

Clark Calls For Solution Of Georgia Negro Deaths

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark said today that "I hope for an early solution of the recent shocking murders in Monroe, Ga."

He called upon "all our citizens to repudiate mob rule and to assist the authorities to bring these criminals to justice." He was referring to the 20-odd men who lynched two negro farm hands and their wives last Thursday.

Clark said in a statement that

"the lives and liberties of none of us are safe when forces of terror operate outside the laws of God and man."

He added that "the federal bureau of investigation has a sufficient force of agents on hand to provide a fair probe and the civil rights section of the department of justice is examining the legal and jurisdictional aspects of the case. The probe is being carried on in the tradition of the FBI—with dispatch, efficiency and determination. The full facilities of the department of justice are behind this investigation."

"We hope for an early solution of these shocking murders. The entire record of our investigation will be made available to the governor of Georgia, if necessary for proper action of Georgia civil authorities."

Sky Matsonia Hawaii Bound

SEATTLE, July 30 (AP)—The Sky Matsonia took off at 7:15 a. m. (PST), today for Honolulu, with a planned Portland stop, the first commercial payload flight of passengers and cargo from the Pacific northwest to the Hawaiian Islands.

The four passengers who boarded the plane here are: Harry O'Hanlon, a Regina, Sask., equipment manufacturer and his wife, and Robert A. Kramer and Glenn Simons, Seattle, contractors' representatives. Paul Natson, San Francisco, a Matson company representative, Capt. E. L. Slomger, the pilot and a crew of five, including Miss Cheri Tharp, stewardess, were the others aboard.

The plane was to pick up two other passengers at Portland and a ton of freight cargo, including fresh fruits, berries and a shipment of radios. It was to leave Portland by 10 a. m. and make the flight to Honolulu in 12 hours. C. B. Warren, Matson navigation company manager here, said.

The flight is an unscheduled one as the line has been denied an application to the civil aeronautics board for such a route.

Publisher Sees Field For 'Good Biography'

SEATTLE, July 30 (AP)—Northwest writers were tipped yesterday that the publishing world is ready now for "good biography, particularly for biography of great women."

The suggestion was passed along by Ken McCormick, editor-in-chief of Doubleday and company, who told a northwest writers' conference that he believed "we're going out of the historical novel phase."

Other speakers of the opening day of the 10-day session were Richard Neuberger of Portland, and Betty MacDonald, author of "The Egg and I."

New Sprays Being Tried On Deer Fly

LAKEVIEW, July 30 — Intensive study and experiments with insecticides are under way in the Summer Lake area to combat the deer fly problem, according to word received by the Lake county chamber of commerce from John Farleigh, and Senator Marshall Cornett of Klamath Falls.

Andy Roth and G. M. Gjulen of the Portland laboratory of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine arrived last week and during the past few days have been cooperating with H. E. Morrison and William Rasmussen of the Oregon Experiment station in making tests of Aerosol dispensing equipment. This equipment, used as a truck spray rig, produces an insecticide fog, and is applied after dark to catch the deer flies in their roosting places. The fog lasts for several nights.

Plans call for a temporary laboratory located in the Summer Lake community to work with this insect and discover more of its life secrets so that entomologists can recommend some means of control in the future, according to Elgin Cornett, county agent.

Different spray mixtures are being used in the experiments, and some success has been noted with few flies found active before morning and many found dead. The tests are in the experimental stages so far and Roth will spend the remainder of the summer in the Summer Lake area working on the deer fly problem. He and Mrs. Roth have been offered one of Farleigh's cabins for their residence while in that area. Gjulen returned to Portland this week.

Elks Schedule Sunday Picnic

The annual Elk Club picnic will be held at the Fort Klamath gravel pit on Sunday, August 4. Plans this year call for a barbecue and all manner of games and amusements for Elks and their families.

Committeemen for the day include Jack Gove, K. Foster, J. Raffetto, Dale Mattoon, Otto Sari, "Jiggers" Koshnick, Jack Webber, Louis Kalina and Dick Moore. Those attending are asked to bring knives, forks, spoons and cups and the committee will furnish paper plates and beverages.

Families are invited to attend as well as members.

Canadian Hailstorm Causes Crop Damage

KELOWNA, B. C., July 30 (AP)—Okanagan valley fruit growers were ruefully contemplating battered orchards today in an effort to ascertain the damage caused by a hail storm which swept through the valley yesterday.

The storm, termed the worst in the district's history, cut through Winfield, Rutland, Glenmore, Kelowna, Okanagan Mission and Summerland.

In the Kelowna area alone preliminary surveys estimated a reduction in the apple crop of
