

Seattle Man Held In Death

SEATTLE, Aug. 13 (AP)—Frank Kosiminski, 44, was held by police today without charge in connection with the fatal stabbing of Merle L. Hewitt, 29-year-old Lewiston, Idaho, merchant seaman, yesterday. Acting Detective Capt. George Hyde said Kosiminski, a resident of the hotel in which the stabbing occurred, had admitted that he fought with Hewitt and "must have pulled a knife." Hyde said Kosiminski said repeatedly, however: "I didn't know what I was doing. Believe me, I didn't know." Statements of witnesses, said Hyde, indicated the scuffle followed shortly an encounter in which Hewitt knocked down Kosiminski in a tavern after the latter had taken Hewitt's girl companion, Lura Heistrand, 22, for a glass of beer.

The victim, who died en route to the hospital, was stabbed six times in the head, chest and abdomen, Coroner John P. Brill Jr. said. Milkweed, once considered a pest, served in the war. Its floss was used in mattresses, aviation suits and soundproof linings.

To Chicago—David R. Vandenberg, David and Vandenberg's brother-in-law, D. Callocate of Portland, are leaving Wednesday for Chicago. They will join Vandenberg's mother, Mrs. John H. Vandenberg, there and will return sometime in September.
