

Premature Bomb Blast Upsets Bikini Task Force

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY, July 19 (AP)—A large magnesium flash bomb used to synchronize cameras went off 15 minutes prematurely today during a rehearsal for the underwater atomic bomb test, but Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy quickly gave assurances the same thing could not happen with the real atomic explosive.

The flash startled the Crossroads task force but caused no damage or casualties.

Admiral Blandy said the exact cause of the premature detonation was not yet determined but that the 100-pound flash bomb was set off entirely differently than the atomic bomb, and the public should have no fear of danger to personnel participating in next Wednesday's blast.

"The atomic bomb positively will not fire prematurely," he declared.

The magnesium bomb was mounted on a ship far removed from the vessel which set it off. "The exact cause of this premature flash is not known at present," Admiral Blandy said, "but it has no significance with respect to the actual atomic bomb since it was operated on the camera-actuating circuit. This circuit does not have the elaborate safeguards installed in the bomb-firing circuit."
