

Janitor Found Dead At Home

Reinhardt Reiersen, 62, janitor at the naval air station was found dead in his apartment at 716 N. 9th by city police last night. Officials said that his death was due to natural causes and that he had been dead about 24 hours when found.

Police went to the apartment on request of Arthur Herman Johnson, 308 Greer building, who said that he had been to Reiersen's apartment Tuesday night and twice earlier last night and had been unable to raise him.

Mrs. C. L. Herbert, who lives at the same address as Reiersen, said that she had not seen the man for two days. The screen door to the apartment was latched and the front door slightly open. Police removed the screen and found Reiersen sitting in a chair, dressed in pajamas.

Dr. George H. Adler, county coroner, was called and pronounced him dead.

Reiersen's body was taken to Ward's Funeral home, where it was said that he had no known relatives. He was born in Norway and had been in Klamath Falls for 18 years. His wife died here 12 years ago.

In the man's pocketbook police found $24 in currency, and fourteen $25 war bonds were located in his Bible. The bonds were made out jointly to Reiersen and Fern McTaggart, 411 N. 3rd, and there was also a note stating that she was to be notified if anything happened to him.

'Newsie' Gets Fan Letter From Admirer In Arizona

Many a romance got its start this way. If young Jerry Johnson wasn't too keen on having his picture in the paper he certainly should be now. Jerry, a 12-year-old newsboy, is the lad whose picture appeared in The Herald and News feature, "Today's Newsie," on Tuesday, July 9.

Not long after his picture was published Jerry received a letter from a girl his age in Florence, Ariz. She had seen his picture in the paper and asked, "mid descriptions of the scenic attractions of her state, if Jerry would care to write to her."

Far be it from an enterprising young man like Jerry to turn down an opportunity like that! He wasted no time in getting an answer to his fan letter in the mail, complete with a request for a picture of the young lady.

When asked what he thought of the letter, Jerry said, blushing but nodding enthusiastically, "pretty nice," and promised faithfully to show the picture off when he gets it.

Straight Talk

A HUMID INTEREST STORY

Frankly, we wonder how Klamath people feel when they turn the pages of the Herald and News these stifling days. And see something like this:

"Exquisite Compacts, beautifully designed and finished with a precious look. She appreciates." We can sympathize with the reader.

We have that summer "letdown" feeling... Our advertising man doesn't particularly care "whether school keeps or not"...

And the only reason we are advertising these Compacts is because our ambitious Female clerks say "Ricky, Get on the Ball."

Incidentally, the Compacts are Values...:

JC President Visits Klamath

Merle Nash, Eugene, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, arrived in Klamath Falls Thursday to confer with members of the local Jaycees regarding activities of the 1946-47 fiscal year. Nash, who was elected at the state convention held in Klamath Falls last May, has been visiting clubs throughout the state to coordinate state and national projects.

President Ray Ward has issued a call for a special business meeting to be held in the chamber of commerce Thursday at 7:30 p. m. to confer with Nash. He is expected to offer considerable help to the local group concerning promotion of the forthcoming Centennial celebration as he has been active with the group promoting the Eugene pageant during the past years.

The Jaycee paper drive pickup is scheduled for Sunday, July 28, and residents are requested to place their bundles of scrap paper on the street corners Saturday.
