Klamath Folk Heed Call Of Winter

Many a family car these days is piled high with skis, poles and other winter sports gear as Klamath folk answer the call of snow-laden hills, with experts and beginners alike trying their luck on the ski runs . . . all of which leaves the social whirl in a somewhat deflated condition.

Warm rain and occasional scant sunshine this week were enough to melt snow in town much to the disgust of youngsters who were giving sleds and toboggans a workout on the snowy streets a few days ago.

June Hauger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hauger, and Maxine Liskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Liskey, are among Oregon Staters who head for Hoodoo bowl, northwest of Bend, in specially chartered buses every weekend. Skiers breakfast at Sweet Home and go on to Santiam lodge.

Speaking of Santiam, we're reminded that the latest issue of Holiday magazine features a story on winter wonderlands in Oregon which should delight the heart of winter sports fans as well as boost the morale of loyal Oregonians.

Another skiing enthusiast is Mildred Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Williams, who spent last week-end at Santiam lodge by way of special celebration of her birthday. Mildred is a sophomore at the University of Oregon . . . and, not to be outdone, the University of Oregon ski club also makes weekly jaunts to Santiam.

Madeline Mahoney, daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. A. Mahoney of North Ninth street, is spending the week-end with Yolanda Stoll of Eugene, a former Klamath Falls resident.

We hear that Mrs. Rose M. Poole wore a lovely corsage of gardenias at the Town and Gown tea in Salem last Thursday . . . the flowers were sent to her for the occasion by the Klamath Falls Soroptimist club, with which she has long been associated.

Today's society page will be the last edited by this scribe, who's vacation-bound for four weeks. Meanwhile, you may call Lois Stewart who will fill in during our absence. We'll be back on February 24 and in the harness again. See you then!

Six Years Old

Little Suzanne Biehn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. Biehn, was entertained with a party Monday afternoon at her home, 4650 Crosby, when a number of young friends and their mothers gathered to wish her a happy birthday. Suzanne is six years old.

Refreshments and games were highlights of the afternoon. Youngsters present were Suzanne, Rose Waters, Dianne and Bobby Lee, Jana and Jimmy Stenberg, Donny Ferrari, David Biehn and Jeannie Clanton.

Mothers who attended were Mrs. Fay Waters, Mrs. Paul Lee, Mrs. Oscar Stenberg, Mrs. Arthur Ferrari, Mrs. Harold Biehn, Mrs. Frank Clanton and Mrs. Biehn, Suzanne's mother.

Dinner guests at the John Randall home, 2636 Eberlein, tonight will be Mr. and Mrs. George Leber. Mrs. Randall is entertaining for her husband on his birthday.

Wedding Bells

Rites were solemnized in a double ring ceremony at the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, January 17, when Loretta Veda Cole, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Cole, became the bride of Donald E. Barlow, son of Mrs. Helen Barlow of Redwood City, Calif., and Lester Barlow of Klamath Falls.

White pom poms, palms and tall lighted tapers formed the setting for the service which was read by the Rev. Victor Phillips before the families and close friends of the young couple. Mrs. John O'Connor played traditional wedding music.

The bride entered on the arm of a close friend, Donald Bridge, who gave her in marriage. She was attired in a suit of navy with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Patricia Crow was maid of honor. She wore a suit of black with pink accessories. Her corsage was also of pink rosebuds. Best man was Owen Clark, friend of the bridegroom.

The bride and groom cut the first piece of their wedding cake at the reception which followed at the home of Ruth Dixon, 535 North Eleventh street. Mrs. Malcolm Teare served and Mrs. Minnie Scholer poured.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Barlow will be at home in Klamath Falls.

Orions

Orions met for their regular meeting Tuesday, January 21, in the Methodist church parlors. Mrs. Paul A. Lee, the newly elected president, conducted the business meeting, and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing games. Refreshments were served from an attractively arranged table by the hostesses, Mrs. Arthur Wiggins, Mrs. John W. Weber, Mrs. W. L. Terwilliger and Mrs. Charles Carlson.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. William Stolk, Mrs. H. E. Seidman, Mrs. Eldred Putnam, Mrs. Matthew Dorobis, Mrs. David L. Snyder, Mrs. John Larson Jr., Mrs. Fred Biehn, Mrs. Forrest Alter, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. C. E. Dunlap, Mrs. Stanley Bechiel, Mrs. John Heydon, Mrs. James Berg, Mrs. Harold Palmer, Mrs. Lelia Newton, Mrs. Dorothy Teater.

Mrs. Martha Ulrich, Mrs. Charles Cummings, Mrs. Arthur Wiggins, Mrs. T. J. O'Hara, Mrs. Jerry Thomas, Mrs. John W. Weber, Mrs. Cy Baker, Mrs. V. W. Wichter, Mrs. Charles Thornton, Mrs. W. D. Elliott, Mrs. S. R. Balsiger, Mrs. K. H. Samson, Mrs. V. J. Barron, Mrs. Paul A. Lee, Mrs. Charles A. Finch, Mrs. Isabel Jackson, Mrs. Paul Deller, Mrs. Wendell B. Smith, Mrs. Maurice Miller, Mrs. Charles Carlson, Mrs. Ray Ward and Mrs. Ray L. Garrison.

Three encores were graciously played in response to an insistent audience. The program opened with a Haydn number, Divertimento, followed by the difficult Brahms' Sonata in E minor, and completed by Franz Schubert's Introduction, Theme and Variations, a work transcribed for cello and piano by Piatigorsky. The second group included Malinconia, Jean Sibelius; Allegro, Appassionato, Camille Saint-Saens; Chopin's Nocturne in C-sharp Minor; Manuel de Falla's Danse of Terror from El Amor Brujo; Sergei Prokofieff's March from Pieces for Children, and Piatigorsky's

Luncheon

The Klamath Falls Soroptimist club met for a noon luncheon in the Pelican party room last Thursday.

Members were happy to greet Josephine Kittredge as a new member. She has transferred her membership from the Lakeview club.

Special guest at the meeting was Mrs. Kafer, Field Advisor for Girl Scouts for the Northwest region, who has headquarters in Seattle. Mrs. Kafer told of the aims of the Girl Scout movement, and elaborated on the theme this year, which is "understanding," a close follow-up of the theme of last year on "friendship." She told of a six-week summer camp to be held this summer in Pennsylvania. At this camp will be an outstanding Girl Scout from each state and outstanding Scouts from various countries in the western hemisphere.

Announcement was made of a Venture club dinner party to be held at the Winema hotel on Wednesday, January 29. Special guests at the party will be members of the Soroptimist club who are sponsoring Venture club members.

Honored

B. S. "Back" Grigsby, Klamath county pioneer, will be honored tomorrow, Sunday, January 26, on the occasion of his 84th birthday anniversary with a dinner party at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ida Grimes, 1937 Portland.

Present at the affair will be Mr. Grigsby's four daughters, Mrs. Grimes, Mrs. Henry Grimes, Mrs. O. L. Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth Sanders, the latter arriving Saturday morning from Portland for the occasion; James Grimes, a grandson; a brother, E. E. Bond, of Medford who arrived Friday night from the valley; two cousins and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Will Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pierce, all of Klamath Falls, O. L. Brown and Henry Grimes, and Mrs. Ivy Propst, close friend of the family.

Little Ralph David Totton is a newcomer in the family. The young man arrived on Thursday, January 9. He is the second child of Mr. and Mrs. David Totton of Klamath Falls, and tipped Klamath Valley hospital scales at 7 pounds 5 ounces.

MRS. MARSHALL E. CORNETT of Klamath Falls, wife of the president of the senate, received guests at the Town and Gown tea, first social event of the Salem legislative social season, held at Lausanne hall last Thursday.

Town And Gown Tea Held In Salem

Opening the legislative social season at Salem this week was the Town and Gown club tea at Lausanne hall. Receiving guests during the afternoon were Mrs. James Brand, wife of the chief justice of the supreme court; Mrs. Melvin H. Geist, president of the Town and Gown club; Mrs. Marshall E. Cornett of Klamath Falls, wife of the president of the senate, and Mrs. John Hall, wife of the speaker of the house.

Mrs. Earl Snell, wife of the governor, and Mrs. Leslie Scott, wife of the state treasurer, presided at the tea table, which was lovely with its centerpieces of pink and lavender flowers tied with a bow of darker shade and encircled in a net-frilled heart.

King Of Hearts

Jobs Daughters this week elected Bud Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, King of Hearts for their annual Valentine formal dance, slated for Friday, February 14, at the Masonic temple.

Mrs. Cornett has busy days ahead of her, with invitations to a number of forthcoming social events, including a tea on January 27 by Mrs. Charles A. Sprague. She will receive at a tea on January 29 when Mrs. Douglas McKay, wife of Senator McKay, will entertain, and she will receive with the wives of the supreme court justices at their tea on February 4.

The King of Hearts will be crowned during intermission by the honored queen of Jobs Daughters, Marilyn O'Neill. Elected knights for the formal ball are Bill Colbert, Irwin Whitt, Milton Thompson and Tom Edwards.

To escort the knights are Lynn King, Mary Lou Case, Dorothy Cogdill, Georgianna Clark and Beverly Young.

St. Paul's Scene Of Sunday Rites

In a simple ceremony read at 4 o'clock, Saturday, January 18, Mary Elizabeth McKey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McKey of New York City, became the bride of Joseph W. Leonard of this city. Single ring rites were solemnized by the Rev. Frederick C. Wissenbach, pastor, at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Bouquets of white carnations and stephanotis were placed at the altar.

For her wedding the bride chose a dressmaker suit of light blue with a soft white blouse. Her small black hat was trimmed with blue feathers. A corsage of Talisman roses was pinned at the lapel of her jacket.

Mrs. Harold McKey, who was here from New York to attend the wedding, gave her daughter in marriage and was also her only attendant. Best man was M. P. Leonard.

Saturday evening the bridal party enjoyed dinner at Lakeshore inn, where the couple cut their wedding cake. The following day Mr. and Mrs. Leonard left for Crater lake where they planned to spend several days. Upon their return they will be at home in Klamath Falls. Mrs. Leonard is formerly of New York City and before assuming the duties of Camp Fire Girl executive in Klamath Falls, she served overseas with the Red Cross.

Mr. Leonard served in the navy during the war and is now employed here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leonard of Berkeley, Calif.

Mrs. Tommy Tromonle of 1048 Eldorado entertained on Sunday, January 18, with a buffet luncheon, followed by cards, in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary.

Guests were Mr. Tromonle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keating, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peltz, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boivin, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Perry and Mrs. Nellie Crawford of Portland.

An event of Friday night, January 31, will be the annual Snow Ball, formal dance for members of De Molay and their dates, at the Masonic temple. Reining over the festivities will be Lynden King. Elected to her court are Marilyn O'Neill, Carmen Jones, Mary O'Brien and Mary Lou Case.

All charter members of the local league are urged to be present. The members of legislative committees of other organizations are invited, and all women of the community are welcome.

The Business and Professional Women's club installed 15 new members and held its annual emblem ceremony at a special dinner meeting Monday evening at the Winema hotel.

Suzanne Hamilton, membership chairman, presented the new members, who recited in unison the club pledge. Mayme Johnson, emblem chairman, and her committee members presented the emblem ceremony. Winnifred Gillem sang "Peace I Leave With You," followed by a solo, "The Golden Key" by Dorothy Ackerman.

Tables were decorated in the club colors, green and gold. The next regular meeting will be held at the Willard hotel on February 3. The session will be a social meeting.

The 8-40 salon, No. 355, will hold its January meeting Wednesday, January 29, at the home of Mrs. Edna Russell, 318 Pacific Terrace, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Carl Schaubert, La Chapeau, asks all members to be present as plans for entertaining the state officers will be discussed.

Reports from the board meeting held in Portland and attended by Mrs. Paul Otterbein, state L'Amourier, will be given at this meeting. Mrs. Rhinehart Molschenbacher will be the assistant hostess.

Mrs. Belle Baker of 423 N. 1st announces the engagement of her daughter, Lillian Baker, to Stanley Van Ootengham of Seattle, Wash., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ootengham, also of that city.

Miss Baker's fiance served overseas in the European theater during World War II, and was stationed with the army at Tulelake when she first met him. No definite date has been set for the wedding, but it will be an event of early spring and will take place in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Eighmy spent several days last week in Sun Valley, and went from there to Portland where they planned to visit.

Valentine Ball

The first inkling of what's in store for Elks and their ladies at the Valentine ball came this week with an announcement from the committee arranging the event, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rajnus of Malin.

Slated for Saturday night, February 15, the affair will be formal for women. There will be prizes of various kinds during the evening, and a buffet supper, with baked ham heading the list of fine food. Decorations will follow the Valentine motif.

Working with Mr. and Mrs. Rajnus on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stonecypher, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kalina, Mr. and Mrs. William Rajnus, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Vaclav Kalina, Mr. and Mrs. James Drazil and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Tofel, all of Malin.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Jennings this week announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Vernon Tuter, also of Klamath Falls. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil L. Tuter.

The wedding date has been set for March. Miss Jennings, a graduate of Klamath Union high school, is employed in the office of the American News company. Mr. Tuter, also a KUHS graduate, recently was discharged from the navy.

EXCHANGING VOWS at St. Paul's Episcopal church on Saturday, January 18, were Mary Elizabeth McKey and Joseph W. Leonard, both of Klamath Falls. The ceremony was read at 4 o'clock before the immediate families of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard will reside in Klamath Falls following their return from a stay of several days at Crater lake. —Guderian.

Music Lovers Hear Second Concert

The Klamath Community Concert association's second concert of the season, heard last Tuesday night at the Pelican theatre, thrilled the lovers of good music and especially those who thoroughly enjoy string instruments when Gregor Piatigorsky presented a full evening's entertainment.

Called by the nation's most critical music critics—"America's finest 'cellist"—hurdled Piatigorsky's appearance here and those who gathered at the Pelican were not disappointed at the artistry which the 'cellist displayed. He appeared totally the master of the cello, evoking from its strings deep organ-like tones and again, lovely high-sweeping notes that fairly sang.

Much credit should go to Piatigorsky's accompanist, Ralph Berkowitz, who seemed to us to have more than the usual accompanist's responsibility as Piatigorsky's program, particularly the first three numbers, was difficult and exacting in its demands from the man at the piano.

Three encores were graciously played in response to an insistent audience. The program opened with a Haydn number, Divertimento, followed by the difficult Brahms' Sonata in E minor, and completed by Franz Schubert's Introduction, Theme and Variations, a work transcribed for cello and piano by Piatigorsky. The second group included Malinconia, Jean Sibelius; Allegro, Appassionato, Camille Saint-Saens; Chopin's Nocturne in C-sharp Minor; Manuel de Falla's Danse of Terror from El Amor Brujo; Sergei Prokofieff's March from Pieces for Children, and Piatigorsky's own variations in popular style on a Theme of Paganini.

The next community concert is slated for Thursday, April 10, when Marina Svetlova will present a ballet routine at the Pelican. The final concert of the series will be the presentation of Bidu Sayao, widely-acclaimed Brazilian singer, the night of April 18.

Michael and Carol Siddens celebrated their birthdays with a party last Thursday afternoon, January 23, at their home, 2335 Radcliffe. Michael is five years old, and little Carol will be two years old February 2.

Hats, favors, games and refreshments completed an evening of activity for the youngsters.

Invited were Michael and Carol, Judy and Susan Sleight, Sandra Lee and Lanny Gyer, Cathy Cater, Gary Smith, Denny Frye, Sherri Longe, Linda Webber and Bobby Shepard.

ENGAGEMENT NEWS WAS TOLD this week when Mr. and Mrs. A. Pinelli announced the betrothal of their daughter, June, to Mike Eittrheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eittrheim, all of Klamath Falls. —Evergreen.

ANNE JEAN DREW, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Drew, became the bride of Jesse Angel Jr. in a double ring ceremony at the First Presbyterian church on January 12. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Angel of Klamath Falls. Their wedding trip took them to California. —Kennell-Ellis.
