

Vows Exchanged At Sacred Heart Altar

Patricia Sexton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank X. Sexton of 235 Riverside, was a lovely bride as she walked down the aisle of Sacred Heart church Saturday morning of last week at 10:30 o'clock to exchange vows before the altar with Harold Dean Bissell. The Rev. Father Timothy P. Casey read the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Patricia chose a stately gown of white moire and a fingertip veil which was held in place by a Juliet cap and clusters of lilies-of-the-valley. Her bouquet was of red roses.

The wedding music was played on the church organ by Warren Cronon and the bride's two sisters, who were also her attendants, sang. Mariann's song was "Panie Angelicus" and Mary Louise sang Gounod's "Ave Maria."

For their sister's wedding Mary Louise, the maid of honor, and Mariann, the bridesmaid, wore identical frocks of chartruse moire with matching hats and gloves and they carried bouquets of lilies. The best man was Frank Brunner and ushers were William Heup, Bernard Cavanaugh, Stephen Sabo Jr., and Paul R. Bergan of Pullman, Wash.

Immediately after the church service, the young couple greeted guests at the door and proceeded to the Pelican party room where breakfast was served to some 60 guests. They cut their beautifully decorated cake which centered the bride's table. During breakfast Mariann sang "Because" and "Through the Years" and Mary Louise sang "Your Love to Hold." Warren Cronon accompanied on the piano.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bissell left for Cambridge, Mass., where he will study at Harvard for his doctor's degree. The bride is a member of an old Klamath family, was graduated from Sacred Heart academy and Oregon State college where she was a member of Delta Zeta sorority. Mr. Bissell, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bissell of Twinsburg, Ohio, is a graduate of Ohio State university, was stationed at the Marine Barracks here and served as pharmacist mate, United States navy, and worked under Capt. Lowell T. Coggeshall, USNR. He will complete his work in bio-chemistry at Harvard where he has been a student since his release from the navy in June, 1946.

For traveling Mrs. Bissell chose a suit of green with brown accessories, a pink felt hat and corsage of roses.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. P. S. Proulx of St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. E. E. Laudwein of Spokane, Wash., aunts of the bride. Mrs. W. J. Grove of Merrill and Mrs. W. C. Dalton of Malin, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walsh and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kelleher of Tulelake.

Carnival

Plans are complete for the annual spring carnival given for the benefit of Sacred Heart academy this Saturday, tonight, at 7 o'clock in the school auditorium.

All children are working to make the affair a success and proceeds go to the school and to the Sisters of St. Francis. Mrs. David R. Vandenberg is general chairman and room mothers and those on the general committee include Mrs. John Kubelick, Mrs. Stanley Peiser, Mrs. John Ely, Mrs. John Nidorf, Mrs. A. P. Heup, Mrs. John Paul, Mrs. Otto Smith, Mrs. William Neuman, Mrs. E. M. Igl and Mrs. Jack Gallagher, publicity.

There will be various booths and "pools" with games for all and the public as well as parents of the children are urged to attend.

Miss McDaniel Pledges At OSC

Darleen McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McDaniel, 2332 Orchard, has pledged Delta Zeta sorority at Oregon State college where she is a first year student. The pledging took place in the Delta Zeta lounge on January 12 and was followed by a pledge dinner.

Nuptial Vows Exchanged In San Mateo

Of interest to many Klamath folks is word from San Mateo, Calif., of the recent marriage at a nuptial mass in St. Matthews Catholic church there of Patricia A. Sexton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lester Williamson of San Mateo, to Daniel Crowley Mahoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Mahoney of Portland, formerly of this city.

Mrs. Mahoney went south for the ceremony. Mr. Mahoney was unable to attend as he is in Tokyo serving as chief prosecutor at the major war crimes trials. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of white satin and French marquisette made with a full train. Her long veil was held in place by a coronet of lace and cyclamen and she carried a shower bouquet of bouvardia and cyclamen. Mrs. Mary Jane Van Dusen of Astoria, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor in yellow net and carrying Talisman roses and carnations. George Mackin of Portland was best man. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents after which the newlyweds left on a wedding trip. They will make their home in Eugene while Mr. Mahoney is attending the University of Oregon.

Mr. Mahoney attended school here and at Hill Military academy, Portland, and the University of Oregon before entering the service where he served as captain for four years with the AAF in the Pacific area.

Luncheon

Mrs. Phillip Cole entertained at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Pelican with an informal luncheon honoring Mary-Alice Blocklinger whose marriage will be an event of next Friday at St. Paul's Episcopal church when she exchanges vows with Richard Atiyeh of Portland.

Guests included Mary-Alice Blocklinger, Mrs. Arthur F. Blocklinger of Chiloquin, Mrs. Marvin Nersteth, Mrs. Grace Wells, Mrs. Ida Grimes and the hostess.

Nile Club

The regular meeting of the Klamath Falls Nile club will be held in the Pelican party room Wednesday, February 5. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Maurice Sherman, chairman; Mrs. E. G. Gienger, Mrs. W. L. Frain, Mrs. William Hackler, Mrs. Walter Brown, Mrs. Calvin Hunt, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Walter Beane, Mrs. Everett Metler and Mrs. Charles Hamilton.

There will be election of officers and all members are cordially invited to attend.

Buffet Supper

Dr. and Mrs. George DeWoody Massey entertained at their home, 1000 Pacific Terrace, with a buffet supper at 7 o'clock Friday evening of last week.

Guests of the Masseys were Dr. and Mrs. George Goehring, Mr. and Mrs. Burge Mason Jr., Mrs. Ailsa Kuykendall and William Spangler.

The Klamath Medical society met for dinner Tuesday night in the Pelican party room where places were set for 12. Dr. Neil F. Black made arrangements.

THE THREE DAUGHTERS of Mr. and Mrs. Frank X. Sexton made up the wedding party for Patricia, the bride, at Sacred Heart church last Saturday morning. Left, Mary Louise, maid of honor, and right, Mariann, bridesmaid. Patricia exchanged vows with Harold Dean Bissell, Harvard student, who came west last week for the ceremony.

Luncheon Is Arranged In Party Room

Mrs. B. C. Johnston, member of the Camp Fire board and for many years president of the council, was honored at an attractive luncheon arranged by the Camp Fire Girls council today, Saturday, at 1 o'clock in the Pelican party room.

The long table was decked with bowls of daffodils and spring blossoms and members of the council presented a gift to Mrs. Johnston in recognition of her years of service to the organization. Mrs. R. E. Hooker, chairman of the social committee, made luncheon plans.

Members of the council are Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Percy Murray, Mrs. Kenneth A. Moore, Mrs. Ray W. Oldenburg, Mrs. Paul O. Landry, Mrs. Dave Liskey, Mrs. John Selby, Mrs. John Kennedy, Mrs. James Kerns, president, Mrs. L. L. Traux, Mrs. Robert A. Thompson, Mrs. L. A. French, Mrs. Henry C. Gerber, Mrs. A. C. Backes, Mrs. Louis R. Mann, Mrs. Clarence Humble, Mrs. Hooker and Eva Burkhalter.

There were a number of guests invited to the affair, women who have worked in Camp Fire. They are Mrs. J. K. McAndrews, Mrs. Morgan Johnson, Mrs. Vernon Moore, Mrs. E. A. Geary, Mrs. Warren Bessel, Mrs. A. J. McDonald, Mrs. F. O. Small, Mrs. Loren Palmerton and Mrs. F. Cecil Adams. Also present was Mrs. Joseph W. Leonard, executive secretary of Camp Fire Girls.

Dessert Bridge

Members of her bridge club were entertained by Mrs. Marvin K. Lucas at dessert last week at the Lucas home on Pacific Terrace.

A guest of the afternoon was Mrs. John Schubert and members present were Mrs. Kenneth G. Klahn, Mrs. Everett Vanderpool, Mrs. Vernon Moore, Mrs. Frank Peyton, Mrs. Roy Whytal, Mrs. James Clark and Mrs. W. L. Bullard.

Pleased to Report—Improvement of Mrs. Laura Chamberlain who was moved from Klamath Valley hospital by ambulance late Friday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Underwood, 320 N. 7th. Mrs. Chamberlain is making nice progress following a fall before the holidays.

Travel Tickets Take Klamath Folks Places All Over The Country

Practically everybody we know is tripping somewhere—Mexico, Europe, New York, southern California and even to Salem! Folks just back from Richardson Springs tell us of quite a few Klamathites who are enjoying the early spring while we're sweeping the sidewalks of snow and taking part in that everlasting hunt for little galoshes, caps and gloves.

One of the most interesting trips will start Sunday morning when Dr. and Mrs. F. Cecil Adams and Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lemery—the latter from Medford—start south for a month's stay in New Orleans. They will enjoy the Mardi Gras which ends Shrove Tuesday, February 18, and all the gaiety of that season. The two couples have received invitations to three balls to be given during the Mardi Gras. Dr. and Mrs. Lemery, who have visited here frequently, were married in New Orleans and have friends there. While south both doctors will study at Tulane university. They plan to be gone for just about one month and are returning by way of Galveston, Tex., to visit Dr. Lemery's family. The Lemerys are driving here late today from Medford to join the Adams, and they will make the trip south by train.

Going places soon are Dr. and Mrs. Albert O. Roenicke who have reservations on the City of San Francisco and will leave here February 3—next Monday—for Chicago where Dr. Roenicke will attend the Chicago Dental society meeting. They plan to visit Mrs. Roenicke's mother, Mrs. Charles E. Brown of Vernon Center, Minnesota, known to many here where she has visited frequently and to also visit in Madison, Wisconsin, where Mrs. Roenicke's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Husting, are students at the university. They were married in the South Pacific during the war—she was an army nurse—he an army officer. En route home they'll visit in Portland with Dr. and Mrs. Alan W. Smith, Dr. Roenicke's sister and family, getting back here around February 20.

Incidentally, Mrs. Roenicke's nephew and his bride have been in the national news and on the air of late following their marriage in a little parish chapel at Daly City. The bride, formerly Jacqueline Morot of Paris, met her husband-to-be, Kermit King Brown, when he was in the United States foreign service, diplomatic corps, and Jacqueline's brother was in the French consular service. Their meeting took place between Madrid and Paris and before Kermit returned to this country their engagement was announced. She flew from Paris to London and from there to New York and on to San Francisco. Pictures of the attractive French girl were made in London and relayed by INS all over the country and several people here tuned in on a radio interview this week beamed from San Francisco where they are at home.

Mrs. A. J. Voyer here briefly this week, returning Wednesday to San Francisco. She returned during holiday time from a long visit on the eastern coast and is now making her home in Hollywood but plans a return visit to Klamath Falls soon.

We'll be interested to hear all about John and Fran Budd and their two boys, John and Bill, when A. A. Montgomery and his two fine fellows, Sam and Ingram, get back from St. Paul, Minn., come February 10. Mr. Montgomery is making the trip on business and took the two boys along. Ingram's our Oregonian carrier and Arthur is totting for him until he gets back. The Montgomerys plan at least one day with the Budds who are former Klamath residents. En route home, the Klamathites will spend a short time visiting Mr. Montgomery's relatives in Aurora, Ill.

This squib concerns travel but these two just got home. They are Marilyn O'Neill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. O'Neill, and Betty Cleig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cleig, 420 High, who flew in Monday morning after taking part in program which packed the Oakland, California auditorium. The recital, in which both Marilyn and Betty danced, was given for the World Student Fund, proceeds to go toward the colleges in Europe. Marilyn and Betty, who made up their work at KUHS before they flew south a week before the recital, are former students of Milton Young who directed the dancing. The two did one number together and Betty did a second.

Somebody else going places—when they get back from a trip they're on now—are Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lorenz of High street who plan to sail on the Queen Elizabeth from New York for a lengthy stay in Europe. They'll dock in England and go on from there. Right now Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz are spending the month of February in southern California and expect to be back sometime in early March.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Brumbaugh and young Alex left early today, Saturday, for a three weeks' trip which will take them into the New England states and New York. En route home they will stop at Evanston, Ill., to visit Mr. Brumbaugh's sister, Miss Madeline Brumbaugh. They expect to return late in February.

Cards are reaching friends from Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hout of Pacific Terrace who have been east since just before the holidays. Last word came from the two who are sight-seeing in Washington, D. C. and waypoints. They expect to stop over in Los Angeles and San Francisco before getting home.

Sun Valley, where the skiing is supposed to rival that of any place in all the world, has lured several Klamath couples recently including Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Drew who drove north to the Idaho resort just the other day. They expect to be gone two weeks.

Sister Will Attend Bride Next Friday

Sally Blocklinger will be her sister's maid of honor when Mary-Alice Blocklinger becomes the bride of Richard Alex Atiyeh of Portland next Friday evening at 8 o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Sally is coming home from Annie Wright seminary in Tacoma, Wash., for the affair.

The bridesmaids were announced by Mary-Alice this week and they will be Betty Ann Layman of Smith River, California, and LoDel Lamson of Willamina, Oregon. The best man will be the groom's brother, Victor Atiyeh of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Blocklinger of Chiloquin, parents of the bride-to-be, announced rehearsal at 5 o'clock Thursday evening at the church and there will be a supper party for the wedding group later at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles V. Rugh, 104 Washington. The wedding reception will also be given at the Rugh home following the church rites.

Mary-Alice has been honored at numerous affairs since the announcement tea and several informal parties are planned for the coming week for the pleasure of the bride-elect.

Play Slated

Three dates for the presentation of the one-act play, "I Know George Washington," to be presented at the Little Theatre of Monclair by the AAUW drama group under the direction of Mrs. B. B. Blomquist, have been announced.

Saturday, February 1, today, the play was presented before AAUW and their guests. On Monday, February 10, the play will be given again at 2 o'clock for the pleasure of members of the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club, and again on Tuesday, the 11th, at 8 o'clock in the evening. The cast will perform for their husbands, friends and anyone interested. All performances will be in the Little Theatre and there is no charge.

Pledges

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON—The list of University of Oregon men pledged by "Greek" fraternities on the campus this term rose to 48 this week with the announcements of 23 more pledges by Virgil D. Earl, dean of men.

Pledged by Phi Kappa Psi fraternity was Charles F. Foulon, son of Edward P. Foulon, 328 Martin. Mr. Foulon, a freshman, is studying building construction.

Supper Party

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Balentine entertained Thursday evening at their home at 1904 Huron, with a supper party honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. Lamar Townsend on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary, January 30.

A silver and white theme was used on the table where a small group of friends of the honored couple was seated.

Bishop Barton Ill in Pendleton

Friends of Bishop Lane Barton, recently consecrated bishop of the diocese of eastern Oregon, regret to learn the bishop is a patient in a Pendleton hospital where he is being treated for influenza. Mrs. Barton is expected in Pendleton soon from Bridgeport, Conn., where she attended the wedding of their daughter. The Bartons visited here in early December and plan to make their home in Bend as the center of the Episcopal diocese.

Winter Feeding Of Birds Urged

Today we'll talk about birds! Now take our little feathered friends, winter or summer they eat and drink. But in the winter time their favorite ponds are frozen over and it is up to folks around town to see that there is a pan or bowl of water put out where they can drink free from danger of poisoning cats. We are passing on this suggestion, called in to us today by a Klamath woman who said she set a pan of water in her yard and within a matter of minutes it was surrounded by birds. The same thing goes for chunks of suet or bread crumbs in the trees.

Neighbors of the Paul W. Sharps were mighty pleased and ached less, probably, when Dr. Sharp zipped the snow off walks in his neighborhood early Thursday morning with a little power shovel. We tried to get a picture but by the time we'd heard about it, Dr. Sharp had packed his shovel and ear muffs and gone to town.

Back in the dear dead days when we wrote society, one of our charming matrons urged us to describe the gowns—suits—hats—mittens and snoods, as worn at various concerts, parties and pink teas. Somehow we've never dared go into this probably because our pet coat is five years old but up at Salem, where legislature is in full swing, most of the girls are quite neatly described such as:

"Mrs. Marshall Cornett in black combined with petal blue lace and blue lace mitts—Rep. Rose Poole in black and wearing a pastel flowered hat." Oregon's women do turn themselves out nicely during legislature time and we note from the typewriter of Salem's society editors that orchids and furs are flying. Incidentally last Saturday Mrs. Asahel Bush entertained with a breakfast party at her home on Liberty street for Rose Poole.

There were few Americans last Sunday, listening in on their radios, that did not feel a personal loss in the tragic death of lovely Grace Moore, the singer. Miss Moore was just about the first of the "pretty" opera stars and the first we remember who could appear before the camera combining a beautiful voice, face and figure, all in one. Since then there have been plenty of the glamour girls who sing without looking like plump Aunt Bessie. But Miss Moore remains the first and we note from the typewriter of Salem's society editors that orchids and furs are flying. Incidentally last Saturday Mrs. Asahel Bush entertained with a breakfast party at her home on Liberty street for Rose Poole.

Mrs. G. A. Massey stole our thunder last Monday morning. We came down to the office fairly bursting with the info that papa had picked us a little handful of pansies which had defied sub-zero weather. Before we had time to cheer our co-workers with this note on the harbinger of spring, Mrs. Massey called to tell us that the jasmine were a-bloom in her yard.

Ed Morse, caretaker at Lake o' the Woods, called in one day and through the muffle of a greatcoat collar, said it was 10 below at the lake the day we had 1 below here. Then the weather turned crazy-like and it was easy to get into the east side summer homes without chains. Folks that did drive to the lake to skate say they've never seen the country so beautiful. Late Friday afternoon Mr. Morse sent out the message—"Snowed in—the roads are not open."

Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Getz Jr. arrived Saturday of last week from San Jose, California, and have been guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Getz of Pacific Terrace. Mr. Getz Jr. left this week-end for Richland, Wash.

ington, where he has accepted a position as mechanical engineer in the design and construction department with General Electric company, Hanford engineering works. Chris Getz will remain here until suitable housing facilities are available.

Expected home next Wednesday are Nadine and Margie Palmerton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Palmerton of Pacific Terrace, who will have a few days between semesters from their studies at the University of California.

A little post-holiday, but welcome just the same—a picture of three charming little girls, twins Cecile and Marta and sister Sandra, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gates of Vallejo. Mrs. Gates will be remembered here as the former, Loretta Gordon. The trio, nightie clad, are waiting in front of the fireplace for Santa, the picture featured by the Vallejo News-Chronicle in its Christmas eve edition.

Benefit Party

It was a most enjoyable evening for those who attended the benefit card party sponsored by Kappa chapter, Beta Sigma Pi sorority, held on Wednesday evening, January 22, in the ballroom of the Winema hotel.

The refreshment table was centered with a beautiful arrangement of daffodils in a crystal bowl, flanked by tall yellow tapers. Awards were presented to the following: Mrs. John Penninger, high in bridge; Doris McCord, low; Mrs. L. E. Henry, high in pinocle; Albert Brackman, low; and the traveling award to Louis Myer.

Eleanor A. Weatherford was general chairman and was assisted by Mrs. Harold Smith, awards; Lillian Redkey, properties; Mrs. Don Diven, refreshments; and Mrs. Eldon Phair, tallies.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Paul W. Foster was hostess to members of her bridge club at a supper party given Thursday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. Marvin K. Lucas, on Pacific Terrace. White chrysanthemums centered the table. In cards, honors went to Mrs. David R. Vandenberg and Mrs. George Clark.

A guest of the group was Mrs. Jack Murphy and other members are Mrs. Dick Reeder, Mrs. Fern Shoop, Mrs. Albert J. Roenicke, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Neal Stewart and Mrs. Foster.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ackerman, 1030 Upham, this week-end announced the engagement of their daughter, LaVerne Reed, to Ben Burgess, son of Mrs. Dora E. Burgess of Boise, Idaho. No definite date has been set for the wedding but plans call for a late April ceremony. Miss Reed is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. L. Elliott and the late Mr. Elliott, pioneers of this city.

Mrs. Sydney Evans is spending several weeks in San Diego as the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Hasenbeck.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hooper of Tulelake are visiting in Laguna Beach, Calif., for a time.

A POST HOLIDAY PARTY was enjoyed by a group of Roosevelt seventh graders when Helen Bertram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bertram of Portland street, entertained last Saturday evening. Seated on the floor, left to right, Sylvia Hillis, Ann Newman, Carol Hamilton, Shirley Rogers and Helen Bertram. Standing, Virginia Vandoren, Angus Stewart, Ramon Bell, Merle Deatts, Jay Griffen, Robert Olson.

"I KNOW GEORGE WASHINGTON" is the title of the play now being presented by the AAUW group. Seated in the foreground is Nye Patterson as Mrs. Pettibone, the tavern-keeper's wife; others, left to right, Margaret Larkin as Hannah, a bondmaid; Irma Wauchope, Mrs. Eno, a natural pessimist; Emma Jane Banister as Mrs. Goodrich, the minister's wife; Julia Zumwalt as Grandma Pettibone, George Washington's champion; Helen O'Neill, playing Lucy Chase, Melissa's rival. Melissa is Pat Erlanson and not in the picture. Dates of the play appear on this page.
