Democrat Byrd Tops GOP Demand For Spending Cuts

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.), topped some republican demands for economy today with an assertion that government spending can be cut to $32,000,000,000 in the next year.

Byrd's estimate—$5,500,000,000 below President Truman's budget figure—was given to a reporter before the four taxing and appropriating committees of the two houses convened to take an official look at the nation's prospective income and outgo.

Byrd, a member of the senate finance committee and a veteran pleaded for economy, said his studies indicate the budget for the year beginning next July 1 might be carried even below the $32,000,000,000 figure he regards as a maximum.

"By rigid economy and close investigation of the proposed spending items, I believe we can make even larger reductions than have been anticipated in some quarters," the Virginia democrat said.

While Senator Taft (R-Ohio), and some other GOP leaders have shied away from any slash in the $11,200,000,000 fixed in the White House budget for military expenditures, Byrd said he believes savings can be made there by more efficient administration without impairing national defense.

He estimated that 1,000,000 of the 2,400,000 government employes could be cut off the payrolls "without impairing efficiency."

Spud Support Talk Slated

TULELAKE, Jan. 20 — The Tulelake Growers association will hold a special dinner meeting Wednesday when representatives from the California office, field service branch, of the production and marketing administration, will discuss the government's potato price support program.

Growers will meet at the Sportsman's hotel at 6:30 p. m. The administration men will have complete instructions on the procedure on which all growers who have potatoes under loan to the government may obtain immediate assistance in disposition of them. Sugar beet acreage and 1947 contracts will occupy part of the session.

The state men who will be present are Roland Ballou, Mr. Page, and Norriss Chambers of Berkeley, and Hans Karstenson of Yreka.

The Growers' board of directors will present additional information of interest to members, according to Clifford Wood, manager.

Wood added that the state production and marketing office expects to keep a full time representative in Tulelake to expedite its program.

Portrait Studio Slates Contest

Miller's portrait studio this week announced a baby contest which the studio will sponsor starting February 1 and continuing through February 28. The contest is open to all children between the ages of three months and including five years, residing in Klamath county and the Tulelake area.

Judging will be done by popular vote, it was announced by Bob Jones, operator of the studio, and there will be 19 prizes awarded to 19 winners. Pictures will be on display at Miller's during the contest. Those wishing to enter their children are asked to make appointments as soon as possible.

Skid Into Bridge Fatal To One

PORTLAND, Jan. 20 (AP) — James F. Dewey, 22, was fatally injured last night on the Mt. Hood highway when an automobile in which he was a passenger skidded on the ice and struck the Cedar Creek canyon bridge abutment.

Three others were taken to a hospital here but Dewey was dead before an ambulance could reach the scene.

Brown Equipment Company Remodels

A remodeling program in the parts and sales room of the Brown Equipment company at 3049 S. 6th, is under way, which will increase show space and increase light. New windows are being added to the east and west walls, also. Work has been held up recently due to the carpenter's strike, according to Dick Brown.

Wonderland Talked At Meet

The proposal that the three southern Oregon counties, Jackson, Klamath and Lake, should support financially the Shasta-Cascade Wonderland association was discussed by delegates from the chambers of commerce of the three counties and the association in a meeting at the Medford Country club Friday noon, according to Charles R. Stark, manager of the Klamath county chamber.

A full report on the meeting will be given at the directors' meeting Wednesday noon, Stark said.

Attending the meeting from the Klamath chamber were Matt Finnigan, chairman of the chamber's tourist committee; J. Vern Owens, chamber director; Clarence Humble and T. C. Parker, members, and Stark. A fourman delegation was present from Lakeview, and about 10 from Jackson county. The Shasta-Cascade association was represented by two men.
