

Army Uncovers Films Of Hitler, Eva Braun Romance

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 20 (AP)—Intimate new details of the life of Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun have been uncovered by army seizure of 31 reels of color films.

The films, depicting gay parties at Berchtesgaden and in one sequence, Eva's sister blithely bathing in the nude in a mountain waterfall, were dug from a hiding place in the Bavarian mountains "several months ago," army intelligence officers disclosed today.

Taken between 1939 and 1941, long before the couple's marriage in Berlin's ruins, the films were described as the personal property of the German fuhrer and his bride. Intelligence officers said the films had been used in the search for wanted nazis and for the positive identification of hundreds of persons.

Most of the candid shots were taken by Heinrich Hoffman, Hitler's photographer, who now faces trial by his own countrymen before a denazification court, and his aides.

Officers said the entire collection takes 10 1/2 hours to show. Shots of Hitler show him gazing out from Berchtesgaden over the sunlit Bavarian peaks, uncertain and unsure of himself and his future; raving at Himmler, Ribbentrop and Goering, dancing a jig or idly waving a huge magnifying glass while studying a map of the war fronts.

Intelligence officers said shots that showed nervous twitches around the fuhrer's mouth and the constant movement of one knee were revealing of his character.

The films show frequent scenes of Hitler with Eva Braun, talking calmly to her or apparently kidding her.

"The shots of Eva alone show her to be a really beautiful woman," one officer commented. The films show Eva dressed nearly always in a blue polka dot skirt, white blouse and red velvet vest, with her long golden hair falling over her forehead. She is dancing, talking, playing with kittens or children or cavorting on the beaches in at least six gaily colored bathing suits.
