Home Extension Unit News

Midland

The Midland home extension unit met at the home of Mrs. John Mistler on January 21, with Mrs. W. K. Gillen conducting the demonstrating "Color in the Home." Many helpful and enlightening ideas were brought forth on how to furnish the home. Such as selecting the proper colors in drapes, chairs, floor coverings, pictures and walls and matching them properly.

After the demonstration the business was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. Lee Sutton. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Joe Milani with Mrs. George Andrieu demonstrating "Bread Baking." At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Mistler to Mrs. Gillen, nine members and five children.

Bonanza

The Bonanza extension unit met at the home of Mrs. Fred Rueck January 14 with Mrs. Edmund Gowen and Mrs. Henry Schmor demonstrating "Better Bread Baking." They made cheese and peanut butter rolls, also a loaf of whole-wheat bread and rolls and served them with luncheon. A business meeting followed the luncheon. The next meeting will be held February 12 at the home of Mrs. Benson Dixon. The subject will be "Color in the Home," demonstrated by Mrs. W. K. Gillen.

Altamont

Mrs. Walter Uppendahl and Mrs. Dan Mathis gave a very interesting demonstration on making bread and rolls at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Crawford. Both women are very successful bread makers and are frequently asked to furnish rolls for the luncheons. Mrs. Uppendahl was the leading demonstrator on the sweet roll project and also had a very interesting demonstration on various kinds of salads last year. She has been active in community work having taken nurse's aid and Red Cross aid training. She was an instructor when the Red Cross bandages were being made. She is serving a second year as vice chairman of the unit. Mrs. Uppendahl has helped keep up the attendance average by bringing her car filled with members or guests to the meetings. Mrs. Mathis gave a short demonstration on flower arrangement. Mrs. Crawford was awarded the vase and its contents.

The business meeting was held in the afternoon, Mrs. S. H. Dahler presiding. Mrs. Dahler read a letter from an ACCW pen pal in England. The recreation committee, Mrs. Harry Lester and Mrs. Eckert have some very clever ideas for the enjoyment and recreation of those attending. There were 16 members, five children and Mrs. E. L. Ricker and Mrs. Ben Sheppard as guests, present. Mrs. Dan Mathis will be hostess for the next meeting in her home, when Mrs. W. K. Gillen will demonstrate "Color in the Home."

Bly

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Ellingson at Ivory Pine. An attractive winter flower arrangement was prepared by Mrs. F. H. Armstrong. Mrs. James Dixon chairman, presided at the business meeting. "Color in the Home" was demonstrated. There were 12 members and one guest present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ben Angus on February 13. "Yeast Breads" will be demonstrated by Mrs. Duane Cassidy and Elizabeth McLean.

Fairhaven

"Color in the home" was the topic discussed at the Fairhaven home extension unit meeting on January 15, with Mrs. Winnifred Gillen leading the discussion. Various color combinations were shown, with numerous samples of wall paper, drapery, rug and upholstery materials. Especially interesting were the hand-made pictures carrying out the color scheme used in the room.

Mrs. Percy Cook, chairman of the unit,, was hostess to the group of ten at her home. Attending for the first time this year were Mrs. E. R. Roberts and Mrs. A. L. Loomis. Mrs. Loomis is a past president of the unit, and the next meeting, "Bread Baking," led by Mrs. Melvin Gallaspy and Mrs. Howard Holliday, will be held at her home on February 19.

Mrs. Ralph Bower, finance chairman, reported that $62 has been turned in to the county committee as Fairhaven's contribution to the Co-Op house in Corvallis. This money was donated to the unit for the purpose of helping finance the house by various business firms in the Fairhaven district.

Mrs. Lee Holliday and Mrs. Percy Cook read letters they had received from ACWW pen friends in England.

Sheep Heads Urge Increase

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29 (AP) Sheepmen must substantially increase lamb production to supply a greater demand and more evenly spread higher production costs, W. C. Crew, assistant general manager of the Denver Union Stockyard company, told delegates to the 82nd annual convention of the National Wool Growers association Tuesday.

Crew pointed out that lamb production in Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and California declined over 6,000,000 head during the war years, while consumption on the Pacific coast alone climbed to 3,750,000 head.

Only the fact that Texas increased its production 4,500,000 animals prevented a drastic shortage of lamb on the eastern seaboard, which consumes 75 per cent of that eaten in America, the speaker declared.

Crew also called for efforts to have wool processed in the west, instead of sending it east, and lauded the move of western packers to increase slaughtering facilities, principally in Denver, Ogden, Utah, and Texas.

Former Merrill Family In Dayton

MERRILL, Jan. 29—Mrs. Lettie Scofield and her invalid husband, 300-pound Fred, whose pictures appeared in last Sunday's Oregonian, are former residents of Merrill. The family which then included three sons lived in a one-room cabin in the rear of the Lost River hotel about six years ago.

Mrs. Scofield, 59, and her small sons were the sole support of the family. Her husband, 10 years her junior, has been bedridden for the last eight years with what doctors say is an inoperable disease.

One son, Russell, 14, remains with the family in a farm labor camp at Dayton.
