

Machinists Portal Pay Meet Slated

By The Associated Press
The question of whether to file portal-to-portal pay claims involving "millions of dollars" for Seattle shipyard machinists will be acted upon Monday night at a meeting of the AFL-International Association of Machinists' Seattle local, I. A. Sandvigen, business agent, said today.

The action would involve machinists in wartime construction who were held on ships by yard rule until quitting time. Sandvigen said. He estimated it would involve 10 minutes a day at time-and-one-half, plus the same amount as a penalty—or a total of a half hour straight time pay for each day worked.

"I am convinced we can collect it," he said, adding that he would recommend legal steps to obtain it.

In Portland, however, spokesmen for both the AFL Machinists' and AFL Boilermakers' unions reported they had not considered any action on behalf of the thousands of members who were employed in the Portland-Vancouver area.

A circuit court in the same city denied a portal-to-portal pay claim filed by a machine shop foreman against the Commercial Iron Works for the sum of $276.93.

Judge James R. Bain ruled yesterday that H. W. Albrecht, the foreman, had reported to work 15 minutes early and stayed 15 minutes late of his own volition without company authorization. The company's attorney argued that the maritime commission ordered all unnecessary overtime halted unless the extra work was approved by the commission's agents.

School Enrollment Totals 2134 Here
Student enrollment at city elementary schools reached a total of 2134, figures compiled Tuesday, January 7, show. This is 17 over the total for January 1946 when 2117 was recorded.

Mills as usual leads with the highest enrollment of 605 pupils. Roosevelt comes in second with 312. The five remaining schools follow with Fairview 254, Pelican 220, both Junior high and Fremont tying with 215, Riverside 179, and Joseph Conger tagging at the end with 178.

Community Players Group Organization Meet Held

A small but interested group met Tuesday night at the home of the Rev. Godfrey Matthews, 2160 Garden, to discuss the organization of a Community Players group.

With the Rev. Mr. Matthews, pastor of the Community Congregational church, Garden and Martin, giving his own time to selecting and directing the plays and loaning the church facilities for practice with the consent of the church control board, the group recommended that a portion of the proceeds from any plays presented would be directed to church use.

While the church, through its pastor, is sponsoring the play group, Rev. Matthews emphatically stated that it is open to anyone interested in dramatics regardless of race or creed. Several religious plays will be given in the church during the year, it was decided and several of other types in some downtown auditorium.

Plays and players will be available for various benefits without cost to the organization concerned, such as Red Cross, Community Chest and so forth, according to preliminary plans. Other plays will be presented to the public on an entirely business basis with royalties paid as required.

One one-act play is now in the process of production. Three more one-act comedies were read at the meeting but no roles were cast. The group hopes to have three one-acts to present before Lent and work on a three-act play to be presented sometime after Easter.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Matthews at the conclusion of the business. The next meeting will be held at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, January 14, when roles will be assigned and work on the coming productions started.

A cordial invitation is extended to anyone interested to attend. Besides actors, stage hands, property men and scenery artists are needed.

Langell Valley Pioneer Dies

Charley J. Swingle, 80, for many years a resident of Klamath Falls and Langell valley, died January 7 at 2 p. m. in the McMinnville General hospital following a brief illness. Mr. Swingle was born May 22, 1866, and came to this section as a young boy. He owned a ranch in the valley district and was well loved by neighbors and his many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Swingle moved to Yamhill to be near their only daughter, Mrs. George (Oka) Zimmerman, but continued to hold their property here. Mrs. Swingle died two years ago.

Mr. Swingle became ill shortly before Christmas and developed pneumonia. In addition to his daughter, Mrs. Zimmerman, survivors include three grandchildren, Celia, Nona and Gordon Zimmerman, one great-grandchild and other relatives. Final rites will be announced later by the family.

Rich Gold Deposits In Idaho Found
TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Jan. 8 (AP)—Discovery of gold deposits near Salmon, Idaho, which have assayed at $1145.20 per ton was revealed today with announcement that commercial operations will begin in April.

The discovery was reported by H. B. Clark, Twin Falls attorney, and A. J. Bigley, former restaurant operator who has devoted his time to mining during the past year.

The samples were assayed at the Pittsburg, Calif., testing laboratory, they said.

The site of the discovery is near the center of early day gold dredging operations on the Salmon river.

RAINFALL HEAVY
ASTORIA, Jan. 8 (AP)—Astoria had plenty of Oregon mist last year—seven and a half feet of it.

It was the heaviest rainfall since 1837, but not, the weatherman pointed out, very abnormal. In 1933 it rained nine and a half feet.
