It's handy to have these along when you visit Pueblo land

In villages older than memory, aloof on Arizona's sun-swept mesas, the Hopis live as their father's fathers did. It's fun to visit them, but take along sun-glasses, and be sure to go on Chevron Supreme Gasoline to save your car from vapor-lock.

To prevent fuel system "locking" in hot or high areas, Chevron Supreme Gasoline is "tailored" to fit local driving conditions all over the West. This way, despite heat or altitude, you get reliable power, without sacrifice of fast starting and quick pick-up.

Though you cross mountains and deserts to visit Pueblo land, Chevron Supreme gives you the same "premium" performance it does at home. And a Chevron Credit Card gives you neighborly car-expense credit wherever you go.
