Driver Pays $80 In Fines

A large new car which was towed in to the station by city police Wednesday was found to belong to John Stanziano, 34, of the Winema hotel, when Stanziano came to the city hall yesterday afternoon to pay fines amounting to $80 for failure to stop at the scene of an accident and failure to fill out an accident report.

The car was located Wednesday in a paint shop on Oregon avenue. Police said that it had been involved in an accident with a parked car on Oregon avenue Tuesday, and that Stanziano did not stop after hitting the parked vehicle nor did he report the accident.

Traffic arrests and parking meter violations made up the bulk of police routine for the past 24 hours.

Jackson D. Coleman, 224 Michigan, was booked at the police station last night for failure to yield the right of way at 11th and Main after he was involved in an accident with a car operated by Colleen McEnerney, 2904 Summers lane, last night.

Robert Leslie Hudson, 631 Main, posted $25 bail this morning for reckless driving on S. 6th.

In the drive to enforce the state law which provides that car registrations will be displayed in automobiles, police have collected bails of $3 from Cecil Matt, route 3; T. C. Griggs, 2135 Darrow; James Morrison, 759 California; Lee Roy Travis, 1838 Division; F. W. Hahn, 125 N. Broad, and LeRoy Hackenworth, Cottage Grove.

Market Quotations

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—Stocks generally moved upward today under the guidance of steels although real vigor was lacking and late offerings cut down a number of leaders.

The swing developed after further profit taking irregularity in the first hour with metals attracting the principal demand. While there were several fairly active intervals, slowdowns appeared frequently and top advances of major fractions to 2 or more points suffered reductions or were cancelled in most cases at the close. A smattering of minus signs also was in evidence. Approaching the finish the pace quickened and transfers for the full proceedings approximated 1,300,000 shares.

Corn And Wheat Prices Make Gain

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Persistent buying based on further emphasizing of the world food shortage sent wheat and corn ahead for substantial gains on the board of trade today. Oats were firm.

March wheat paced the advance, moving to another new seasonal peak on gains which at times extended to more than two cents. Local traders, commission houses and shipping interests were in on the buying.

Buying was stimulated by a higher cash market at Minneapolis, where traders believe the government will soon start purchasing wheat for export, and a boost of two cents a bushel in the Canadian price for wheat for export to countries other than Great Britain.
