GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—Corn prices broke 3 cents, the limit daily decline, in the last few minutes of trading today when several large commission houses offered the grain for sale and found the market lacking in bids. Until the late selling, corn had held steady.

Traders said they thought some of the late selling represented hedging against purchases of cash grain. Cash dealers bought 1946 crop corn on a to-arrive basis at $1.40, more than 3 cents under the OPA maximums.

Oats, which were strong early, sank with corn but managed to hold onto part of their gains. August oats declined about 2 cents from its earlier high. There was a good demand for oats from commission houses with export connections.

Cash dealers reported that the United Kingdom had made overnight purchases of cash oats and was in the market for additional supplies. Spot prices of cash oats were higher.

Corn finished 4½-3 cents lower, January $1.40⅞, oats were ⅛-¼c higher, August 73¾c, and barley was unchanged to ⅛c higher, December $1.26.

Boys!

Your grandfathers guaranteed you the right to bear firearms . . . you can protect that right only by handling your guns as they should be handled.

Promiscuous firing of guns is dangerous to life! Stray bullets are just as deadly as aimed bullets. Firing at insulators is dangerous to life from high power lines.

Fire your .22's and BB-guns outside the city, into banks where bullets can't ricochet!

Every gun is dangerous — treat it accordingly!
