

Phillies Still Same To Bums

The Philadelphia Phillies surge out of the National league cellar and their threatened movement into the first division has gained popular appeal throughout the nation. But to the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers they look like the Phillies of old.

Winners of 20 out of their last 29 decisions, the Phils came into Brooklyn riding a bandwagon that included practically everybody with the notable exception of Lippy Leo Durocher and his battling crew. The Bums lost no time in casting their dissenting votes.

In the first inning at Ebbets field before 31,913 of the Flat-bush faithful last night the Dodgers ended whatever dreams Manager Ben Chapman's aggregation had of gaining their first triumph of the year over the Brooks by blasting Art Lopatka and Tommy Hughes for six runs. Brooklyn continued its blitz with three markers in the second and two more in the fifth to pile up an 11-2 lead and allow Hank Behrman to coast to an 11-6 victory.

The win was the Dodgers' sixth straight, their ninth in a row over the Phils, and it stretched their first place margin over the St. Louis Cardinals to six and one-half games as the Red Birds bowed, 5-4 to the Cincinnati Reds in 13 innings.

Rip Sewell made it two shut-out victories in succession for the Pirates by blanking the Chicago Cubs, 1-0, on four hits.

In a twilight game before 17,528 fans at Detroit, Virgil "Fire" Trucks of the Tigers whitewashed the Chicago White Sox, 2-0, to post his ninth conquest of the year.

Jittery Joe Berry, purchased early yesterday by the Cleveland Indians from the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International league, celebrated the occasion by gaining credit for Cleveland's 6-4 triumph over the St. Louis Browns and batting in what proved to be the winning run.

The 38-year-old righthander, who last season twirled for the Philadelphia Athletics, entered the game in the sixth inning with the score deadlocked at 4-4 and Chet Laabs on third with one out. Berry retired the side and in the bottom half of the stanza, he singled home Felix Mackiewicz with the tie-breaking run.

The New York Yankees downed the Giants, 3-0, in an exhibition game at the Polo Grounds. The Boston Red Sox, Boston Braves, Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators were not scheduled.

Hotter than a desert sun on the first 18, Zimmerman rattled off a par-smashing 68 to put him far in the lead and needed it to win when he took 75 strokes on the second 18.

Ferguson and Derrah were batteries for Moose, Myres and Murray for the Elks. This was the last game of the first half, and places the Moose and Elks in a tie for the softball lead with five wins, one loss each.

Looks Like More Duck Laws Are Coming

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—It's a bad year for ducks, the fish and wildlife service reiterated today.

Director Albert M. Day of the service, who already has announced that duck hunters face a reduced bag limit, a shorter season or both, made public reports from field observers describing this spring's flight of ducks as the poorest in years.

These reports will provide the basis for the annual waterfowl regulations, expected to be announced late this month or early in August. Robert H. Smith, biologist for the Mississippi flyway, reported from Delta, Manitoba, Canada:

"I have covered areas that were heavy duck producers in 1942 and 1943 and even in 1945, but today the story is the same everywhere. The duck populations are greatly reduced. Some marshes and pot-holes that look ideal for ducks have none at all. I can only reiterate that in my opinion the situation is serious and drastic reductions in the kill are in order."

More Chinook Climb Over Bonneville Dam

PORTLAND, Ore., July 2 (AP)—Chinook salmon and steelhead trout—the migrants who return to the waters of their birth to spawn and thus keep alive the silvery runs—have gone over Bonneville dam in greater numbers this year than in any since the dam was built.

Army engineers, who operate Bonneville's power-producing facilities on the Columbia river, reported today that the count of fish fighting their way up the "ladders" showed 97,571 Chinook and 22,239 steelhead passed the barrier to their upstream destinations in the first six months of this year.

The totals are roughly double those of 1942—when most of the fish headed toward the sea as fingerlings.

Despite this increase upstream count, the U. S. fish and wildlife service continues its policy of refusing to say that dams do—or do not—threaten the salmon runs.

"We have hope," is as far as Leo L. Laythe, regional director, would go. "There was a strike of fishermen on the lower river this year and that increased the escapement. It is still too early to predict the effect of dams on the salmon run."

Fishermen protest

The question has aroused long controversy between fishing and power interests. Only yesterday, Oregon commercial and recreational fishing groups appeared before Rep. Richard Welch (R-Calif.) to fish resources in building Columbia river dams. Welch conducted a hearing for the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries.

Bonneville dam was completed in 1938. The engineers' count for the first six months of the years since then—the big run is in the spring—show, for Chinook salmon, 82,340 in 1939 and 35,228 in 1944 the year. They began to rise in 1939.

Salmon have varying cycles, returning from the sea to their streams two to six years after entering it, but most Columbia river salmon are believed to run on a four-year cycle.

If they do not return to fresh water, there are no young salmon to perpetuate the runs.

Smith Meets Kayo Miller

Twenty-two rounds of amateur boxing is on the block for tonight in the armory, with Blackie Smith meeting Kayo Miller in the five-stanza main event.

Miller and Smith are middleweights, and the former holds two smashing knockouts over opponents in the local ring. Smith has only fought once in this present series of boxing matches, but in that one appearance tore up Dally Lotches for a first-round TKO.

In the second five-rounder, this one a lightweight duel, LeRoy Barkley of Chiloquin ties in with Indian Johnny Peters, a newcomer.

The top prelim puts popular Gaylor Hatcher in against Rudy Carlson in a welterweight fight. Herbert Snell fights Don Reynolds in a scheduled four-round tiff, and Bobby Barney meets Bobby Hannon in the other. The curtain raises at 8:30.

Golden Spike Carnival Ends

REVELSTOKE, B. C., July 2 (CP)—The three-day golden spike carnival, highlighted by the visit of more than a dozen speedboats and cabin cruisers from Spokane, Wash., ended last night.

Nearly 100 Americans made the long four-day water trip up the Columbia river to join in the celebration making the centenary of the signing of the Oregon treaty of 1846 which settled the boundary dispute on the Pacific Northwest between Canada and the United States.

Californian Hot In Oregon Net

PORTLAND, July 2 (AP)—A 21-year old southpaw, Arthur Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., moved into the third day of the Oregon State tennis championship singles today after upsetting top-seeded Harry Buttmer of San Francisco yesterday. But there was a rough road ahead.

The unseeded Larsen scored the only upset of the second day by defeating Buttmer 13-11, 6-3 while Dr. Clint Knox of Portland, defending champion and No. 3 seeded, reached the third singles round by defeating Ed Leonard of Seattle, 6-4, 6-4.

Acorns May Tie With Yankees

LOS ANGELES, July 2 (AP)—The New York Yankees and the Oakland Oaks, currently leading the Pacific Coast league, may draw up a working agreement, says Larry McPhail, co-owner of the Yank baseball system.

McPhail, arriving here yesterday from Oakland with his fellow owner Del Webb, said they were making a nationwide inspection trip of Yankee holdings on a table inside the house, club and its manager, Casey Stengel.

"We're pretty friendly with Oakland now," said McPhail, "and we might get even chummier, but I don't know whether Oakland wants a closer tie-up."

Oaks Lose Good Men

By the Associated Press

Oakland's Acorns, clinging to a one-game edge in the Pacific Coast baseball league pennant chase, today lost Pitcher Charley Gassaway on a trial in the majors and were handicapped by an injury to their most powerful hitter, Les Scarcella.

As the pace-makers went north for a nine-game stand against the Portland Beavers, Gassaway, who won his last game on a trial in the majors, headed east for a 30-day look-see with the Cleveland Indians.

Since the club is well heeled in the pitching department, Manager Casey Stengel was primarily worried about the condition of Scarcella, whose groin injury has plagued him considerably in the last few days. The slugger is the head man in the league in home runs, with 21, and tops the department of runs batted in with 76. He's hitting .315.

The Oaks handed an outright release to outfielder Charley Metro, who requested permission to make a deal for himself.

There was talk he might join the Seattle club. He batted .185 in 43 games.

The series opening tonight against Portland and next week's engagement with Seattle, the last two clubs in the league, give the Acorns a chance to shake the second-place San Francisco Seals. The Seals open a series tonight with third-place Los Angeles in San Francisco.

The batting spurge indulged in by the Klamath Sons at the expense of the Redding Cubs Sunday afternoon puffed out plate averages almost all the way around the squad, and Ernie Bishop, second baseman, went into the leadership of the regulars with 13 hits in 20 trips, a .650 average.

Bishop has been in six of the eight league games. Jim Buechl, reserve first sacker, has three hits in five times at bat for .600.

Bar Garbar, catcher and utility man from Dorris, has appeared in the lineup seven games, hit safely six times out of 13 for .462. Hi Hatfield, who has patrolled centerfield and batted in the cleanup position for every tilt except the last two innings of Sunday's afterpiece, has 15 hits in 34 times at bat for .441.

Ernie Bishop, who has been in every game and hits third in the lineup, is batting .333, but has scampered across the plate 11 times to lead them in scoring. Hatfield has tallied 10 times, and Earl Brooks seven.

In the slugging department, Miller's home run against Durocher is still the team's only circuit clouter, and he also has one triple and a couple of doubles. Hatfield has batted three triples and a double, and Bishop has one three-bagger and two doubles.

As for the pitchers, Clyde Carlstrom has won four and lost none and struck out 41 opposing batters in 30 innings. Jim Olsen has won two and lost one, fanning 32 men in 29 innings. Miller struck out four in nine innings in the winning game he pitched.

This week the Sons have games scheduled with Roseburg of the Southern Oregon league for July 4 and 5 on Recreation field, then travel to Weed Sunday afternoon to resume league play down there.

The Roseburg games Thursday and Friday are extra-curricular tilts and the visiting team is reputed to be a classy outfit. Roseburg is currently 'way ahead of the opposition in the Southern Oregon loop.

Georgians Pass Hat For Spokane

CORDELE, Ga., July 2 (AP)—Baseball fans attending a doubleheader in the class D Georgia-Florida league at Cordele, Ga., Sunday contributed $163.97 for surviving families of the nine Spokane baseball players killed in a bus accident a week ago.

Manager Perly Purchase of the Cordele White Sox passed the hat among fans. He is urging that this plan be carried out at all ball parks and the money be sent to the Spokane Chronicle.

"The boss told me to change it to 40 cents—you just got caught in the middle of a change," she explained.

The projected Yangtze river dam in China will irrigate 10,000,000 acres and provide triple the power the Boulder, Grand Coulee and Shasta dams combined.
