

London Burglars Run Riot During Worst Fog In Years

LONDON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Fog today dogged Britain for the third straight day, hopelessly snarling traffic, tying up shipping, causing at least three deaths and giving comparatively free rein to thieves and pickpockets.

Train and plane schedules were disrupted and motor traffic was at a virtual standstill.

Scotland Yard operatives, already hard pressed by a series of new crimes, announced that the American-born Marquise de Zahara was robbed last night of $22,000 worth of jewels and cash by someone who apparently cut her handbag from its shoulder strap in Victoria railroad station.

The Marquise, the former Betty Byrne, widow of a Spanish minister to Paris, was returning from Paris.

She sketched pictures of the jewels, which included a Russian emerald and diamond brooch and a diamond and ruby bracelet, were bought in the United States, she said, and were gifts from her late husband, a former counselor of the Spanish embassy in Washington.

Police also sought a mysterious "woman in slacks"—believed to be a skilled judge of fur, able to mingle in high society, and endowed with the agility of a trapeze artist—in connection with recent burglaries. The officers disclosed that a woman's heel print was found outside a bedroom near Bagshot, where Mrs. Irene G. Roberts was robbed Thursday night of $32,000 in jewelry. It
