Today's Newsie

Angus Stewart sold his first papers on December 7, 1941, when Pearl Harbor was bombed. That day and the day President Roosevelt died were probably the most lucrative in the months he has sold The Herald and News, said Angus, seventh grader at Riverside and 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Stewart, 225 Grant. Angus was born March 22, 1934, in Klamath Falls. His hobby is patch collecting and he has more than one hundred army insignia. Best tippers are found along Main street poolhalls. Angus reports and papers sell regardless of the banner on the front page. Favorite sport is baseball and for summer fun it's swimming and catching bats.
