president, were: Fred Fleet, classification; Mitchell Tillotson, Rotary information; Nick Long, fellowship; Paul Matthews, audit; budget; Al Hatton and Ed Gockner (assistant), program; Frank Fleet, house; DeLos Mills, intercity; Myrie C. Adams, attendance.

Director Deb Addison announced the following community service committees: Arnold Gralapp, youth services; Jim Hillon, magazine; Lloyd Brock, social affairs; Lloyd Stitt, civic welfare; L. A. West, rural-urban; Hugh Campbell, library fund; Bud Chandler, public information; Nelson Reed, club paper.

Harlan Bosworth was introduced as chairman of the international committee, and Nelson Reed, vocational service, by Director Scott Warren.

Appointive officers announced by the president were: Betty Henderson, pianist; Andy Loney, music; Vic Phillips, secretary; Bob Chilcote, assistant secretary; and Dick Reeder, treasurer.

The Klamath Rodeo princesses and their chaperones were guests of the club and were introduced by Mitchell Tillotson.

Lakeview Holds Man On Knifing Charge

LAKEVIEW, June 29—Charles B. Asher was picked up in town Friday by Sheriff H. A. Casiday and lodged in the county jail following a knifing fray about a block east of the stock driveway Thursday. At a preliminary hearing Wednesday he was bound over to the grand jury.

Asher was accused of pulling a knife on Mrs. George Keadie, Charles Paul Gay and his wife following a party last Thursday. Mrs. Keadie was cut on the wrist and arms, her son Charles Gay was slashed across the back and Mrs. Gay was cut through the left rib. Asher claimed that he threw the knife in self defense.

The committee also recommended that a non-political state corporation be established to carry out the program for the Tillamook burn, which would be completed in 10 years. This corporation would be financed by not more than $25,000,000 worth of bonds which would be state-guaranteed, but the money actually would be paid out of revenues from sales of salvaged timber. The corporation also would carry out reforestation programs in other areas.

To carry out the general forestry program, the committee recommended a special use tax on forest products plus a legislative appropriation.

The committee said existing forestry laws are adequate but are not adequately enforced. It recommended that more men be employed to check logging operations, and that there be a new law to require logging operations in hazardous areas to have telephone communications.

Forestry inspectors should, the report said, help logging operators to train their men to fight fires. There should be, it recommended, a permanent coordinating board to coordinate efforts of private, state, county and federal fire protections.

The committee recommended that the legislature appropriate $500,000 to be used for extreme emergencies, and that new standards of fire protection be established. If private agencies failed to meet the standards, the state should take over.

Trained Fire Fighters

The committee recommended that special crews be trained for large fires, and that the state take advantage of such surplus army equipment as trucks, tractors, bulldozers, tanks, flame throwers, fog machines, explosives, incendiaries, radios and aircraft. The report cited the need for better and faster methods of building fire lines, getting snags down, burning out, and backfiring.

The committee said that the Tillamook burn would grow 225,000,000 board feet of lumber per year, asserting the "productive capacity of this high quality forest land is so great that its rehabilitation is imperative."

But, the committee said, existing fire hazards first must be reduced by more frequent inspections, more roads, and more fire fighters.

The committee recommended that the state forestry department explore new methods of planting and rodent control before planting new trees. Snags should be eliminated before planting. The report recommended that a thorough survey of the area be made so that trees best suitable could be planted.

Other Burns Considered

The committee said a similar plan should be worked out for the $38,239-acre Smith River burn in western Douglas and Lane counties; the 47,000-acre Tioga burn in Coos and Douglas counties; and 77,000 acres in eastern Linn county where a big slashing hazard exists.

The committee also recommended that the farm forestry program be developed, and that the Keep Oregon Green association be given more funds.

Governor Snell praised the committee's work.

Chairman of the committee is Judge H. D. Kerkman, Hillsboro, president of the Oregon County Judges association. On the committee also were representatives of timber operators, labor, the press, and farm and livestock organizations.

ILO Approves Seaman Wage

SEATTLE, June 29 (AP)—The draft of an international convention for a $64 minimum wage and standard hours for most of the seafaring men of the world was approved by the International Labor organization's maritime conference at an early hour this morning.

Its formal adoption at the conference's closing plenary session scheduled for later today, was a foregone conclusion.

The final draft was approved by a vote of 55 to 24, with nine delegates abstaining after worker delegates had agreed to give up their demand for the modification of the eight-hour day for near-trade ships, an issue that had threatened the passage of the convention.

The United States government and worker delegations, who had fought bitterly throughout the conference for a flat eight-hour day for seamen, abstained from voting.

Relief Checks Due For Mails

PORTLAND, June 29 (AP)—A delay in mailing of Oregon's 21,000 relief checks appeared averted today after the state public welfare commission clamped down on Columbia county—its worst problem child.

Failure of the county to pay its share of funds, about $3000 prompted a sharp telegram from the commission yesterday. Commissioners demanded "that the Columbia county court comply with the law and submit funds by July 1 in order that all other counties in the state not be penalized." Earlier, officials had feared relief checks might not be sent on July 1, as scheduled.

The county has been consistently late with its welfare funds, the commission complained.

Columbia County Judge Ray Tarbell said the county would not have funds until the next fiscal year, which starts Monday, and that a check would be ready on that day. The county overspent its 1945-46 budget by $10,742, he explained.

Forestry Men Visit Fremont

The chief of the U. S. forest service, Lyle F. Watts, inspected timber areas on the Fremont National forest this week. Watts, former regional forester of the North Pacific region, was accompanied by Regional Forester H. Andrews of Portland and Larry Mays, supervisor of the Fremont forest. Watts expressed pleasure over the scenic timber strip along the Fremont highway northwest of Silver Lake.

This scenic roadside area and those along the Lakeview-Klamath Falls highway on Quartz mountain have recently been acquired by the forest service and will be preserved in their natural beauty for those traveling these roads. The chief forester also looked over some of the selectively logged areas of the Fremont National forest and commented favorably on the condition of these young growing timber stands. Watts left Tuesday for the Ochoco, Malheur, and Wallowa forests of eastern Oregon. On his way back to Washington, D. C., he plans to visit his son, Gordon L. Watts, former army major now a forester in Idaho. The Watts also have a daughter, Mrs. Edward Perry, living near Corvallis.

State Police Find Stolen Automobile

State police last yesterday recovered a 1937 Dodge two-door sedan reported stolen from Klamath Falls June 27. The car was located one half mile north of Denny creek on the Lake of the Woods road and was in running condition.

The machine was registered to Robert Duncan, 1023 Bown, who had reported the car stolen last Thursday. Driver of the stolen car apparently attempted to turn the machine around and head south, but was mired down.

KFLW To Give Atom Feature

On the eve of the atomic bomb test off the Bikini atoll, KFLW will broadcast a special program tonight, Saturday, from 9:30 to 10 p. m., titled "Man and Atomic Energy," which will feature discussions by eminent scientists on the various phases of atomic energy as it pertains to medicine, industry and the Bikini test.

Also Sunday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, KFLW will carry a broadcast of the actual atom plane taking off from Kwajalein for the initial run over the Bikini target. The time depends on weather conditions in the test area. Between 2 and 3 p. m., Sunday, a full description of the actual dropping of the A bomb will be presented over KFLW.

Klamath Flying News

Virgil G. Holbrook, Macdoel farmer, recently took delivery on a new Aeronca Chief for personal use. The ship is a side by side job in the smaller class.

Students at both schools under the GI bill are getting along nicely, report operators, and solos are becoming almost a daily occurrence. At the rate the boys are flying now a second class may be formed before too long.

Ray Royse flew to Portland this week in his new Stinson, taking the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McNab to Salem on the way. Mrs. Royse accompanied her husband to Portland. On the way back the couple flew a VA official into Klamath Falls, where he will look over the GI school set up.

Ground school for flight training has been discontinued as of Thursday night, and no further sessions will be held. Students in the flying course will have to bone up on their own hook for the CAR exams to be given on completion of their flight training.

Allan Mocabee, of the Oregon Flying Service, drove to Portland on Tuesday of last week, returning last Thursday. Mocabee went to Portland to straighten out contract matters in connection with the VA flying now under way at the school.

Some time in the near future Mocabee plans to travel to Cuthaven, headquarters for the Piper company, at Lockhaven, Pennsylvania, where he will

Health Man Aids Scouts

Lloyd Seeley, of the Klamath county health unit, has been cooperating with the Boy Scouts on drafting plans for a new purification system for Camp Makula, as well as testing the water for summer use, according to R. E. Lamott, scout director. Seeley is working out plans for the injection of chlorine into the water.

Previous to this, spring water, with no purifying system, has been used at the camp. Also, no pressure could be obtained because of size of the pipes. Under the new plan, the water will come up from lake bottom in a two-inch pipe, with enough force to enable scouts to fight fire.

For the past two weeks, stated Lamott, the laying of the new pipe line has been going on at the camp.

We are diligently concentrating.... on providing service to waiting applicants as fast as it is humanly possible to do so

Every effort is being made to improve the quality and efficiency of our service

Directing our efforts as we have to render service as rapidly as possible to all who want it and to make our service even better than it has ever been before, the 2,886,000 telephones in service as of May 31, 1946, include an increase of 254,000 since V-J Day, of which 183,000 were added in the first five months of this year—an unequalled increase in any similar time period in the history of our company.

The telephone increase since V-J Day exceeds by 67,000, or 36 per cent, the 187,000 increase in the year 1943—the largest yearly telephone increase ever recorded by our company. The telephone increase for the first five months of 1946 exceeds by 69,000, or 60 per cent, the 114,000 increase for the entire year 1945.

New applications for service—totaling 340,000 for the first five months of this year—increased 107 per cent over the corresponding period of a year ago. Of the 286,000 prospective subscribers at the first of the year whose applications had been necessarily deferred due to shortage of facilities, we're glad to report that 183,000, or 64 per cent, have been cared for. Due, however, to the time necessarily involved in the installation of complicated switchboards—in many instances new buildings are required to house them—together with the large number of new applications and the continued materials shortages and disturbed conditions throughout the country affecting manufacturers' production, 229,000 applicants are still waiting for service.

We are diligently concentrating, notwithstanding the difficulties in obtaining adequate apparatus and materials, on providing service to waiting applicants as fast as it is humanly possible to do so. Likewise every effort is being made to improve the quality and efficiency of our service.

Construction of additional toll and long distance circuits has gone forward with rapidity and continued improvement is being made in the service even though the volume continues at record high levels—the calls being 20 per cent greater than in the corresponding five-month period of a year ago.

Our company has recently made substantial further postwar increased wage adjustments, aggregating $6,000,000 on an annual basis, as a result of collective bargaining negotiations with the unions. These added wage increases are over and above the postwar adjustment wage increases made in December of last year which aggregated more than $18,000,000 on an annual basis. Thus, this recent wage increase, embodied in a contract to run until March 1, 1947, brings the postwar adjustment wage increases, arising out of collective bargaining, to more than $24,000,000 annually—the increase in our postwar wage rates being 19 per cent. The recent collective bargaining negotiations between our management and the unions extended over a period from April 24 to May 18, 1946, and at no time throughout the negotiations did the unions or the company fail to realize that the public interest came first. . . . Net Income has been adversely affected by increased costs of operation, particularly the large added wage expenditures.

Lions Install New Officers

Paul Angstead was installed as president of the Lions club Tuesday night at a formal dinner-dance held in the Willard hotel. Other men taking office were: Wes McNeel, vice president; Everett Vanderpool, secretary-treasurer; Bill Milne, tall twister, and Roy Premo, lion tamer. New directors for the next two years are Paul Lee and Ray Ward.

Angstead has been a member of the club for approximately four years. He came to Klamath Falls eight years ago to teach physical education in the elementary schools. He is now assistant principal in Klamath Union high school. Angstead was vice president of the Lions last year.

General chairman of the installation was Gene Hooker and Clarence Humble served as toastmaster. Glenn Gregg, district governor from Bend, installed the officers.

Officers of the Lions club auxiliary were also installed at the dinner.
