COTTON FROCKS of the Week by Joyce Hubrite

Joyce Hubrite's fashion primer!
ARALAC AND SPUN RAYON
A KLUGER FABRIC
This is the dress that serves with a verve!
Its streamer stripes take joyfully to multi-color. Its fly-away sleeve is set-in-one!
Its collar is convertible and "starts" a crisp line of "mint-candy" buttons three quarters down the dress!
And it has a skirt with a belt to cinch your waist to pin-size, while your hips do a disappearing act under the slimming influence of up-and-down-stripes.
It's elementary, it's wonderful!
In MULTI-COLOR STRIPES in a variety of color combinations.
Sizes: 10 to 20.

—And everything nice! That's what this JOYCE HUBRITE dress is made of!
Sugar-white eyelet, with a sweetheart of a neckline, and practically no sleeves to speak of!
Darts at the shoulder give a bloused effect that shrinks your waist to bracelet-size.
The shirred skirt has a lovely flare, yet the whole effect of the dress is one of pared-down slimmess!
Sizes: 10-18.
All-white cotton eyelet, sanforized.
