Season Is Festive With Yule Parties

The Klamath Falls social whirl was sailing 'round at its merriest this week with still more doings slated for coming days. Even the after-Christmas lull failed to put a damper on the gaiety of the holiday season.

A slightly wet December 25 added greater meaning to Irving Berlin's nostalgic wish for a "White Christmas." Next step, of course, is New Year's, when Klamath Falls will step out in its best bib and tucker to welcome 1947.

With that reflective note we move to other goings-on. Here's a bit of information that will help you enjoy your holiday corgage a little longer. When the party's over pack your flowers in the florist box, sprinkle a few drops of water on them, then stretch a sheet of cellophane over the top, seal the sides and ends with cellophane tape and tuck them in the refrigerator . . . tomorrow night your flowers will be as dewy-fresh as when you first wore them. The harder ones will stay fresh as much as two or three days longer.

Mary Havens, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. D. Havens of 1421 Pacific Terrace, arrived home last week-end from Stephens college for women in Columbia, Mo. She will spend the holidays in Klamath Falls and report back for classes on January 8.

A more dejected figure we've rarely seen. On Christmas Eve, just at dark we saw Santa Claus, complete with boots, red suit and beard, plodding homeward in the rain. He looked a bit tired and shopworn after his day in the department stores, as he walked along with his overcoat tucked under his arm . . . couldn't help wondering if his reindeer had a flat.

Guests at the T. H. Reeves home for Christmas dinner were their sons, Ted and Fred, home from the University of Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Reeves and daughters, Ramona and Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. John Arnn. Ramona Reeves is at home from the Southern Oregon College of Education at Ashland. Mrs. Arnn is the former Mary Margaret Scott. The Arnns are from Willard, N. M., and are staying at the E. P. Ivory home over the holidays. The Ivories are visiting in southern California and expect to return after the first of the year.

Spending this week at home is Mary Corrigan who arrived last week-end from San Francisco. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Corrigan of 1120 Monclair.

Junior, the baby Herald and News, has his trials and tribulations in the society department too. Seems as if we spent half the week answering calls from people who wanted to know if there was to be a society section this week . . . and here it is, in miniature, perhaps, but with no further comment, except our thanks for the concern shown about our page.

Yule Rites

Wed at 11 o'clock Christmas morning were Sylvia Wiggins and Charles H. Johnston, both of Oakland. Mr. Johnston is a former Klamath Falls resident. The ceremony was read by the Rev. David Barnett at the First Presbyterian church before the families of the couple.

Attendants were Cmdr. and Mrs. H. J. Scott of Oakland, Calif. Mrs. Scott is the sister of the groom.

A wedding dinner followed at the Crescent street home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will make their home in Oakland.

Mary Louise Loney and Barbara Alcorn left Christmas night for Seattle after a holiday visit with Miss Loney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Loney Jr., of LeRoy street. Miss Alcorn is a student at the University of Washington. Both young women served in the Waves during the war.

Coming Ceremony

MERRILL—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sharp announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Frances, to James E. Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hammond, all of Merrill. The wedding will be an event of Sunday, January 5, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Augustine's church at Merrill, with a reception to follow at the IOOF hall.

Reames Dance

Invitations are in the mail to members of Reames Golf and Country club for the gala New Year's Eve dance. The committee is at work arranging a gay affair with elaborate decorations and a promise of good music for dancing.

The dance will be formal. A midnight supper will be served to top off the evening's festivities.

Holiday Event

A large group of friends will gather at the Pelican party room tonight when Dr. and Mrs. F. Cecil Adams and Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Sharp entertain with a holiday party. Dinner and bridge are to be features of the evening.

New Year's Eve Ball Slated by Elks

Final plans are all set for the New Year's Eve ball at the Elks lodge. Dancing will be from 10 to 3 o'clock to music by Gordon's orchestra. Refreshments will be served buffet style, and noisemakers, hats, horns and the traditional New Year's paraphernalia will be furnished.

Engagement

Friends who called at the Frank Sexton home Friday evening learned of the engagement and forthcoming marriage of Patricia Sexton, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sexton, and Harold Bissell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bissell of Twinsburg, Ohio.

Guests were presented with flowers to which cards were attached bearing the names of the young couple. The wedding will be an event of January 25 in the Sacred Heart church.

Miss Sexton attended Marylhurst college and is a graduate of Oregon State college. Mr. Bissell is a graduate of Ohio State university and is now a medical student at Harvard. They will make their home in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Sunday Party

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Currin entertained with a cocktail party at their home, 3043 Shasta way, on Sunday evening, December 22. Honored were Mr. and Mrs. Van Scott Mollison, newcomers to Klamath Falls from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Mollison moved here about a month ago and are old friends of the Currins.

Invitations

Invitations are in the mail for the wedding of Monnette Calmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Calmes, to John Zarosinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Zarosinski. Rites will be solemnized at the First Methodist church on Saturday, January 11.

Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Humble held their traditional Christmas Eve open house at their home, 1320 Pacific Terrace. Nearly 200 guests dropped in for the evening's festivities. Their daughters, Nancy, home from the University of Oregon, and Sally, were in charge of the guest book.

Alumni Group Plans Dance For Monday

Oregon State college students and alumni will attend a dance at the Legion hall on Monday evening, December 30. The affair is sponsored by the OSC alumni group, with dancing to music by the Eagles orchestra, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Highlight

College students, home for the holidays, gathered at the T. H. Reeves home, 1825 Melrose, Thursday evening of this week, with a scavenger hunt the highlight of the evening. Refreshments were served late in the evening.
