

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice of Klamath Falls, Ore., on August 20, 1910, under act of congress, March 3, 1879.

Today's Roundup

As such places go, the Klamath county jail has generally been considered around here as pretty good. It is a substantial structure, relatively modern, and consistently receives the approval of the county grand jury, both as to administrative and physical condition.

EPLEY

Without arguing with the findings of the federal prison board, it is worth mentioning at this time that Klamath county is attempting to set up a new jail, which will be operated in conjunction with the city of Klamath Falls as a city-county jail.

By the very nature of things, people are not inclined to take much interest in costly jail improvements. There is always in the background the thought that most people get into jail because of their own errors, and that law-abiding citizens should not be expected to do overly much in their behalf.

What is needed is a clean, honestly and carefully administered jail establishment, that will serve the purpose with due regard to humane principles. But it's not necessary to provide a country club atmosphere. A jail should remain "a good place to stay out of."

Congressional Prayers

MOST readers of the Congressional Record probably skip, among other things, the prayers that appear at the head of each day's report of the proceedings of house and senate. It is just possible that many representatives and senators fail to listen, too, when the chaplains pray. Many are absent at that time.

It occurred to this veteran reader of the Congressional Record today that it would be worthwhile to present here the prayers offered on one day of congressional proceedings. So, we begin with the Senate for January 8, 1947.

The chaplain, Rev. Peter Marshall, D. D., offered the following prayer: Eternal Father of our souls, grant to the members and the officers of this body a sacred moment of quiet rest they take up the duties of the day. Turn their thoughts to Thee, and open their hearts to Thy Spirit, that they may have wisdom in their decisions, understanding in their thinking, love in their attitudes, and mercy in their judgments.

Let them not think, when this prayer is said, that their dependence upon Thee is over, and forget Thy counsels for the rest of the day. Rather from these moments of heart-searching may there come such a sweetness of disposition that all may know that Thou art in this place. From this holy interlude may there flow light and joy and power that will remain with them until night shall bring Thy whispered benediction. "Well done, good and faithful servant." So help us all this day, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

And this is from the house report for the same day: The House met at 12 o'clock noon. The Chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer: Heavenly Father, the Lord of life and light, as we pray at Thy altar, hear Thy children. This day is for us; let us not make our hours vague, difficult, or unprofitable. So touch the impulses of our souls that we may justly claim the glorious right to live and to win the approval of a good name, which is the richest achievement of all human aspirations.

To both prayers, the people of the country, observing their legislators at work, may well echo Amen.

The World Today

WE are on the eve of one of the world's most important post-war elections—those which Poland is scheduled to hold tomorrow to select members of parliament. These elections are so vital that at the Yalta and Potsdam conferences, the Big Three guaranteed they would be fair and unfettered. Poland is the borderland between western and eastern Europe. It is the mightiest arch in the buttress which Russia has created to safeguard its western approaches.

It isn't strange, therefore, to find that the present provisional Warsaw government is dominated by communists. However, this red control is being heavily challenged by the Polish peasant party, headed by Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former premier of the war-time Polish government in London and now vice-premier of the Warsaw regime.

In short, Poland is in the throes of one of the fiercest battles which are being fought in various countries between communists and anti-communists. What is going on in Poland is similar to what has happened in other states of eastern and southeastern Europe. Albania, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Romania are among those which have been communized, and tomorrow's election is likely to tell us whether that country also is firmly within the fold.

Small wonder then that the western democracies are watching proceedings with anxious eyes, especially since charges and counter charges of trickery, brutality and even murder are being bandied about.

Wladislaw Gomułka, chief of the communist backed workers' party, denies that the police have manhandled the opposition. He says the only peasant party members arrested have been underground or criminal suspects.

The United States and Britain over a considerable period have been pressing Warsaw for fair elections. Poland's latest reply—that is, the red-dominated government's reply—is that she will conduct her elections as she sees fit, regardless of whether America or Britain approve.

Well, there you have the background for tomorrow.

Probably the most exciting feature of the Pelican-Central Point game last night was the half-time scrimmage between the two midwest teams. The little fellows really got out and provided some free-for-all playing. There were only 10 men on the floor, but at times they looked like a hundred. Irma McBride, KUHS midgetster, described the midget game for listeners. Don Neal will be on hand again tonight to bring hoop fans the fast delivery story of the second Pel-CP game from the KUHS floor. Time: 8 p. m., station: KFLW.

Charlie McFarlan, KFLW's newest announcer, gets set to give Paul Alexander, his morning program mate and tech, a cue signal to open his 7 a. m. morning newscast. Didn't your mother tell you never to point, Charlie?

Dr. Karl Krueger, director of the Detroit symphony orchestra, will wave the baton over his orchestra Sunday evening at 5 o'clock to open a new series over KFLW, "The Sunday Evening Hour." Dr. Krueger is the only American-born conductor of a major ensemble in the country. He is arranging his programs with the radio audience in mind and it is planned to use generally familiar to listeners and in many instances, compositions which have been requested.

A number of people have called in to ask, "What's become of Bill Williams?" Well, it seems that Bill took a vacation up to his home in Washington, but he's expected back before long. By the way, Bob McCall is on vacation, too. Bob's up near Mt. Hood taking in a little country life and doing lots of skiing.

The Theatre Guild brings Hendrik Ibsen's "The Doll's House" to the air tomorrow at 7 p. m. over KFLW. Dorothy McGuire is featured as the woman who is never allowed to face the realities of her position and Basil Rathbone as the man who holds her in mental bondage. At the time Ibsen wrote the play, 1879, it made dramatic history as the first and most significant social drama to deal with the problem of women's freedom.

On the Crime Front: Gang-busters will be off their regular Saturday spot over KFLW until after basketball season. Famous Jury Trials, KFLW, Saturday at 7 p. m., shows that, even in a murder, even the best thought up alibi can turn against the one it is meant to protect. Ross Dolan, private eye in "I Deal in Crime," KFLW, Saturday at 7:30, investigates a hit-and-run fatality, which turns out EXPERIENCE is teaching us that making PEOPLE safer is a long, slow, perhaps impossible job. But we can make ROADS safer. Four-laning them on critical curves and grades is one way. Slow traffic can then take the right-hand lane, leaving the left-hand lane for the faster vehicles. It all works out—very nicely.

Pioneer Community

Mrs. Fannie Talbot is again in Ashland helping to care for Aunt Lucy Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cofer called in this community on Saturday. Mrs. M. Galaspi and daughter Ann were shoppers in Klamath Falls Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Frain were shopping in Klamath on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Clemmens drove to Yreka, Calif., Friday. Accompanying them from Dorris were Johnny McGinnis, Mrs. Wilson, A. Mitchell and Mrs. Herman Johns. All went over as blood donors for J. N. Matthews who is in the hospital there in a serious condition from a heart ailment.

One of Tulelake's new home-owners-to-be is C. Brouso of Portland. He came Saturday to look over the homestead area. This is his first trip to this part of the country. He is much interested and thrilled by the fact that he may become a resident of the same.

While here he visited the T. G. Clemmens, returning to Portland on Monday where he is attending the Vanport extension school. Brouso's name was the 43rd drawn at the homestead drawing held here December 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Orcutt (Myrtle Herrick) have gone to Seattle, Wash., where they expect to make their home.

The past cold snap has been much appreciated by the younger group who have been enjoying a lot of good skating. All of the icy ponds have been bordered by warming fires.

Darlene Wilson of Klamath Falls visited at the R. E. Hurlbut home, returning home on Saturday accompanied by Reina and Beverly Hurlbut, who spent Saturday night there. The Wilsons are former residents of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frain of Fall Creek visited here last week.

Murder Trial To End Today

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 18 (AP)—A first-degree murder trial neared its close today for Armand Joseph Grieco, 22, Fort Lewis soldier who told a jury here that the first he knew of his wife's fatal stabbing in a beer tavern she was "lying in a pool of blood at the end of the bar."

3 Men Held In PO Holdups

PORTLAND, Jan. 18 (AP)—Three oPortlanders charged at Roseburg early this week with safe-cracking, today faced additional charges of burglary of the Westport and Lakeside post offices.

Postal inspectors said they had recovered $12,000 in stolen government bonds in caches at the Portland area. Inspector R. C. Sheldon said the bonds, in denominations of $25 to $100, were taken from the Lakeside post office December 5 and the Westport post office December 10.

Richmond Fire Costs $100,000

RICHMOND, Calif., Jan. 18 (AP)—Operators of the California Milling company counted their loss at $100,000 after flames had swept through a grain elevator here today.

The fire started before midnight. Ashes and destroyed grain still smoldered 8 hours later. Sparks threatened the homes of thousands of persons in the Richmond housing project, nearby, but the fire was confined to the elevator structure.

Stock Market Shows Gain

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—The stock market today celebrated the restoration of margin trading with an early burst of strength although quick profit taking soon cut down initial gains, running to two or more points.

Dealings, speedy for about twenty minutes, slowed as offerings appeared. While advances were widely distributed near the close, most leaders finished well under their tops. Volume of around 850,000 shares was one of the largest for Saturday in the past several months.

Better share performers included American Telephone, Goodyear, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, American Smelting, American Can, Allied Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Southern Pacific and Standard Oil (N. J.) Rail, on the whole, were exceptionally narrow.

Tending to restrain stock purchasers was another drop of major commodities. Bonds improved. In the curb support was accorded Mesabi Iron, United Light, Cities Service, Middle West Corp. and Textron.

Wheat Price Eases Today

CHICAGO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Wheat prices eased while corn and oats held mainly steady on the board of trade today. Wheat was off more than a cent at the start, but recovered partly soon after opening transactions were completed.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was 1-1/2 lower, March $2.05 1/2, corn unchanged to 1-1/2 higher, March 74 1/2. The action of the Kansas City Commodity Credit corporation in canceling present bids for export wheat, effective at noon today, again was of major interest to traders. This action applied to the Kansas City office only, and not other offices.

Surgery—Mrs. Dick Hayden, 700 N. 3rd, had major surgery at Hillside hospital Saturday morning. Mrs. Hayden's mother, Mrs. Milton O'Neill of San Francisco is expected here the latter part of the week to visit at the Hayden home.

Chamber Plans Spud Meeting

LAKEVIEW, Jan. 18.—Lake county potato growers are receiving invitations this week to attend a special meeting of the agriculture committee of the Lake County chamber of commerce next Monday to consider a proposed reduction of 2 cents in the commodity shipping rate of potatoes by rail from Lakeview to the San Francisco and Los Angeles areas.

The chamber, in conjunction with the county agent's office, has been negotiating for some time with the Southern Pacific company for a reduction in potato rates, so as to facilitate the expanding of the industry in this county.

Attention has been called to a 6 cent present differential in shipping rates from Lakeview, as compared with Klamath Falls. The existing rate from here is 32 cents per hundred weight, including a recent rate allowed by the interstate commerce commission. The railroad has proposed to reduce this rate to 26 cents.

Purpose of the chamber conference Monday morning is to determine if this 4 cents differential will allow for competitive marketing with the Klamath growers.

Mayberry Slated For Knife And Fork

Willard Mayberry, western Kansas "dirt" farmer and noted lecturer, will appear before the meeting of the Knife and Fork club at the Willard hotel Monday evening.

Mayberry will speak on "What Farming Means to City Dwellers." A keen interest in country life, country folk and their relationship to people in the more urban areas make him an authority on his topic. He has been a publisher, farmer, part-time politician and business man in the small town of Elkhart, Kas., most of his life and is well qualified with a knowledge of rural life.

Runaway Girl Found Here

State police last night picked up a 16-year-old Yakima, Wash., runaway girl and have turned her over to the juvenile office to hold until her parents arrive here sometime this week-end.

The girl told officers she was going to Los Angeles where she hoped to get a job. She was taken off a Greyhound bus at the depot and is now held in the girls' detention home.

A 14-year-old boy, escaped from Woodburn, was apprehended by city police yesterday afternoon and is also held in juvenile custody. The youth, a Klamath Falls boy, escaped from Woodburn about two months ago, and Faye Blackmer, deputy juvenile officer, said that he had been hiding out here in town since that time. He was committed to Woodburn for burglary.
