D. Yancey Held In M'Comb Shooting

ex-GI then went into the kitchen where he fired another shot, inflicting a slight scalp wound on the right side of his head.

When police arrived Miss McComb was on the sofa with blood spurting from the wound, and Yancey was in the kitchen. He went out the back door but returned when a police officer called him back. The pistol was found under his coat in the bedroom.

Three of the used cartridges had been ejected from the weapon and it still held the last burned shell and one good cartat Matts went into the floor ridge. The bullet Yancey fired and the first one he fired at his own head imbedded in the living room ceiling.

Miss McComb was given emergency treatement to slow the flow of blood by police and then taken to Klamath Valley hospital by ambulance.

Yancey was not seriously wounded. He was taken to the police station and booked for assault with intent to kill, then turned over to Sheriff Lloyd L. in the sheriff's office before Low. His statement was made District Attorney Clarence A. Humble and other police officials early Sunday morning.

Yancey was booked at the county jail on assault with intent to kill but a formal charge had not yet been filed, pending outcome of the condition of Miss McComb.

Meanwhile at the hospital a desperate effort was made to save Miss McComb's life. Dr. George H. Adler reached her within 10 minutes after the shooting. He said that the wound was so critical that surgery was impossible. She went into a coma about an hour and a half after the shooting and has been given three plasma transfusions.

The bullet severed Miss McComb's jugular vein and is now lodged in the back of her neck near her spine. She was still in a coma late today, and her attending physician held out little hope of recovery. The bullet nicked the spine and her left side is paralyzed.

Yancey is a former Klamath Union high school football player. Early in the war, after he had entered the service, he entered a rodeo in California andwas severely injured when thrown from a bucking horse. His skull was fractured and he was unconscious for several days. Since returning from the service Yancey has worked at the library, operated a small repair shop back of Miss McComb's house and was employed for a few days as nightwatchman at the fairgrounds during the Klamath Centennial.

Miss McComb is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David McComb, well-known Klamath pioneers. She worked for several years at the city library here and in 134 was appointed county librari9an. She lived alone at the Crescent street residence since the death of her stepmother about a year ago. She was widely known and respected in the city and county.

Man To Face Assault Charge

Arthur East, 35, of the Early hotel, is in the city jail serving five days on a drunk charge and also faces an assault and battery count for allegedly beating up Mrs. Grace Yancey, 44, wife of C. H. Yancey, 1125 Grant, at the hotel Saturday evening.

Mrs. Yancey was treated for her injuries at Klamath Valley hospital and released. She placed the assault and battery charge against East with the district attorney. She was admitted to the hospital at 5:30 p. m., and released today.

East was arrested by city police and this morning pleaded guilty to being drunk. He received a five day sentence and bond was set at $100 on the assault count.

out priorities and price ceilings. The building industry cautiously ventures the belief that the new program will produce more rental units, better class homes and more commercial buildings.

WHATEVER produces more rental units helps effectively to cut down the housing shortage. Better class homes LAST LONGER, and give more satisfaction. New commercial building construction provides new jobs with which to pay for new homes.

It really does sound a little hopeful.

THE stock market, which bulged on the coal strike settlement, waned on the news of still more industrial disturbances and seemed to be settling back in bed for another siege of illness, sits up and begins to take nourishment again on the more hopeful news of today.

Carols Sung At Opening

South Sixth street residents and businessmen climaxed an all-day celebration Saturday with carol singing around a lighted Christmas tree. The festivities marked the official opening of S. 6th street.

Carolers from Sacred Heart academy were on hand and John H. Houston led community singing of traditional Christmas songs. From 7:30 to 8 p. m. the program was broadcast over radio station KFJI. In charge of that part of the day's activities was Ray Garrison.

The big tree, at Altamont and S. 6th, will be lighted every evening until after Christmas, and George Conner, chairman of the South Sixth Street Improvement association, is handling the presentation of recorded carols which will be heard in the neighborhood of the new thoroughfare by public address system.

Ending the special events was a program at the Tower theatre when gifts were given away.

Local Man Badly Beaten

Jack D. Turnblade, 920 Klamath, was treated at Klamath Valley hospital for a severely gashed head Sunday after he was allegedly attacked by three men on a "skidrow" street early Sunday morning.

He was found in a washroom at the Anchor hotel, bleeding from a cut in the back of his head, when city police answered a call to the hotel. Turnblade told police that he had been beaten up by three men whom he could not identify.

He was taken to the hospital where stitches were taken in the wound. Turnblade did not say where in town the altercation took place, but said that it was a "skidrow" street. He is an employe of the Klamath Shoe hospital.

Sales Tax Gets Boost

REEDSPORT, Dec. 16 (AP)—A sales tax held the recommendation today of a group of Lower Umpqua valley citizens who conferred with Douglas county's state legislators last week.

The group, meeting here with Sen. Thomas Parkinson and Reps. Robert C. Gile and Carl C. Hill, also urged employment of more state police at higher salaries; higher salaries for the Douglas county judge and surveyor; revision of the cities' share of gasoline taxes and liquor control funds.

Another proposal was to have definite sessions for the Douglas county court rather than continuous meetings.

in the living room but had left a two-gallon can of stove oil nearby. It was Munday's opinion that heat from the wood stove caused the explosion which turned the four-room residence into a roaring blaze. Munday had only been back at his job as bucker at the Jim Fisher logging camp on Sun mountain the past three weeks, having just recovered from a severe left arm injury received more than two months ago when a falling limb pinned his arm to a saw.

The Mundays purchased their home about one year ago. Munday said there was some insurance on the furniture but he did not think the residence was insured. The family has lived here for the past 12 years. Munday went to work for Jim Fisher six months ago. The interior of the house was gutted and Munday said he understood the only articles saved were some clothing belonging to the little girls.

The Klamath county fire department responded to the call to the Munday residence but was able to save only the exterior of the structure.

New Pine Creek

There will be a big bazaar at the Grange hall this Saturday evening, December 14, to which the public is cordially invited. There will be fish ponds, beano games, apron booth and a general sales counter for fancy work, a white elephant booth, a supper and dance following with a big time planned for all. A feature of the evening will be the raffling off of the large picture of Lily lake, painted and donated to the grange by Mrs. Eula Benefiel, local artist who has painted a great many pictures of Oregon and Nevada landscapes. Also an auto robe will be raffled off during the evening.

Lester Vernon has sold his home to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Combs of Sacramento, who moved in last week. Combs is working down at the Willow Ranch mill. The Combs have two small children. Lester and his wife are old timers here and they will be missed by the community. For the time being they will live in Alturas. Later they plan to locate in southern California.

The PTA held their meeting last Friday afternoon at the school house. Mrs. Homer McLain was elected president for the coming year; Mrs. Pat Hallinan, vice president, and Mrs. Fannie Fisher, secretary-treasurer. The group discussed their Christmas party and program for the school, which will be held December 20 at 1:30.

A matter brought up at the meeting by the teachers was that the school children should be cautioned by their parents to be more careful walking along the highway to and from school. They should walk along the right side of the road only and not scatter out across the road.

The Home Ec club held their meeting last Thursday, December 5. There was an election of officers. Mrs. Mary Millsap was elected the new president and Mrs. Emil Risley new vice president; Mrs. Eula Benefiel secretary and Mrs. Imogene Batman treasurer. Mrs. Mary Snider was elected reporter for the year.

The business of the meeting concened the various committee appointments to take care of the work of putting on the bazaar. Also plans were made for the Home Ec Christmas party to be held December 19, and the grange Christmas tree party for December 21.

The Girl Scouts held a big Christmas party last Tuesday evening at the Grange hall. Eighteen girls and their advisors and Scout leaders were present. Much credit goes to Leader Mary Millsap for the big success of the party and nice arrangement of everything. Games were played and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served in a nicely arranged fashion. Gifts were exchanged and opened much to the delight of the girls. The party closed with the singing of Christmas carols. The girls reported a grand time.

Mrs. Veda Wells has a new baby boy, born some time during the first of the month. They have not found a name for him yet, according to reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen McGrew and family from Prineville, Ore., were over last week-end to visit relatives and Glen got in on some final goose shooting.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Bryan left for Medford last Monday after spending several weeks visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Butler and son Kenneth returned last Sunday from a ten-day visit over Thanksgiving to Martinez, Calif., where they spent Thanksgiving Day with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mayhan and family. While gone they also spent some time in San Francisco and visited relatives in Reno.

Mrs. Frank Alexander spent a few days in the hospital with a bad case of flu. She was brought home on Monday feeling much better.

Kelton Butler has been building a room on the old Bill Burton cottage where he plans to make his future home.

Grand Jury Resumes Session

The Klamath county grand jury is in session again today after a week-end recess and this morning summoned Mayor Ed Ostendorf and State Police Sergeant Earl Tichenor.

Pioneer Community

Elmer Hosking, Klamath Falls realtor, was in the vicinity Tuesday of this week.

Mary House, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. House, has been ill with scarleteena.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cofer were in the community Saturday afternoon and after they returned home friends learned that Mrs. Cofer broke her wrist in a fall.

The telephone company is progressing rapidly with the new line being installed out this way. When completed, a number of new phones will be put in to accommodate those who have been waiting some time for service.

Earl Kerns is moving his cattle this week to the south for the winter. He has been loading at Worden and Chiloquin. F. D. Everhart is helping him. They expect to return on Sunday. While moving and loading cattle at Worden he was assisted by the Calwell brothers.

W. L. Frain has moved his cattle home from their summer range in the Topsy area. Helping him were W. G. Hoover, Dan Fitzgerald and T. G. Clemmens. After getting the cattle home, Frain had to return to Topsy and bring his truck back. Due to the storms the road was believed impassable, so Mr. and Mrs. Clemmens and Mr. and Mrs. Frain drove to Topsy via Montague, a distance of a hundred miles to reach a destination only 20 miles away from here. On their arrival there they learned the road was open and returned home over the shorter route.

Malin city councilmen attending the dinner at the Willard for the League of Oregon Cities were A. Kalina, Conrad Johnson, Ben Puckett, James Ottoman, Bonnie Stephens and Emil Tofell.

Plans were discussed for public card parties to be given some time in January and February. Birthdays honored for the evening were Abbie Herringshaw, Georgia George, Juanita Fabianek and Ann Morrow. Refreshments were served by Rose Spolek, Minnie Kirtley and Adelia Hawkins.

Wheat Price Shows Slump

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Profit-taking by professional traders swept over the grain pits in the last 15 minutes of trading today and prices dropped back sharply under the leadership of wheat.

Selling was based upon announcement of January export allocations which was made just prior to the market's close. Allocations are for 28,000,000 bushels of wheat, corn and other grains. This was a disappointment to traders as at least 30,000,000 bushels were expected to be allocated.

Deferred wheat futures received the brunt of the selling, the July contract dropping more than 3 cents before a covering slightly. Only grain to escape the selling wave was barley, which advanced on shortcovering.

Earlier in the session all grains had been firm with January wheat selling only 2½ cents under its 26-year peak.

Wheat closed unchanged to 2¼c lower, January $2.14¾, corn was ¾-1¼c lower, January $1.39-1.35¾, and oats unchanged to ½c lower, December 85¾c. December barley gained 6 cents, closing at $1.37.

Stock Market Stays Level

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Special issues including building stocks, edged forward in today's market while many leaders dozed at moderately lower levels.

Activity slackened appreciably after the opening. Early gains running to a point or so were reduced before midday and declines of as much dotted the ticker tape near the close. Transfers for the full proceedings held to around 1,000,000 shares.

Advances were recorded for Celotex, American Radiator, Certain-teed, Thompson-Starrett, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Southern Railway, Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, U. S. Gypsum and Johns-Manville.

Propping sentiment were good earnings, dividends and the hope that a year-end rally, which has occurred in most of the past 45 years, would eventuate.

Bonds were uneven.
